LEHIGH STUDENTS, JOINED BY ALUMNI, HONOR TAYLOR DAY

Former Partner of Andrew Carnegie Gave His Alma Mater Gymnasium Swimming Pool and Field House.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 17 .-This is Taylor Day at Lehigh University and hundreds of Alumni from all parts of the country are joining with the student body in the celebration. In honor of Charles L. Taylor, of Pittsburgh, an alumnus and trustee of the University, who denated a large modern gymnasium. swimming pool and field house, exercises were held at the University today. Ad dresses were made by representatives of the student body, the Alumni, the Faculty, and the Board of Trustees. High praise was accorded Mr. Taylor, whose gift enables the University to carry out its broad program for the physical welfare of the student body. At Lehigh, upon joint students and faculty action, every student is required to take regular gymnasium or out-of-door exer-cise, for which one unit credit is given toward graduation. This system affects the entire student body and not a few atheletes alone.

The athletic plant at Lehigh includes. besides the gymnasium, swimming pool and field house, a concrete stadium, just completed for varsity teams, and a practice field for other students on which there is a quarter mile running track, with a 220 yards straightaway. The cost of erection is more than $300,000. THE TAYLOR GYMNASIUM.

The new Taylor Gymnasium is a structure of white limestone brick, 222 feet long, 90 feet wide and three stories high. In the north half of the building are the game room and the gymnasium proper. The south half contains locker apartments, trophy and other rooms, and, at the extreme south end, a swimming pool. Basketball and wrestling matches are held in the game room, which is 30 feet long and 70 feet wide and has a seating capacity of 1200 spectators. Class exercises and drills are held on the gymnasium floor above, a room 90 feet by 70 feet. There is an esplanade or out-of-doors exercise roof at the north end. The swimming pool in the south section is much larger than regulation size and is absolutely up-to-date in equipment and sanitary provisions. Filtering goes on every day of the week and the pool is emptied and cleaned every Sunday. A new ruling requires that each freshman at Lehigh must learn to swim.

The field house, donated by Mr. Taylor Basketball and wrestling matches are

The field house, donated by Mr. Taylor last spring as a supplementary gift to the gymnasium, is two stories high, 66 feet long and 38 feet wide. It connects with the gymnasium and stadium by a subway leading under the gymnasium and stadium by a subway leading under the southwest stands to the field.

varsity teams, shower baths, physician's and trainer's rooms are included in the layout of the two floors. The field house has every up-to-date equipment.

form, with 13 sections of concrete stands. Certain of these sections were donated by the Northeastern Pennsylvania Lehigh Club, the Pittsburgh Lehigh Club, the Philadelphia Lehigh Club, the Lehigh Club of Greater New York, and others by Charles M. Schwab, Warren A. Wilbur and Eugene G. Grace, of the University Board of Trustees.

negle Hero Fund Commission and a trustee of Mr. Carnegie's estate.

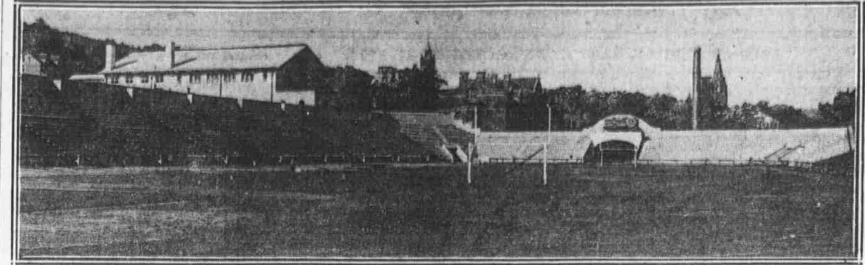

He was graduated from Lehigh in 1876 as an engineer of mines. During his active business life Mr. Taylor was auccessively superintendent of the Pittsburgh Bessemer Steel Company, superintendent of the Homestead Steel Works, general manager of the Hartman Steel Company, secretary of Carnegie, Phipps & Co. and assistant to the president of the Carnegie state.

market in New England, a very important lending section.

Another measure toward relieving the situation promises soon to be in existence. Reference is made to the project for the big bank pool to be formed for the purpose of assisting with loans such cotton planters as are compelled to carry over a part of their cotton crop. The Federal Reserve Board has extended its moral support to this proposition, and before sasistant to the president of the Carnegio Sicel Company, Limited, with general supervision over the operation of all works.

FINANCIAL MARKETS CONTINUE TO SHOW GREATER STRENGTH

Week-end Sees Situation in Better Shape, With Indications of Early Return to Normal.

It is not unconservative to say that the monetary situation is showing decided improvement. One of the best indications of betterment is that a New York institution, which is notoriously stringent on the appearance of any trouble, has this week been offering money on call for the first time since the war conditions de-

It is true that in case of default, when a loan of this character is called, the lending bank has no Stock Exchange where it can quickly realize on collateral, and a bank that makes a call loan takes the risk of being hung up with it indefi-nitely. But the fact that they are more ready to take such risks now is clear proof that credit is getting more plentiful In connection with this it may also be mentioned that many Stock Exchange mentioned that many stock exchange houses are asking more margin from customers and in most cases the response has been satisfactory. This course is justified by the fact that existing contracts are based on purely arbitrary prices-those of the close of the Exchange on July 30-while the conditions might war int much lower figures were a free market available.

ACCOUNTS BEING MARGINED.

Many accounts are being margined up to 25 and 30 per cent, so that a gradual process is in operation which is strengthming open stock accounts so that it would require a severe shrinkage from July 30 prices to impair the soundness of the street.

Another evidence of betterment is that a new low rate of 6 per cent. is being made in discount rates on commercial pa-per. This is half a point off from the previous minimum. Only the choicest credit commands the new low figure, but Board of Trustees.

Mr. Taylor, donor of the gymnasium and field house, is a former partner of Mr. Carnegie and is chairman of the Carnegie Relief Fund, president of the Carnesie Hero Fund Commission and a trusties of Mr. Carnesie's setate.
