

STUDENTS SHED ENERGY AND TOGS IN "CAMPUS FIGHT"

University Freshmen Again
Defeat Sophs in Annual Struggle of Underclassmen.
Clothing Gives, Too.

Freshmen students of the University of Pennsylvania again defeated the sophomores shortly after 12 o'clock today by winning the annual "campus fight" in just two minutes of terrific battling. The Freshies last night won the annual poster fight on the same field. In justice to the sophomores it should be said that they were outnumbered four to one.

Shirts and other articles of wearing apparel were strewn all over the campus when the victorious freshmen and the downcast sophomores departed from the scene of battle.

Ray Young, ex-leader of the Central High School football team, covered himself with glory when he was first to reach the oblong drawn on the walls of the Harrison chemical laboratory.

As in former years, the fight was divided into two halves. In the first, the freshmen must displace the sophomores guarding the oblong chalked on the wall, and in the second they endeavor to remove the trousers from the captain of the sophomores.

The Freshmen won the second half as easily as they did the first, firmly but not gently, dislodging the sophomore captain of his trousers. Then Ray Young, who is a brother of the ex-Penn football captain, and several others of the Freshmen leaders, were hustled to the shoulders of their comrades and borne off in triumph.

Many of the several hundred contestants from both classes took advantage of the opportunity to get some good football practice by appearing in gridiron togs. Others wore old clothes. The few who started in the battle with comparatively whole suits emerged in rags.

PLAN TO SAFEGUARD BUILDING SOCIETIES FROM LOSS BY THEFT

Nine Alleged Embezzlements Since April Prompts
Suggestion of Compulsory
Auditing of Passbooks.

Compulsory auditing of the pass books of shareholders at least once a year was advocated today by State Banking Commissioner William H. Smith as an effective safeguard against defalcations by building and loan association officers. The plan has been recommended to William Brown, Jr., counsel for the commissioner in Philadelphia, and he said that the time was ripe for a legislative enactment covering the ground.

Mr. Brown has handled no fewer than nine cases involving seven defendants building loan officers since last April. He said that in most of the cases minor officers of the associations were involved. Several of the cases Brown has handled had their beginning before he took up the commissioner's work. The list follows:

Samuel Kreppe, now residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the Northwest Building and Loan Association, and $25,000 as secretary of the East Park Building and Loan Association.

Joseph W. Whaley, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the Boulevard Building and Loan Association.

William W. Still, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the Beran Building and Loan Association, organized by W. H. Smith, and $10,000 as secretary of the Hickory Building and Loan Association, and $10,000 as secretary of the Brooklyn Building and Loan Association.

Samuel Simpkins, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Building and Loan Association.

William M. Donald, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the General Building and Loan Association.

Frank A. Pugh, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the Hickory Building and Loan Association, and $10,000 as secretary of the Brooklyn Building and Loan Association.

Harry Foster, residing at 1111 E. 12th street, charged with embezzling $10,000 as secretary of the German-American Building and Loan Association.

The total of the embezzlements, approximately $100,000, it was said by Mr. Brown, has been greatly reduced. Among the accused who returned all or a substantial part of the funds taken are Simpkins, Still and Mr. Donald.

