

SOCIAL LIFE IN AND ABOUT PHILADELPHIA

MRS. JAMES FRANCIS SULLIVAN Mrs. Sullivan, who spent a part of the summer in New England, is now at her home, the Woods, Radnor.

MISS LEONORA DENNISTON, whose marriage to Henry D. Booth, Jr., will take place Saturday, October 10, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon on Monday, October 5, at her home in West Schoolhouse lane, Germantown.

A large number of persons are interested in the Country Fair and Market Day which will be held in Lansdowne for the benefit of St. Francis' Country House for Convalescents on Saturday at the grounds of the home.

Among those who are actively engaged in the affair will be Mrs. James A. Mundy and Miss Emily H. Rivinus, who will be in charge of the luncheon and afternoon tea; Mrs. Robert Baxter Dickinson, who, with a bevy of young girls to assist her, will have the produce table.

The cake and candy tables will be presided over by Mrs. Murtha Quinn and Mrs. J. C. Coy, respectively. Mrs. Henry Gooding will sell lilies and Mrs. Louis C. Luson will be in charge of the practical table.

Mrs. Charles H. Kendrick, who have been touring through the New England States, have returned home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Sewell and their family returned today to their home at Rydal after having spent the summer at their cottage at Cape May.

Mrs. and Mrs. John O'Donnell, of Logan, will leave shortly on a motor trip through Pennsylvania to Harrisburg.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Humston, of Oak Lane, have opened their home on Eleventh street after a season at Schenectady, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crew, of Ninth street, Fern Rock, will leave this week for Arundel, Md., where they will remain during the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spaulding, of Logan, will open their home at Bridgeburg this week, where they will remain over the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dewell, who have been taking a month's motor trip in the West, will return on Wednesday to their home on Elm avenue, Oak Lane.

Friends of Miss Ida Herley, of Wyncote, will be pleased to hear of her recovery from her recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wurts Harmer will close their cottage in Chelsea October 1 and return to town. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Brown will also return this week to their home at 3113 Midvale avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Brown, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown in Chelsea, have returned to 3115 Penn street.

Miss Beatrice Wells, of Annapolis, Md., has arrived in town for the winter months and has taken an apartment at the Coulter Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, of 542 Laurens street, have returned from Virginia, where they spent August and September.

Miss Eleanor Town, who has been visiting her sister in Short Hills all summer, has returned and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buehler, of 512 East Johnson street, for the winter.

Charles Weiss, Jr., is spending several weeks in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hancoy, of the Queen Lane Apartments, have returned home from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilpin Ervin at Box Tree Farm, Media.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kimball Hagar, of 407 West Stafford street, will return to town October 1 and will spend the winter at their home on Beach Haven, where they spent the summer.

Rangeley Lake, Me., and opened their Overbrook home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Dwight D. Willard and Miss Venette Willard are occupying their home on Hazelhurst avenue, after spending the summer at Cape May. Miss Mildred Willard has resumed her studies at Bryn Mawr College.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lewis, of Bald road, who recently spent two weeks at Beach Bluff, Mass., have returned home. Mrs. Lewis and Miss Alice Logan will leave Tuesday for a week's visit in New York, where they will stay at the York Club.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Edwards and their children have returned to their South Highland avenue home, after a summer spent with Mrs. Edwards' mother, Mrs. P. S. Reed, at her Cape May cottage.

Mrs. and Mrs. Samuel Laird and their son, Donald Wilson Laird, of Essex road, have returned from a two weeks' visit to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. McClellan and their little daughter, who spent the summer at their Ocean City cottage, have opened their home, on Woodside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace T. Eakins, of Hathaway and Mandan roads, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Horace G. Eakins, Jr. Mrs. Eakins will be remembered as Miss Emma Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kendrick, who have been touring through the New England States, have returned home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Edward H. Cloud, of Glenn and Wistar roads, are expected home the middle of this month from New Hampshire, where they spent the summer.

ALONG THE READING

Mrs. Arthur Rush has returned to her home in Abington after a visit to her sister, Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, of "Ringwood," Oswego Lake, N. Y.

Miss Henrietta Dimond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dimond, of Rydal, has gone to Farmington, Conn., to attend boarding school.

Douglas Dimond has as his guests for several days Mr. and Mrs. L. Harry Richards, 24, of Germantown.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sewell and their family returned today to their home at Rydal after having spent the summer at their cottage at Cape May.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell, of Logan, will leave shortly on a motor trip through Pennsylvania to Harrisburg.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Humston, of Oak Lane, have opened their home on Eleventh street after a season at Schenectady, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crew, of Ninth street, Fern Rock, will leave this week for Arundel, Md., where they will remain during the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spaulding, of Logan, will open their home at Bridgeburg this week, where they will remain over the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dewell, who have been taking a month's motor trip in the West, will return on Wednesday to their home on Elm avenue, Oak Lane.

