TOPERS TREMBLE AT MAYOR RIDDLE'S TALK OF AWFUL "JAG LIST"

Even Prohibitionists Are Dumfounded at His Paternalistic Stand Against Liquor.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 24.—Torn between a grim sense of duty and a kindly desire to save many of his friends from a terrifying incubus, Mayor Riddle, who several days ago dumfounded shore prohibitionists by declaring Atlantic City should have an official "jag list," today resolved to leave the question of its establishment to his associates in the City Commission.
Director of Public Safety Bartlett and others of the ruling board do not feel so strongly upon the subject as the thoroughly aroused Mayor, and doubt was expressed today as to whether toppers, whose frequent reappearances in court stirred the Mayor's paternalistic sense, have anything to fear. The "jag list" can be created only by ordinance.
The Prohibitionists, whom Mayor Riddle heretofore fought tooth and nail, are for it to a man. Saloonists say the proposal is Socialism, running amuck.
Mayor Riddle wants it distinctly understood that his blow at the liquor monopoly is not aimed at Philadelphians in the slightest degree. Many of them agree with him that Atlantic City should be open on Sunday, and he would not lose their good will. Furthermore, under the New Jersey law the official "jag list" can apply only to those holding voting residence in the city. Strangers can drink all they see fit, while natives eye them thralldly.

NEW JERSEY POLITICIANS DISPLEASED BY PRIMARY

See No Improvement in Conditions. Wittpen's Defeat a Blow to His Ambition.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 24.—The primary system of this State, which had another test in the election last Tuesday, is being severely criticized today through the State, many politicians and voters being of the opinion the system has not improved conditions over the old nominating conventions. It is pointed out that one effect of the primary method has been the almost complete disorganization of parties and the creation of such bad feeling in the race for nominations that legitimate campaign work is made ineffective. Most of the aspirants for Congress in Tuesday's election, it is said, were men of low standing and mental ability.
The failure of the Hudson County faction, led by ex-Mayor H. Otto Wittpen, of Jersey City, to nominate a majority of candidates for county offices in that county, is interpreted by politicians as being equal to his elimination as a possible candidate of the party to succeed Governor James F. Fielder.

$12 Fall Suits and Overcoats

Unless you've seen them, you can't appreciate the cloth-values, the workmanship, the character of cut, style and making in them, and only $12—
At Perry's

Some time ago our American cloth manufacturers were almost panic-stricken over the expected foreign competition. So they pulled themselves together, set designers and weavers to work to beat anything either they or Europe had ever produced!

And they did it! They lowered their prices to next to nothing! Most makers of Suits and Overcoats were in a coma of fear; they wouldn't buy in the face of a falling market!

But we jumped in, bought fabrics, the finest in years at the prices; then, suddenly, the American market discovered its supremacy, and up went the schedules!
We got at rock-bottom prices the fine fabrics in these $12 Fall Suits and Fall Overcoats—