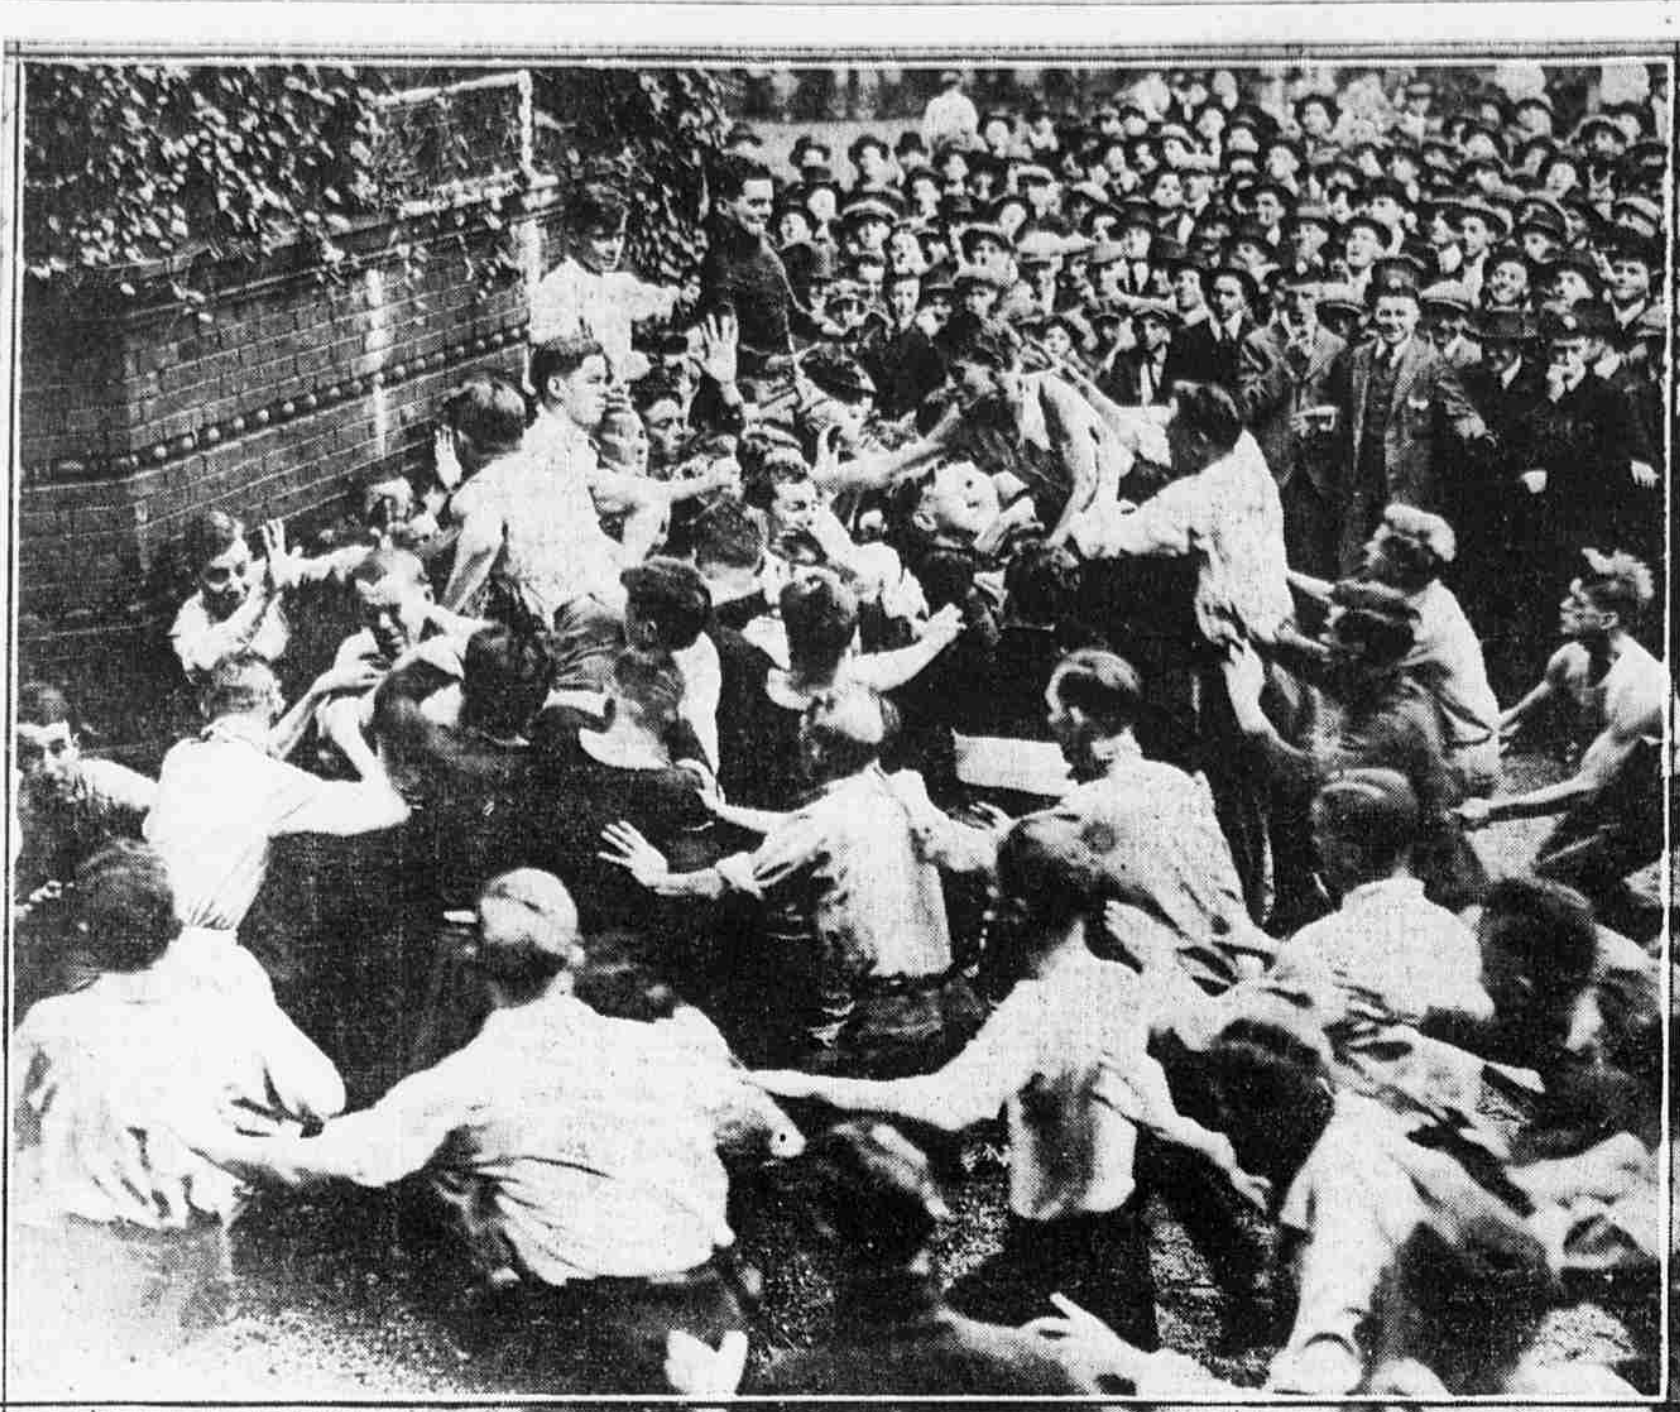

"By making the auditing of the passbooks compulsory, the building and loan associations will be able to detect any defalcations at an early stage, and the shareholders will be protected. The system is one that will do much to protect the shareholders, and it is one that should be adopted in any event where there should be a law to enforce it."

Poster, it was explained by Mr. Brown, evidently obtained the money he is charged with embezzling by signing funds coming into his hands in real mortgage transactions in conveyancing work.

It was stated by the attorney that the auditing of all officers of the building and loan associations in any way would have a salutary effect and as well save the shareholders from loss. He said that he had been consulted by the treasurer of the organizations to give advice, and in some cases the officers, but that with the latter it had been made much optional with them.

Sending companies have made good to shareholders in several instances where the men accused have been unable to make restitution.

40,000 GERMANS AT WATERLOO
LONDON, Sept. 25.—A Reuter dispatch from the Belgian states that 40,000 Germans were camped at Waterloo, that passing trains are refused, and that the British and heavy German artillery yesterday, turned from France to Mons.

PENN "FRESHIES" SMASHING THROUGH SOPHS IN CAMPUS FIGHT
The photograph shows the fight at its height and the chalk mark on the wall protected by sophomores. The freshmen fought their way through the guard and succeeded in placing their hands inside the mark.

