

SOCIETY TURNS OUT TO PAY HOMAGE TO THE HORSE AND HOUND AT BRYN MAWR SHOW

A GENERAL VIEW OF THE OVAL. PAIRS OF HARNESS HORSES BEING JUDGED

Miss Sarah Dobson Fiske and her betrothed, Walter Jeffords.

Two debutantes, Miss Margaret Berwind and Miss Pauline Disston.

L. STEWART TAKING LONE BEN OVER THE JUMPS

Mrs. T. Boyer Davis and her daughters, Priscilla and Maria, and Mrs. Penn Gaskill Hall and her children, Marion and Penn Hall.

SISTER OF FIANCEE HE JILTED ACCUSES MAN OF $1200 THEFT

Rings and Prospective Bridegroom Disappear on Day of Wedding—Wife Here Proves His Undoing.

The commercial romance of Israel Diamond, of 19th and Mifflin streets, which started last January in New York, ended today at City Hall, where the man was identified by Dora Wolf as her sister Anna's fiance, and accused of stealing diamonds valued at $1200 from her father. The prisoner is also charged with stealing $300 worth of diamonds from Benjamin Shapiro, of 874 North Sixth street.

Miss Wolf stated that her sister met Diamond about a year ago, when he purported to be a single man. She stated, however, that Diamond is married. He said he was a rabbi and that previous to coming to New York he had lived in Beaumont, Tex. He was very attentive to Miss Anna Wolf, and they were soon engaged to be married. The date of the wedding was fixed for last January. Just before the ceremony was to take place, according to Miss Dora Wolf's story, Diamond excused himself to take a nap for half an hour, and went upstairs in the Wolf home. That was the last the family saw of him.

When the girl's father went to look for the prospective bridegroom he found three diamond rings valued at $1200 had disappeared and that he was not to have a son-in-law that day. Mr. Wolf, who is a diamond merchant, hastily went through the contents of his safe, the remembrance of which was known to Diamond, and found the thief had overlooked $10,000 in precious stones kept in another compartment from the three rings.

When Miss Wolf arrived here this morning she went at once to visit Diamond in his cell and asked him to give her either the three rings or the pawn tickets for them. The prisoner had in his possession only one pawn ticket which he gave to Miss Wolf, saying that he had sold the other two. The ticket called for $10.

Because of the Shapiro robbery, a year ago, detectives have been searching for Diamond. They have kept a close watch on the mail received by Mrs. Diamond and yesterday when, with her little son, she set out for Newark, N. J., in response to a letter from that place, Detective Doyle followed her and made the arrest shortly after the pair met. There was a pathetic scene as Diamond was led away, his wife weeping and protesting his innocence.

Reginald Vanderbilt, of New York, snapped as he acted as judge in heavy harness class.

After his trial for the robbery here in Philadelphia, Diamond will be turned over to the New York authorities for trial in the Wolf case.

SEGAL IN ASYLUM, HAS NO KNOWLEDGE OF HIS CONDITION

Taken to Norristown in Auto, He Made Plans to Continue His Business Activities—Creditors to Act.

Adolph Segal is now a private patient in the State Hospital for the Insane at Norristown. He was admitted to the institution at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon to spend the year, or less, that his physician says remains of his life. The trip was made by automobile from St. Joseph's Hospital, where Mr. Segal had been virtually a prisoner since his bankruptcy proceedings, a little more than two months ago, furnished the climax to the collapse of his once brilliant mind.

Segal did not know that he was being taken to spend his last days in a haven for the insane. He has been feverishly anxious to get back to business, in his few, brief lucid intervals. He does not know that his physician has said he cannot live more than a year and may not live more than two months. When he slipped from the hospital by a rear door and climbed into the waiting automobile he thought he was being taken for a ride for no other reason than to benefit his health.

