What are you talking about down there?" asked the green pine leaves;

"Fun!" shouted the maple leaf again In rollicking tones, "indeed, we are!" "What's it all about?" said the pine leaves rather crossly. "Can't you even tell a person what you are talking about?"

"To be sure we will," said the oak leaf slipping on his dignity which had Pine Tree, we have been on our same are needed where you are!" trees all summer growing and working, working and growing, and we got really tired of our jobs.

"We were tired of our plain green drusses and tired of our work. Then one day who should come along but all Jack Frost, who took pity on our greenness and gave us beautiful coloral frocks. See how handsome I look in this red and green dress?" and the oak leaf spread himself out flat so that the pine tree could see all of his lovely colors.

"I think I'm handsomer than any old oak leaf," said the sycamore proudly, "see my lovely brown dress?" "Pooh!" interrupted the maple,

"any one can see I am the handsomest. None of you has such colors as my reds and yellows!"

POLITENESS BY MALCOLM S. JOHNSTON.

"O-pen the door!" "O-pen the door!" I know they hear me when I roar; But still they sit and take their ease, Because I won't say, "If-you-please." For they have said that I have hung Three little words upon my tongue, Three pretty little golden keys To open doors with, "If-you-please."

I wonder why I'd rather stand And pound the door, and hurt my hand.

And kick and scream, and almost freeze. Than say politely, "If-you-please?"

WHITEWASHED ATTIC ROOM PLANNED TO INVITE REPOSE

Clever Arrangement of Furnishings in Spaces Not Often Used.

HIS attic room with its whitewashed walls and blackened beams invites repose. The clever arrangement of the spacious drawers under the eaves of the house on one side, and the closet, which much be delightfully roomy on the staircase, is an idea for these spaces which usually harbor boxes and trunks not opened frequently.

The table built around the rough chimney is most artistic and serves very comfortably as a desk, while the enamel-ed bed, with its cover of white dimity, and washstand to match, seems to fit so happily with the whitewashed walls. The windows daintily curtained in white complete this very unusual room. Cheesecloth, by the way, makes the most attractive curtains of this type and may be bought for as little as seven cents a yard, while each visit to the laundry, makes them more sheer and dainty. Of course, the wide floor boards and blackened beams of this old attic have aided a decidedly artistic scheme, but the general idea will appeal to those wondered what to do with at-

Metropolitan Prima Donna Contributes Services at Opera Benefits for Wounded and Sells Decorations to Aid Cause.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.-Frieda Hempel, coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who has been acclaimed as the successor of Marcella Sembrich, has written the following letter to her American manager:

"Finally I found some one who is kind enough to take this letter along to America. Well, I am safe and well taken care of, and I am happy about our great "I contributed all my Belgian decorations and medals to the Red Cross to be sold. I feed some children and I bring ciggrs to our soldiers. I was fortunate to be able to help some widows and orphans. I give all my spare time to the opera, and I am now singing at every benefit performance arranged for the victims of the war. Am I not right to give as much of the 'gold in my throat,' as you used to say, to this splendid cause? And, dear friend, millions do and think as I.

"Germany is one big family. It is marvelous how everything is going on smoothly here in Berlin. Whoever is not permitted to go to war is working in his way for the common good. You never would believe how we all are feeling. Everybody is enthusiastic. All of our Socialists have disappeared. They all are today friends of the Kaiser. What a good fortune to live in a time as this! The God of our fathers is still alive among us or our great victories would be impossible.

"You see flags everywhere. I personally have two at my window, a German and an Austrian. Whenever a victory is announced the belis are ringing. Really it is a glorious time. And our soldiers-how they are happy to go to the front! Some of my workingmen are so anxious to fight that I cannot halt them. And how handsome the boys are looking, lovely in their new uniforms of gray! It is touching to see them depart to the front, so young, so brave and so full of good humor! If the whole affair were not so sad, you really could laugh. Seven enemies-seven against two!

"Our German women are great. They do not cry, they do not complain; they all know it's got to be, and they submit. They all do their duty like our There is no misery, no hunger, no There is money enough all

"The Kaiser is alive and the people love him more than ever. The whole nation is united. They know they will win. They are fighting a just fight and God is with them. "Don't believe for a minute that we are gloomy and oppressed. We did not look for war here in Germany. But now when the war is forced upon us we do all to bring it to a giorious end. May God help us further!"

"The St. Paul Road," Shortest Route to Pacific North Coast Now Passes Through Spokane

"The Olympian" leaving Chicago September 12th, and "The Columbian" leaving September 13th, and thereafter, for the Pacific North Coast, will be operated over the "St. Paul's" new line through Spokane. The traveler and tourist will appreciate the extension to Spokane of the distinctive "St. Paul" service—one road one management - one service - "St. Paul" all the way.

"The Olympian"

-all steel-perfectly equipped-leaves Chicago daily at 10:15 p. m., "The Columbian," another all steel train, leaves at 10:10 a. m., daily. Both trains through to Spokane, en route to Seattle and Tacoma - via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

Travelers ever this route are afforded the double advantage of "St. Paul" service and a route of great scenic variety-the picturesque "Trail of the Olympian."