SAILORS SHUNNING SUSPECT BOATS FOR FEAR OF CAPTURE

Norwegian Steamships,
Watched by British Warships,
Are Compelled to Remain at Anchor in Delaware River.

Sailors who have learned that the Norwegian steamships Fram and Sommerstad, now lying at this port, are liable to capture by British warships, refuse to sail, compelling the vessels to remain at anchor in the Delaware River. It is believed that the ultimate destination of the Norwegian steamships' cargoes is the German cruiser Kaituma and Dresden in the Caribbean Sea. The masters and agents of the steamships are anxious to save them.

The Sommerstad cleared nearly two weeks ago and was followed several days later by the Fram. Both have cargoes of ship supplies, coal and fresh water on board. While the cargoes are of suspicious character, custom house officials declare that as both have cleared for neutral ports they cannot be prevented from sailing. The Sommerstad cleared for Cuba, Spain, and the Fram for Pernambuco, Brazil.

Four other Norwegian steamships, each carrying similar cargoes have left here during the past two months. Shipping men have asserted that they believed the cargoes were never intended for the port of destination. Their deductions were based upon the fact that the Kaituma and Dresden have had to put into any port for supplies since war was declared, that this port never shipped such cargoes prior to the outbreak of hostilities, that the Fram has more than a year's supply for their own use, was placed on board and the transport of the Kaituma and Dresden their destination.

The United States Government, it was said at the custom house, is powerless to stop the sailing of the steamships, even though the circumstantial evidence was strongly in favor of the cargoes going to Germany. (All ships of neutrality are now under observation. The vessels would have to be followed by British warships and caught in the act of delivering cargoes to German warships before the guilt would be established.)

Although no protest against the vessels' sailing has been made by the British consul, it is understood that his representatives are now keeping close watch on the Sommerstad and Fram. When they catch them sailing it is expected that a war will be declared to notify the British cruiser now off the Delaware Cape and in West Indian waters several days ago while bound from Santos, Brazil, to New York. As it is not possible for either of these German warships to take their cargoes to a friendly port they are contenting themselves by sinking them after removing the crews who are later put in small boats near land and permitted to swim ashore.

"SOCIAL WORKER" FAILS TO APPEAR AT HEARING

Woman Arrested by Vice Squad
Called "Intolerable Liar."

Mrs. Ruth Wilcox, who, after her arrest on September 2 as a disorderly character, asserted that she was a social worker, sufficient speaker and short-story writer, did not appear in Quarter Sessions Court today to attempt to disprove the charge brought against her by members of the vice squad.

Last week the woman, in appealing from a fine of $12.50 imposed on her by a magistrate, declared that the vice policeman who gave testimony against her, Judge Carr, was a "disorderly character" and did not appear in Quarter Sessions Court today to attempt to disprove the charge brought against her by members of the vice squad.

The case was postponed from last week in order to give Mrs. Wilcox, who is a prominent blonde, an opportunity to prove that she was a much maligned woman. Instead of appearing in court today the woman sent a telegram, supposedly from Charlottesville, Va., stating that she had been called home by reason of the illness of her mother.

He was entering the home of Mrs. Anna Rosen, at 635 Ritten street, yesterday afternoon by way of a rear cellar window when Mrs. Sophia Jiffen, who resides in a rear street, saw him. She told Policeman Handforth, of the Fourth and Snyder avenue station, and he also squeezed through the window.

On reaching the second floor the policeman came upon the man ransacking a bureau. Handforth walked stealthily toward the intruder and was just about to grab him when his new shoes squeaked. The thief turned, grappled with Handforth and both rolled on the floor.

"I'll go with you," Watson said finally, and his captor took him to the street while the women in the neighborhood cheered. For a few yards the prisoner walked complacently, but when Handforth tripped him and, as the policeman fell, ran off into the street. A crowd of men and boys, with Handforth in the lead, followed the thief. The policeman fired several shots, but the man ran right on. At Fifth street, Handforth recaptured him, but the thief was still in fighting with him when he was taken to the police station.