Dr. S. F. Miller, chief resident physician at the Norristown institution, said this morning that Mr. Segal had been admitted. The mental condition of the former financier he would not discuss. He declared that Mr. Segal is a private patient. The rules of the hospital forbid giving out information about such patients except to relatives or others entitled to know. Unless his creditors take action, Segal will never leave the State Hospital alive. The Federal Court has the authority to subpoena him from the asylum in his bankruptcy proceedings, according to the attorney for the trustee, but it is not considered probable that such action will be taken if proof of Segal's insanity is adjoined at the meeting of creditors to be held Thursday in the office of Joseph Mellors, the referee in bankruptcy.

Gold Pendants
We are showing a great variety of these graceful neck ornaments—new and artistic designs, set with Diamonds, Pearls, Amethysts, etc.—at a price range of $2.50 to $125.00
C. R. Smith & Son
Market Street at 18th

R. A. HUMRICHOUSE

CONDUCTOR WILL RECOVER

Continued improvement in the condition of R. A. Humrichouse, 190 North 20th street, the Pullman conductor who was injured in the Baltimore and Ohio wreck at Woodlyn, Saturday last, leads Doctor Luberg, his attending physician, to believe he will recover. The condition of Mrs. Humrichouse, who has been suffering from nervous prostration and shock since the accident to her husband, is also improved. News of the wreck has been kept from her. She believes he is being treated for an old injury, which he received in a wreck in Illinois.

Our Tile, Slate, Metal and Slag Roofs Are Standard
RESIDENTIAL WORK A SPECIALTY
Crescent Compound keeps roofs watertight for five years, and is also guaranteed.
Real Estate Roofing Co.
2343-2349 Wallace St.
Bell—Poplar 1987 Keystone—Race 8987

Trousers A Specialty JONES
1116 Walnut Street.

PICTURE-CRAZED DOYLESTOWN LAD SHOOTS OFFICER

Desire to Emulate Adventures in Wild West Drama, 18-year-old Youth Takes Constable's Life.

A desire to emulate the adventurers in moving pictures caused 18-year-old William Miller to shoot and kill Constable Henry Kolbe this morning in the presence of passengers at the Reading Railway station, Doylestown.

Miller, who is known as "Broncho Billy," on account of his ability to quickly draw a revolver, was arrested by Kolbe just as he was preparing to leave the town with a new suitcase. The man knew there was a warrant for his arrest on the charge of forging a check in the name of Neil Stellwagen, a coal dealer, for $75. Last night, according to the police, he told friends he expected to be arrested and declared that no one would bring him to jail. He bought a suitcase and packed it with things that would come in handy on the plains and the great desert, and then went with a spirit of bravado to the railroad station. He was neatly dressed and chatted pleasantly with some of his friends.

While he was talking Kolbe, who knew Miller personally, arrived and greeted him

PURE FRESH PAINT Believe Me
Your lighting problem isn't solely a matter of the source and kind of light. You should know how much light is absorbed or diffused by your walls and ceilings. As an expert, Kuehnle can make the most of the light you have by painting or decorating a special color scheme—perhaps save you expensive fixtures. If you are in the dark on the lighting problem, see

Kuehnle
Painting and Decorating
Get Our Estimate First
Both Phones 28 South 15th St.

cordially. Then he took the man aside and told him confidentially that he had a warrant for his arrest. Miller then stepped away from the constable and drawing his revolver, "Broncho Billy" style, fired one shot through Kolbe's heart. The constable fell dead to the platform. Most of the frightened passengers ran into the station. Two men pounced upon Miller, but he told them to keep cool. Then he handed them his revolver and walked with his captors to the police station. Miller said he drew the revolver to frighten Kolbe. The man who fired the shot is the proprietor of a moving picture theatre in Doylestown, but lately business has been very poor. This is due, the residents say, to the fact that Miller would offer nothing but Western dramas. The decrease in business, it is said, made Miller desperate and caused him to forge the check on the coal dealer.

Perry's
Invitation to see the Nobbiest Little Overcoats in America

Short of skirt, full of body; a front in which the button-line is absolutely central—
At Perry's

Sleeves—real Balmacaan sleeves—that fit under the arms and don't drag the coat-body out of shape—
At Perry's

A deep collar but a little lapel that solves the problem of getting a snug button-up military effect for protection—$20—
At Perry's

Perry & Co., "N. B. I."
16th & Chestnut Sts.