LAST GREEN LOST

FOR MRS. BARLOW

RYE, N. Y., Sept. 24 .- More than 200 senior golfers turned their attention today to the second round of the 36-hole competition for men of 55 years of age or more on the Apawamis links.

It happened that those who came in early did well despite the strong sun and almost stifling heat. The best gross per-formance up to a late hour today was the 82 of General E. M. Weaver, of Chevy Chase, Washington, D. C. There were several brilliant spots on the army man's cards, such as the three on the eighth, the four on the ninth, which is a rarity there, the three on the tenth and another at the sixteenth.

He got into the brook on the four-teenth. His four at the ninth was espe-cially good, for the hole is 612 yards long. He was on in three full shots and ran down a 12-foot putt. His card:

A little later Frank A. Wright, of Baltusrol, handed in an 82, a triffe more consistent than the General's, but not so brilliant in spots. His card:

James D. Foot, chairman of the com-mittee, had a chance to get into the gross prize division, but his drive on the gross prize division, but hard substance in seventeenth hit some hard substance in the fairway and bounded off to the right. When the golfers came up, the ball was wedged between a wild cherry sapling and a stone wall about a foot off the ground. It was unplayable, and Foot had to take it out and lose two strokes. He to take it out and lose two strokes. He took 8 for the hole.

It is expected that the registration of Pennsylvania hunters for 1914-1915 will rival that of last year, when approximately 300,000 hunters took out the papers required to permit them to hunt. In addition it is estimated that more than 100,000 farmers, their families or their tenants hunted on their own lands last year, taking advantage of the pro-vision in the law enabling them to do so without being licensed. The estimates the sale of licenses, which is stated to have been heavy in a number of coun-ties where the demand was light at this