"I'll go with you," Watson said finally, and his captor took him to the street while the women in the neighborhood cheered. For a few yards the prisoner walked complacently, but when Handforth tripped him and, as the policeman fell, ran off into the street. A crowd of men and boys, with Handforth in the lead, followed the thief. The policeman fired several shots, but the man ran right on. At Fifth street, Handforth recaptured him, but the thief was still in fighting with him when he was taken to the police station.

WOMAN FAINTS IN COURT

Wife of Man Arraigned for Shoplifting Startles Spectators.

A woman fainted at Central Station this morning when her husband was arraigned before Magistrate Renshaw on a charge of shoplifting. She is Mrs. Frederick Wehring, 325 Wallace street.

When the man was called to the prisoner's dock Mrs. Wehring, who had been seated in the front row, screamed and fell back in her chair in a faint. Policemen carried her into the corridor and she was revived by a police surgeon.

Magistrate Renshaw released Wehring in 500 bail, permitting him to sign his own bail bond.

LACIA HELD FOR MURDER

Charged with Killing Countryman in a Quarrel.

Detritus Lacia, 215 Cambria street, was today held without bail to appear before the grand jury charged with the murder of John Jack, 221 Indiana avenue, who died September 11. In the woman's homeopathic hospital from wounds inflicted by Lacia.

At the woman's request this morning it was testified that the quarrel started through Lacia insulting the wife of Lacia.

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT
A certain very famous English prima donna was being entertained in a provincial city. A large reception was organized in her honor on the afternoon preceding her concert. She was surrounded by admirers, who all vied with each other in complimenting the great singer.

"Madame," said one young man enthusiastically, "you have done more for the English flag abroad than our army in South Africa."

"It is very kind of you to say so," was the lady's quick response, "but I really had no idea that my execution was as deadly as all that."

TILTS FOLLOW FAST WHEN POLICEMAN SURPRISES THIEF

Series of Tussles Start When
Pursuer's Shoes Give Robber
Warning While at Work.

Although he was released from jail only a few days ago, Alexander Watson may serve another long term because of the quick action of a woman and a downtown policeman.

He was entering the home of Mrs. Anna Rosen, at 635 Ritten street, yesterday afternoon by way of a rear cellar window when Mrs. Sophia Jiffen, who resides in a rear street, saw him. She told Policeman Handforth, of the Fourth and Snyder avenue station, and he also squeezed through the window.

On reaching the second floor the policeman came upon the man ransacking a bureau. Handforth walked stealthily toward the intruder and was just about to grab him when his new shoes squeaked. The thief turned, grappled with Handforth and both rolled on the floor.

"I'll go with you," Watson said finally, and his captor took him to the street while the women in the neighborhood cheered. For a few yards the prisoner walked complacently, but when Handforth tripped him and, as the policeman fell, ran off into the street. A crowd of men and boys, with Handforth in the lead, followed the thief. The policeman fired several shots, but the man ran right on. At Fifth street, Handforth recaptured him, but the thief was still in fighting with him when he was taken to the police station.

"I'll go with you," Watson said finally, and his captor took him to the street while the women in the neighborhood cheered. For a few yards the prisoner walked complacently, but when Handforth tripped him and, as the policeman fell, ran off into the street. A crowd of men and boys, with Handforth in the lead, followed the thief. The policeman fired several shots, but the man ran right on. At Fifth street, Handforth recaptured him, but the thief was still in fighting with him when he was taken to the police station.

MANY AFTER CITY BERTH

Sixty-ane Apply for the Position of Storekeeper.

Sixty-one applicants for the $300 to $500 position as storekeeper in the Water Bureau are taking the examination before the Civil Service Commission today.

The examination for checker in the transit department at $1800 a year is being taken by 21 applicants.

NOBLY DONE

"Bertie, dear boy, I can't enlist. I'm getting married," announced Clifford, impressively.

"Married?" echoed Clifford's pal, in rather rude amazement. "Who ever to?"

"Why, you've only known her a week."

"Yes, but Bertie, I saved her life yesterday."

"How?" inquired the other, suspiciously.

"We were on the beach," recited Clifford, dramatically. "She was bathing. A great wave came and knocked her over."