Friends of Miss Ida Herley, of Wyncote, will be pleased to hear of her recovery from her recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wurts Harmer will close their cottage in Chelsea October 1 and return to town. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Brown will also return this week to their home at 3113 Midvale avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Brown, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown in Chelsea, have returned to 3115 Penn street.

Miss Beatrice Wells, of Annapolis, Md., has arrived in town for the winter months and has taken an apartment at the Coulter Inn.

mantown Dancing Club at Odd Fellows' Hall, Mount Airy, on Friday evening, October 3.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kriebel, of 6121 McCalmont street, announce the wedding of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Kriebel, to Albert G. Newbold on September 24.

A bridge club will have its first meeting of this season at the home of Miss May Alburger, 5011 Wayne avenue, on Tuesday, October 6. Among those who will attend will be Miss Helen Crook, Miss Margaret Speese, Miss Helen Carson and Miss Clara Jacobus.

Miss Sydney Ott Delville, 3925 Greene street, has left for Bryn Mawr College, where she will enter the freshman class.

Charles T. Quin, of 261 West Walnut lane, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Margaretta Madeline Quin and Miss Craig, will leave on Saturday for Lexington, Ky.

WEST PHILADELPHIA

Miss Isabel Bunker, of 3450 Chestnut street, has returned from Wildwood Crest, where she spent the summer.

Mrs. J. M. Collingwood, of 294 Locust street, returned from Europe on the steamer Olympic last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Henry Merwin have closed their summer home in Moylan, Pa., and returned to the Parkside. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Irwin, of Pittsburgh, are their guests this week.

Congressman and Mrs. J. Washington Logue and family closed their cottage 59 South Sovereign avenue, Chelsea, yesterday and motored to their home, 128 South 35th street.

Mrs. Louise B. Crist and her niece, Miss Marie Riechle, of the Powelton Apartments, returned on Wednesday, having spent the summer in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. B. Morely and Miss Morely, of 337 Chestnut street, will close their cottage in Chelsea on Wednesday and return to town.

Colonel William Umbenbower, of Stoneleigh Court, with John Patton, of Germantown, made the run to Atlantic City on Saturday with the Lu Lu Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. McNamee and Miss McNamee, of 4323 Ventnor avenue, Chelsea, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fort, 5718 Haring street.

Miss May Vanneman, granddaughter of Charles N. Lafferty, 3513 Spring Garden street, has joined the Red Cross Society in France. Miss Vanneman was closely identified in charitable work of this city last winter.

SOUTHWEST PHILADELPHIA

The Thespian Musical Club, one of South Philadelphia's most popular dramatic circles, was seen in an interesting little musical fantasy last week. The playlet, "The Suffragettes," was arranged by the president of the club, Miss Anna Furey, and was full of humor from start to finish. The cast, all of whom are popular downtown folks, was as follows:

Miss Nan Furey, judge; Miss Marie Daly, counsel for defense; Miss Alice McPhoye, plaintiff; Miss Gertrude McLaughlin, District Attorney; Ray Conklin, prisoner; Cy Daly, Rastus, a court attendant.

The twelve jurors were: Miss Helen Brooke, Miss Emma Milhamow, Miss Mae McCarron, Miss Irma Hotinger, Miss Helen Lee, Miss Marian Mazer, Miss Irene Bates, Miss Helen Connell, Miss Agnes Carbery, Miss Margaret McCrosson, Miss Kitt Dillon, and Miss Louise Jenkins.

Miss Catherine Murray, of 1241 South 22d street, and Miss Jane Kelly, of 1923 South 18th street, are leaving this week for Mauch Chunk, where they will be the guests of Miss Murray's cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Glasgow have closed their cottage at Aubury Park, and returned to their home, at 1834 South 18th street, where they expect to remain for the winter.

Miss Anna Brennan, of 1839 South 15th street, has returned from Wildwood, where she has spent the past two months.

Miss Gertrude Latimer, who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Kelly at their cottage at Ventnor, has returned to her home, 2922 South 22d street.

Miss Elizabeth Roe, of 1812 Mifflin street, expects to return to the city on or about October 10. Miss Roe has been the guest of Miss E. M. Roe, of Atlantic City, since May 1.

Charles McGuckin, who is well known in South Philadelphia as a football player of recognized ability, is attending Villanova College, where he is making a special study of electrical engineering.

