

NIGHT EXTRA

Evening

Ledger

NIGHT EXTRA

VOL. 1—NO. 51

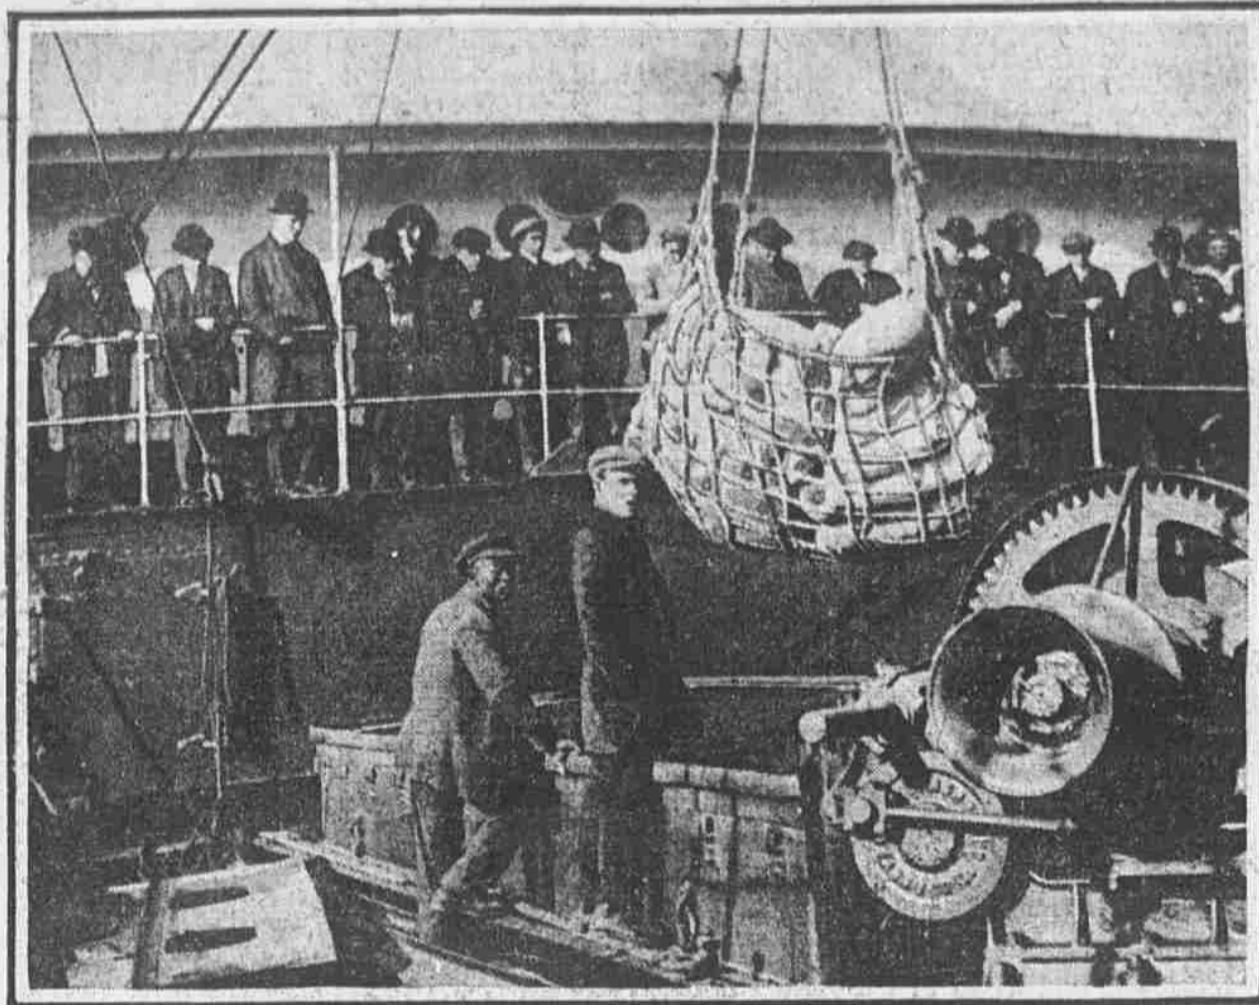

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1914.

COPYRIGHT, 1914, BY THE PUBLIC LEADERS COMPANY.

PRICE ONE CENT

Germans Capture Dixmude—Cossack Dash Cuts Foe's Line Statewide Appeal for Belgians—$1,000,000 Fire at Jeannette

A PICTORIAL REPORT OF THE DAY'S ACTIVITIES

"DONKEY" RAISING LOAD OF FLOUR FOR THELMA'S HOLD

This morning found the workers at the foot of Dock street putting every energy into the task of getting off the Belgian relief ship at earliest possible moment.

THE THELMA'S COMMANDER

Captain Hendrickson, who will get all the speed his vessel's engines are good for in his errand of mercy.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

BELGIAN REFUGEES AT ALEXANDRA PALACE, LONDON

Petrus Vorhooven, his wife and nine children. They lost everything in the burning of Louvain. All wear tags inscribed with their destination—the homes of charitable families.

SPOIL OF THE AUTUMN WOODS

At a hunting camp near Warrenton, Somerset County, N. J.

THE DEER SEASON IS OPEN: SCENE IN FRONT OF A LYCOMING COUNTY HUNTING CAMP

Some of the best deer hunting on the continent is found in this section of Pennsylvania. Two hunters and their wives are shown at their temporary home, with a youthful neighbor who brought down one of the animals.

A FULTON COUNTY HUNTER

He has just brought in his quarry and hung it up for his son to skin, while he hastens back to the hunt.

JAPANESE ARTILLERY ON WAY TO TSING-TAO

battery moving across the plains of Shantung, drawn by the little but energetic Japanese horses.

GERMAN SPY, WHO WAS SHOT, ON TRIAL

Carl Lody before a British court-martial. He was executed in the Tower of London.

JAPS SHELLING TSING-TAO

The big gun was concealed by sheaves of rice straw when not in use. This was one of the batteries that brought the Kaiser's last Far East fortress to terms.