"She came up once, went down again. Then I pulled myself together, and, with a mighty effort—"

"Yes!" breathlessly.

"Screamed for help, Bertie!"—Harrisburg Patriot.

WOMAN AUTOIST RUNS DOWN A CITY SURVEYOR

Held for Court on Charge of Reckless Driving.

A woman 50 years old was held in $500 bail for court today by Magistrate Emory on the charge of reckless driving and assault and battery, after she had run down, in her automobile, Langham Torrance, 725 North Sixth street, a city surveyor. She is Mrs. Isabel Cox, 5315 Cottage street, Wissinoming.

Torrance was riding a bicycle west on Lehigh avenue this morning. At Broad street the automobile driven by Mrs. Cox came up behind and crashed into him, dragging him 15 feet. Torrance and other witnesses declared it was being driven at a high rate of speed and that a pedestrian also narrowly escaped being struck.

The woman was arraigned at the Park and Lehigh avenues station for a hearing. Torrance had his injuries treated at the Samaritan Hospital. He received cuts and bruises.

YOUNG WOMAN HELD FOR SELLING DRUGS ON STREET

Policemen Testify They Saw Girl of 19 Peddling Opium and Morphine.

Mrs. Anna Aleck—a striking young woman 19 years old, caused a craning of necks among the more sordid prisoners when arraigned today at the Tenth and Buttonwood streets station on a charge of peddling drugs to Tenderloin habitués. It was testified by special police that she was taken into custody at 131 Race street with her husband, William Aleck, with $50 worth of drugs in her possession.

Mrs. Aleck appeared indifferent to the gravity of the charge against her. She was pretty, good looking, and seemed to make a statement. The girl and her husband were held in $500 bail for a further hearing.

Policemen testified they obtained evidence that the girl and Aleck were selling opium and morphine stealthily on the streets. They watched them and then followed the pair to their room, where the arrest was made.

TREAT EMPLOYEES KINDLY

Dr. Thompson, at High School,
Makes Courtesy Plea.

Capitalists "who treat their employees as 'hands' and not as human beings" were condemned by Dr. Robert E. Thompson, speaking on "Courtesy" at the morning assembly held in the Central High School. "The future will see an improvement in conditions," said Doctor Thompson, "and employers will reward their employees as deserving of courtesy and not merely as a means to an end."

"The European war is due to a lack of humanity and a lack of respect for the rights of man," he declared. "They regard the people not as human beings, but as mere creatures, as the South looked upon slaves before the Civil War."

LEWIS P. SEGREST

Lewis J. Segrest, 37 years old, died yesterday at the home of his son Lewis P. Segrest, 3124 Diamond street. He had been in splendid health until two years ago, when he broke down on account of the death of his brother. Segrest retired thirty years ago from his business as contractor and builder. One son, Lewis P., a draftsman, who has been retired for the last fifteen years, survives.

A WHISTLER STORY

While a draftsman in the coast survey from November, 1854, to February, 1855, Whistler, the artist, boarded at the northeast corner of E and Twelfth streets, Washington. He is remembered as being usually late for breakfast and always making sketches on the walls. To the remonstrating landlord he replied: "Now, now, never mind! I'll not charge you anything for the decorations."—Exchange.

CHINESE CREW FACES CHARGES OF SMUGGLING

Tried to Get Countrymen Into U. S., Say Officials.

Three Chinese from the crew of the Castle Bruce, a steamer that docked at Chester two days ago with a cargo of iron ore from the Dutch West India, will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Edmunds in the Federal Building today. They are charged with attempting to smuggle two of their countrymen into the United States.

A thrilling story of a narrow escape by Inspector George Allen of the Immigration Bureau, was brought to light today following the arrest.

He went to the Castle Bruce two days ago after receipt of word from Captain Ernest Howe that he had two stowaways aboard and that his crew seemed to be in league with the men. Lining the eighteen Chinese up on the deck, Allen picked the man he thought most likely to weaken under a cross-examination and went into the cabin with him. Ed Lee, a Chinese interpreter, accompanied the inspector.