Mrs. William Lee Pryor, who has been spending the summer at Newport, R. I., with her father, Rear Admiral Knight, has now returned to her home, at 3269 South 21st street.

NORTHWEST PHILADELPHIA

Miss Gloseau Smith, of 3113 North Nineteenth street, returned Monday to her home, having been the guest of Miss Nancy Fullerton for the past week. Over the week-end Miss Fullerton entertained a party in Miss Smith's honor. Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weigand, George Numbers and Edwin Beecher.

Miss Virginia Hume, of 1919 West Dauphin street, giving an aluminum vase on Tuesday evening at her home. In honor of Miss Edna Culbertson, of Logan, whose marriage to Clarence O'Brien, of Tioga, will take place next Tuesday, October 6.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Dorothy M. Keen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Keen, of Nescopeck, Pa., and Dr. John W. Wallace, of 1701 North Seventeenth street. The ceremony was performed on Monday night by the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, Broad and Berks streets, at his residence on North Broad street. Dr. and Mrs. Wallace will receive the end of the week at their home, 1701 North Seventeenth street.

Mrs. John Cheuning, who has been the guest of her sister, Miss Triphosa Blitting, at her apartments, has returned to Concord, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. John Warner and their family, of 3321 North Sixteenth street, have returned to the city and closed their cottage near Somerset, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McManus have closed their cottage in Chelsea and have returned to their home, 149 North Eighteenth street, for the winter. Miss Frances McManus returned to Trinity College, Washington, last week to resume her studies.

G. Nicholas Nicholson, Mrs. Morton Lukens, Thomas Keith, of Washington, D. C., is motoring to New York. On his return this week he will stop in Philadelphia, where he will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Healey and Miss Clara V. Healey at their home, 902 West Somerset street.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis H. Mutschler, of West Tioga street, have returned from a six weeks' visit to the coast of Maine.

Mrs. Samuel Gross and her son, Sidney Gross, of 378 North 17th street, have returned from a visit to friends in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey T. Weber and Miss Meta Weber, who spent the summer at Seaside Park, have returned to their home, on North 16th street.

Miss Mary Barker, of 1301 Butler street, entertained at 599 last Saturday night. Her guests were: Miss Helen Donahue, Miss Rose Cassidy, Miss Helen Cassidy, Miss Emily McKentry, Miss Margaret Somers, Miss Beatrice Somers, Miss Christine Derk, William H. Donahue, Walter Donahue, Raymond Donahue, Joseph Eckert, M. Devine, Jack Bradley, John Matthews.

Mrs. William Rublinger and Mrs. A. P. Keller, of 417 North Broad street, leave Wednesday for an extended visit to Detroit, Mich.

Miss Elizabeth Sinnamon, of 129 West Tioga street, entertained a house party last week-end at her summer home in North Wildwood. Her guests included Miss Mary Cope, Miss Martha Gilman, Miss Mary Hueter, Miss Grace Wade, A. Perceval Hancock, of New York; Roy Williams and George Warner, of Wells, Vt.; Edward B. Carrier and Francis A. Wade, of this city.

Miss Edythe Wissie, of 2426 West Columbia avenue, entertained at luncheon and "500" last Saturday in honor of Miss Helen James Meade, whose engagement to Edgar M. Wambold was recently announced. Her guests were: Miss Lydia Parker, Miss Christine Van Guentia, Miss Ellen Patterson, Miss Florence M. Wambold, Miss Ellen M. Kennedy, Miss Ethel Mortimore, Miss Helen V. Crawford, Miss Hazel S. Barke, Miss Ethel M. Pearce, Miss Florence Benninghoff, Mrs. Frank S. Elliott 24, Mrs. Ernest Wade, Miss Rebecca Smith and Miss Kitty Haueeler.

Miss Alice Wickersham, of 262 Rochelle avenue, Wissahickon, gave a house party over the last week-end at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wickersham, in Ocean City. Mr. and Mrs. Wickersham chaperoned the young people, who were Miss Helen Snyder, Miss Marian Wickersham, Kenneth Snyder, Charles Saylor and George Zahn.

Mrs. A. H. Fox, of Rochelle avenue, is visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Elmer Culbertson, of Roxborough avenue, has returned from Ocean Grove.

Miss Hannah Simmette and Miss Nellie McKean, who have been spending a week with Mr. Chester Hopkins, of 294 Rochelle avenue, following an extended tour through the Middle Atlantic and New England States, have returned to their homes in Mason, Iowa.

