Sent to Montreal, Says Reinforcements Were Deayed.

war zone, Private Joseph Hay, of the Cameron Highlanders, has arrived here. He was shot through a lung near Mons. He was a reservist of the Cameron Highlanders, and has been a resident of Calgary, Last July he went to Perth, Scotland, to visit his grandfather When the declaration of war came on August 4 Hay went to Edinburgh Castle to report.

"I had hardly got my uniform on," he says, "before we were entrained. A faw days later we arrived at Ostend and from there went to Mons.

"On August 21 we were given orders to prepare for fighting, and the next day, about noon, the enemy attacked Mons.

"We were told that Turcos were going to support us on the right and the Belglans on the left, but we did not see anything of them for the next four days. I don't remember much about what happened.

"After the first hand-to-hand fight none of us was in our right senses. We fought by instinct, and never took the time to think what we were doing. All day long we fought, and at night we dug trenches. At first, the officers directed us, but pretty soon it was every man for himself. We were facing the attack of the entire 15th German Army Corps, made up of 40,000 men. We lost two-thirds of our regiment and all but two of our officers, but we gave them all they were looking for.

"For four days we never slept and seldom ate. It seemed as if some one hit me an awful one in the chest, and I fell on my back in the trench. When I woke up I was in a Belgian Red Cross ambulance and two men were pommelling my chest. I asked them what they were doing, and they said they were looking for the bullet In my lung. I swore there was no bullet there, and I was right. The lead had passed right through my lung and come out at the back. I did not see much of the fight-"I was shipped back to England and then here." ing after that.

Then the Germans rallied on the hills beyond the River Rospuda and post-ed their guns in good negations.

ed their guns in good positions. "The Russians charged under a terrific rain of shot and shell, and took these positions at the point of the bayonet. They suffered severely, but their heroism drove from the soil of Russia the last of the invading army."

BERLIN Oct. 13. The War Office has issued the follow

ng statement: "The few kilometres lost by the Ger-mans in Russian territory near the East Prussian frontier are of little importance, as it was never intended definitely to occupy the Government of Suwalki. It is not true that the slege of Ossowiec has been abandoned, for that fortress was never besleged. "During our retreat to the East Prus-sian frontier our troops were nowhere defeated, but on the contrary repulsed all attacks."

FORMER MISS VANDERBILT A "SUSPECT" IN LONDON

Belief Grows That Countess Szechenyi "Scoffed" at England. LONDON, Oct. 13.

Speculation has been rife in London as to the identity of "the American wife of an Austrian diplomat." whose letter from Berlin, published here, was cabled to American newspapers October 7. It is formerly Gladys Vanderbilt. Referring to her stay in England during the early part of the war, the Evening

News says: "While residing in the Epsom district she so flagrantly disregarded our war restrictions with regard to alien enemies that only official American intervention and the especially kindly attitude of the Britiah Foreign Office saved her from unpleasant consequences." The letter referred to told of the galety and confidence prevalent in Berlin, and acoffed at London reports of distress in the German capital. It is improbable that the writer was the former Gladys Vanderbilt. Her husand, the Count Szechenyi, has never been in the Austrian diplomatic service, and has at no time taken any part in the public affairs in the dual monarchy. His father was at one time Austrian Ambasador at Berlin. The Count is an officer in the Austrian reserve, and a bereditary member of the Upper House of the Hungarian Parilaent, but has never occupied his seat there.

Real Magyars from Budapest say that they would rather be known as "skee-baliltes" than to be the winner of a game of "klabias," which is the national Hungarian card game. No children are permitted to play "skceball." Gambling is prohibited.

ASSASSINS OF ARCHDUKE ON TRIAL AT SARAJEVO

Twenty-two Face Treason Charges for Death of Austrian Heir. SARAJEVO, Oct. 13.

Trial of 23 persons on charges of high treason and conspiracy in the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria was begun here today.

The three principal defendants were now believed she is Counters Szechenyi, Gavrillo Princip, the man whose shots actually killed the Archduke and the Duchess of Hohenberg (Sophie Chotek), his morganistic wife, and Trifko Girabes and Nedeljko Gabrinovic.

> The latter two, the State charges. brought to Sarajevo from Beigrade bombs with which an unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate the heir to Austria's throne several hours before Princip fired the bullets which killed him.

The assassination of the Austrian heir by a Servian was the immediate inciting cause of the present European war. Servia refused Austria's demand to relinguish certain sovereign rights in con-nection with the trial of the assassing, and Vienna declared the war which has since involved all Europe.

IN REVOLT; MARTIAL

LAW ESTABLISHED

LONDON, Oct. 13. Martial law has been proclaimed

Martial law has been proclaimed throughout South Africa, following discovery of a plot by Colonel Maritz's command looking toward establishment of a republic in the northwest Cape provinces. The bureau's statement recounts that there has been a certain amount of disant flection since the resignation of Commanding in the northwest Cape province. Colonel Maritz defied the order remover the supersed colonel Maritz, commanding in the northwest Cape province. Colonel Maritz defied the order remover the cape Town authorities declaring he would invade the Union unless permitted to meet and consult with Generals Beyers.

Hertzog and De Wet-all anti-British

Colonel Maritz promptly arrested all loyal soldiers in his command and sent them prisoners into German Southwest Africa. He is now at the head of a force of German troops, armed with German guns, in addition to his own rebel

The bureau states that the German Governor of Southwest Africa has agreed to support Maritz and to guarantee the independence of the republic which he proposes to establish, ceding to the pro-posed republic Walfish Bay and other ports now in the possession of Germany. "The Colonial Government," the bureau states. "is taking vigorous measure to crush the rebellion and to punish the traitors

General C. G. L. Beyers resigned as commander of the defense forces of the union of South Africa on September 15, as a protest against the invasion of German outhwest Africa by British forces. It is pertinent to note that in his letter of resignation General Beyers brought in the name of Colonel Marita to corroborate im. On this point he said: "The allegation made in Parilament-On this point he said:

namely that the Germans already have violated our frontier, are unfounded; see the official report of the information bureau, corroborated by Lieutenant Colonel Maritz and his officers, who are on and near the frontier of German Southwest Africa

Apparently the Government longed for some transgression by the Germans of German Southwest Africa, but have been disappointed in this, for so far not a single German soldier has crossed the rontier. As you know very well (the letter is addressed to General Jan Chris-tian Smuts, Minister of Defense and Fi-pance of the Union of South Africa), the report is perfectly correct regarding an nvoluntary transsression on the frontier some time ago and the tendering of an apology for so doing. Whatever may happen in South Africa. the war will be decided in Europe in any case. So if Ger-many triumphs and should decide to attack us then, even if Great Britain should be unable to help us, we shall at least have a sacred and clean cause in de-fending our country to the utmost, provided we stay inside of our borders

"As the circumstances are I see no way of taking the offensive, and as I sincerely love my country and my people. I must strongly protest against the sending of union citizen forces over the frontier. Who can foretell when the firs