A few minutes later there was a knock, and some one told Allen that the captain wanted him, as the crew wanted to settle. Allen, opening the door, found the crew crowded into the narrow companionway. At their head was a big Chinese, known as the "No. 1 man."

The inspector pulled his revolver and threw the ringleader into the cabin. He slammed the door and bound the man hand and foot. When he opened the door again the crew was still there, and Allen forced the men ahead of him up to the deck. Then he jumped to the pier and escaped.

The men arrested today are Lenn Yee, Ling Hung and Shaw Chung. Two Chinese stowaways are now in irons on the ship.

RECKLESS TRUCK DRIVERS MUST ANSWER IN COURT

Magistrate Holds Men After Hearing
Story of Collision.

Draughts steps to stop reckless automobile driving were taken today by Magistrate Morris, at the 25th and York streets station, as the result of an accident in which Howard Hyatt, 2133 Dover street, was hurtled from an undertaker's wagon he was driving, getting a dislocated shoulder and other injuries in a collision with an auto truck.

The magistrate not only held Albert Aspen, 4 West Penn street, German-town, an automobile driver for a department store, in $500 bail for court, but notified the man's employers to produce another driver with whom he is said to have been racing and enter the same amount of bail for him.

Hyatt was driving into his stable at 30th street and Susquehanna avenue, when the machine, driven by Aspen, crashed into the undertaker's wagon. Hyatt was thrown from his seat, his shoulder was dislocated and he received other injuries. He and others testified at the hearing this morning that Aspen and another auto truck driver had been racing their machines. Hyatt was treated at the Women's Homeopathic Hospital.

MISSING BOY FOUND; RETURNS HOME TONIGHT

Located at Wildwood, N. J., on Atlantic City Hike.

Edward Mullin, 13 years old, who was found last night by Chief of Police L. W. Smith, of Wildwood, N. J., after having been absent from his home, 6 East Silver street, since Saturday, will return to his parents here tonight. The boy's father, James Mullin, sent money to friends in Atlantic City this morning to locate the missing boy. The boy, who is young, became tired and stopped at a former place near Hammonton, N. J. He was returned to his home on Monday, but had not heard of the elder brother until last night.

SILVER DISH UNDER HIS COAT

Policeman Arrests Negro With Alleged Stolen Article on Person.

Accused of stealing a valuable silver vegetable dish from the home of Mrs. Charles J. Cohen, at 334 21st street, John Patton, a Negro of 1055 Lombard street, was held in $300 bail for court by Magistrate Rooney this morning.

Patton was arrested at 19th and Locust streets last night by Policeman McDevitt, of the 15th Locust street station, when he believed the man was attempting to hide something beneath his coat. Investigation disclosed the silver dish.

Patton, who is 30 years old, is a domestic in the Cohen home, testified that the dish was Mrs. Cohen's property. She said Patton was "in the kitchen" when he stole it while she was out of the room.

SUICIDE NOT IDENTIFIED

Police Seek Name of Man Who Shot
Himself Near Media.

The body of a man who committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun in the morning in Media, today and the police are trying to identify him. The body was found in the grounds of the Elwyn Training School for Feeble-minded Children, near Media.

Initial "J. P." in the man's name and the name of a Philadelphia oculist on his eye-glasses case afford the only clues obtained by the police. Several German newspapers were found near the body.

GLASS CUT MAY BE FATAL

Child Injured in Contest With Playmates May Die.

As the result of a children's quarrel over a piece of glass, a five-year-old boy, 324 Cantrell street, lies in the Mt. Sinai Hospital in a dying condition. He was playing on the steps of his house with several other children when a discussion started over the ownership of a piece of glass.

A little girl friend in struggling for its possession, flung it into the neck of the boy, who was trying to identify the glass. The child died profusely and hospital physicians say there is slight hope for recovery.

HIS FINAL REQUEST

They had arrested the moving picture manager as a spy. He was drum-headed, found guilty and sentenced to be shot.

"Have you any parting request?" the boss of the firing party asked. "Don't make it too long."

The movie man nodded.