CAMDEN AND VICINITY

The Rev. Harold Morse, of Merchantville, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Hilda Morse, to Chester R. Haig, a Lieutenant in the Medical Corps of the United States Army.

Gordon Bottomley, of Merchantville, has returned from a visit to relatives in England.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Middleton, Jr., and children, have returned to their residence, at 538 Cooper street, after summering, as usual, at Island Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Sicker, who have been at their cottage, at Tenth and Ocean avenue, Ocean City, since June, motored up this week to their home, at 414 Cooper street.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockton Woodward and grandson, who have been passing the summer at their cottage at Ocean City, have returned to their residence at 211 Cooper street.

"A country fair" will be held on the grounds of the Haddonfield Country Club this week. There will be dancing.

OCTOBER BRIDES

First Day of the New Fall Month Has Hymen's Festivals in Its Wake.

The marriage of Miss Marion Simms Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hamilton, and Robert J. Hamilton, of Los Angeles, Cal., will take place today at the home of the bride's parents, 415 Hazel avenue, at 2 o'clock.

Miss Hamilton will be given in marriage by her father, who will wear a gown of white crepe meter, elaborately trimmed with point lace. Her veil will be made of tulle, and will be fastened with orange blossoms. She will carry white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Roberta B. Hamilton, a sister of the bride, will wear a frock of pale yellow crepe, and will carry autumn flowers. The best man will be James Hamilton, a brother of the bridegroom. Miss Helen J. Sneider, of East Orange, a cousin of the bride, will play the wedding march. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. T. A. Beckman, of Roseville, N. Y., who is an uncle of Miss Hamilton. A very few intimate friends and the immediate families will attend the wedding and small reception which will follow.

WHRENS—PETERSON

The wedding of Miss Lola Frances Childs Peterson and William Wallace Wrenn will take place tonight in the Methodist Episcopal Church in West Collingswood, N. J.

Miss Peterson will be attended by four bridesmaids, all of whom are cousins—Miss Ethel Usliton, Miss Elizabeth Usliton, Miss Margaret Wolfe and Miss Marion Mount, the latter of Red Bank, N. J. Mr. Wrenn will have for his best man Dr. A. Martin, of this city.

Miss Peterson is a grandniece of the late George W. Childs and Mrs. Childs, and is related to the old Bouvier family, of this city. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Richard Conover, pastor of the church. It will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joan Gray Peterson, 1909 Collings avenue. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wrenn will live in Haddon Heights.

CHESTER AND VICINITY

Mrs. Charlotte Bouschelle, of West Eighth street, has returned from a week's visit to friends at Wilmington, Del.

Miss Mary P. Harkins has returned to her home on Providence avenue from Baltimore, where she was the guest of relatives for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stainton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Irvin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. David Deakyne are spending a week with friends at Westerville, Pa.

John Blair has returned from a visit to friends in New York.

THE DRAMA

ALICE C. ELLIOT—IN "NEARLY MARRIED"—GARRICK

THEATRICAL BAEDEKER ACADEMY OF MUSIC—"Cabiria," moving-picture drama, by Gabriella D'Annunzio, of the third century B. C.

ADLPHI—"The Revolt," by Edward Locke, starring Helen Ware. Neglected wife, desperate, rushes to ruin. Ruin proves shocking. She recolls in time. Stepmother tipsple. Child nearly dies from eating bananas.

BROAD—"Lady Windermere's Fan." Revival of Oscar Wilde's satire by Margaret Anglin. One of the cleverest plays of the century, never more brilliantly presented.

CHESTNUT STREET OPERA HOUSE—"Platone's Daughter," miracle play, by Francis K. Kenzel. The daughter of Pontius Pilate performs miracles by a rose which touched Christ's garment, and finally meets martyrdom.

FORREST—"Chin-Chin," musical comedy by Ivan Caryll and H. H. Burnside, music by Ivan Caryll, with Montgomery and Stone. Review below.

GARRICK—"Nearly Married," farce comedy, by Edgar Selwyn, starring Bruce McRae. Attenuated, but amusing.

WALNUT—"Bringing Up Father," musical comedy, based on George McManus' cartoons, by Gus Hill.

THE STOLEN LAMP'S THE THING IN "CHIN-CHIN"

Montgomery and Stone In a Musical Fantasy of Spectacular Splendor and Captivating Music.

Certainly one could not call it gentlemanly literally to walk all over a lady, or to sweep up the floor with a lady, or to wield a lady in the air as one swings a club. But there are circumstances and circumstances, and if Fred Stone did all this last evening with diminutive Violet Zell, in the premiere production of "Chin-Chin" at the Forrest, it calls for no reproof because of manners. Occasions there may be when indignant benedicts might wish for such agility and adroitness and the opportunity thus to "handle" their wives, though we hope such impulses may be rare.