"My operator," he said, "has never seen a real execution. Just let him turn the machine on the last scene and don't hurry it any."—Plain Dealer.

POSTAL INSPECTOR ARRESTS MAN FOR BIG LAND SWindle

Henry Tomkins Charged
With Being Member of
Class of Crooks Now
Operating in Various Cities.

Chief Postal Inspector Cortelyou today caused the arrest of Henry Tomkins, at the Keystone Hotel, 15th and Market streets. Following the action, postal authorities declared that the land swindling scheme, which is being operated by a gang of high-class crooks in various cities, will probably be brought to a halt.

The prisoner, who is believed to be one of the directors of the organization, was arrested in his room by Postal Inspectors Wynne and McVickar, accused of conspiracy and using the mails to defraud. He seemed greatly surprised, but took his arrest coolly.

He was arraigned this afternoon before United States Commissioner Edmunds.

WORKED OLD SCHEME

While the plan resorted to by Tomkins and his crowd was an old one, their daring methods in most cases caused no suspicion, and it is said they had highly profitable results. They worked under the name of the James Realty Company and had offices at 205 Webster street, New York.

The company first published a block figure puzzle in the newspapers, and no matter how it added it gave the solver a total of 15. To every one who solved the puzzle a lot was offered as a prize. Therefore, every solver won. They sent the puzzles to the office and were informed that they were winners.

Following a notice from the company they were called upon by one of its agents and told that before the lot could be delivered it was necessary to buy an adjoining lot for $55. These lots, according to the company's advertisement in the New York papers, were situated in a place known as Grand View at Bound Brook and Somerville, N. J. Glowing descriptions were given concerning streets, driveways and up-to-date homesteads.

LOTS MERELY ON PAPER.

Many winners, on being informed that it was necessary to buy an adjoining lot in order to obtain their prize, refused to do so. But the optimistic ones bought an extra lot to go along with the one they got for nothing.

But when the buyers went to Bound Brook they found there was no such place as Grand View and no lots that compared with the announcement. In fact there was no land owned by the company.

Inspector Cortelyou said today that the head of the company was James Bottemo, who, with Rose Stack, was arrested for a similar case on September 14. More arrests will follow.

SCREAMS PREVENT ROBBERY

Woman Ignores Intruders' Threats of Death and Summons Policeman.

Threats to kill did not terrify Mrs. Mary Lorra when two men entered her room in the house at 830 North Franklin street with the intention of robbing her last night.

Her screams drove the men out of the house and brought Policeman Beale, of the Tenth and Buttonwood streets station. He arrested James Martin, who said that he lived at 257 Waterloo street, and John Patton, who gave his address as 238 North Third street.

This morning they were held under $500 each for a further hearing next Tuesday. In the meantime the four men were in jail, which it was testified was stolen from a room in the house.

MAN DYING, HIT BY BOARD

Richard Chambers, of 1527 Wood street, a laborer employed on a building operation at Thirtieth and Cherry streets, died at 257 Waterloo street this morning of a ten-foot board that fell from the seventh floor of the structure. The man is dying at the Hahnemann Hospital. Several other workmen narrowly escaped being hit by the board.

THE WEATHER

Official Forecast
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.
For eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey—Cloud tonight; Saturday fair; continued cool; moderate north and northwest winds.

Showers covered the Atlantic States and most of the lake region during the last 24 hours, and rain continues along the middle and south Atlantic slope this morning. The showers were accompanied by a general drop in temperature in all of the Atlantic States. The southern storm has moved northeastward across Florida and lies off the coast of Georgia and South Carolina this morning. It has not increased in energy and seemingly will not develop dangerous conditions. Fair weather prevails in the central valleys and the plains States, with temperatures slightly below the normal.

U. S. Weather Bureau Bulletin

Station.	Sea.	Wind.	Temp.	Bar.	Wind.	Temp.	Bar.
Albany, N. Y.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, Tex.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, N. Y.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, Tex.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, N. Y.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, Tex.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, N. Y.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, Tex.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, N. Y.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0
Albany, Tex.	32	SE	44	30.0	SE	44	30.0