Fred Stone juggled with a human being in a sort of language-mad-his "dunse poetique"—as perhaps a frail body was never juggled with before. The dance was a marvelous achievement in human mechanics, a slight-of-hand-and-foot performance in acrobatics. And if Mr. Stone swept the floor with little Violet, and walked over her, and hurled her hither and thither, he did it with perfect gentlemanliness.

The story of "Chin-Chin" is the old story of Aladdin and his lamp. You rub the lamp. It works miracles. A villain, of course, desires the lamp, and gets it, and thereupon hangs the bewildering action of the extravaganza. The illusion of the stage effects in Charles Dillingham's production of this fantasy are little short of marvelous. Entering the theatre from Broad street, we find ourselves transported to China, in a toy bazaar kept by Abanazar—played by Charles T. Aldrich—the villain who desires the magical lamp. There enter Cornelius Bond, a rich American, and his daughter Violet—delightfully enacted by Helen Falconer—with whom Aladdin—Douglas Stevenson—falls in love. But ah, the terrible Abanazar also falls in love with Violet. His grim-set purpose is to secure from Aladdin the magic lamp of the thousand and one miracles.

Of course, we all know the power of childhood is in itself magical, so we are not surprised when two inanimate mandarins—played by the incomparable Montgomery and Stone—come to life in the toy shop at the wish of a bevy of engaging children. Through the play they pass as good spirits in one amazing guise and another.

Strange things happen constantly in the vicinity of the lamp, of course. In the tea shop kept by the mother of Aladdin lettuce becomes animated on the table, lobsters make unearthly noises—symbolic, we suppose, of life; a dead turkey is resurrected and wipes its face with napkin—all to the astonishment of the minstrel Abanazar. However, Abanazar secures the lamp, and by its means imprisons the fair Violet in a pagoda, in which he elopes from China. Before our eyes, after the lamp has been rubbed, the pagoda rises into midair. Poor Violet!

A circus—and the two good spirits of the mandarins taking the parts of clown and alleged lady bareback rider. It is evident their quest of the aerial pagoda and the stolen lamp has taken them through strange adventures. Fred Stone, after a farcically funny stunt ventriloquist with a live dummy, assuming the role of Mile. Fallofski, the lady bareback rider in the circus. The circus is one of the most elaborate effects achieved on the modern stage. But nothing is so funny as the coquettish Fallofski trying to keep upon the back of the gentle horse while suspended on a wire in midair.

Into a park, resembling the Versailles Gardens, the pagoda has descended, and thereupon appear the faithful Chin Hop Low—Montgomery—and Chin Ring Chang—Stone. They connive to recover the lamp from Abanazar and rescue the imprisoned Violet. This is done cleverly. "But I cannot marry you because I do not love you," says Violet to Abanazar in the suggestion of the wily mandarin. "Here, here, rub the lamp and wish that you may love me," insists the villain as he falls into the trap. Rubbing the lamp, Violet asks for deliverance, and all ends radiantly. Happy Aladdin!

The music of "Chin-Chin," by Ivan Caryll, who wrote the "Pink Lady" and "Little Cafe," is simply delightful. Inimitably fantastic is "Go for Sig Gong Jue" as sung by the two star comedians. The song now sung on the battlefields of Europe by the English soldiers, "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary," was introduced toward the finale by Stone and Montgomery and chorus to rousing effect.

Belle Storey, as the goddess of the lamp, adequately filled that dazzling role, and charmed the audience with her songs—"The Grey Dove," "Violet" and "In January." Charles T. Aldrich, in his quick transformations, was amazing. "Chin-Chin" has undoubtedly made the greatest popular hit so far this season. And it is a deserved success.

AMUSEMENTS PALACE THEATRE 1214 MARKET ST. Daily 9 A. M. to 11 P. M. "THE SEA WOLF" AND QUALITY VAUDEVILLE

BROAD This and Next Week. Even. at 8.15 Popular Price Wednesday Mat. Best Seats $1.50 Margaret Anglin Windermere's Fan

GARRICK This and Next Week. Even. at 8.15 Popular Price Wednesday Mat. Best Seats $1.50 NEARLY MARRIED With BRUCE McRAE

NINON'S "MOTHER GOOSE" LAMB'S BAKING MILES A MOUNTAIN MONARCH C. O. M. E. D. V. WILLSIEG & ANITA. PHILADELPHIA