

SPORTS FINAL

Evening Ledger

SPORTS FINAL

VOL. I—NO. 53

PHILADELPHIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1914.

COPYRIGHT, 1914, BY THE PUBLIC LEADERS COMPANY.

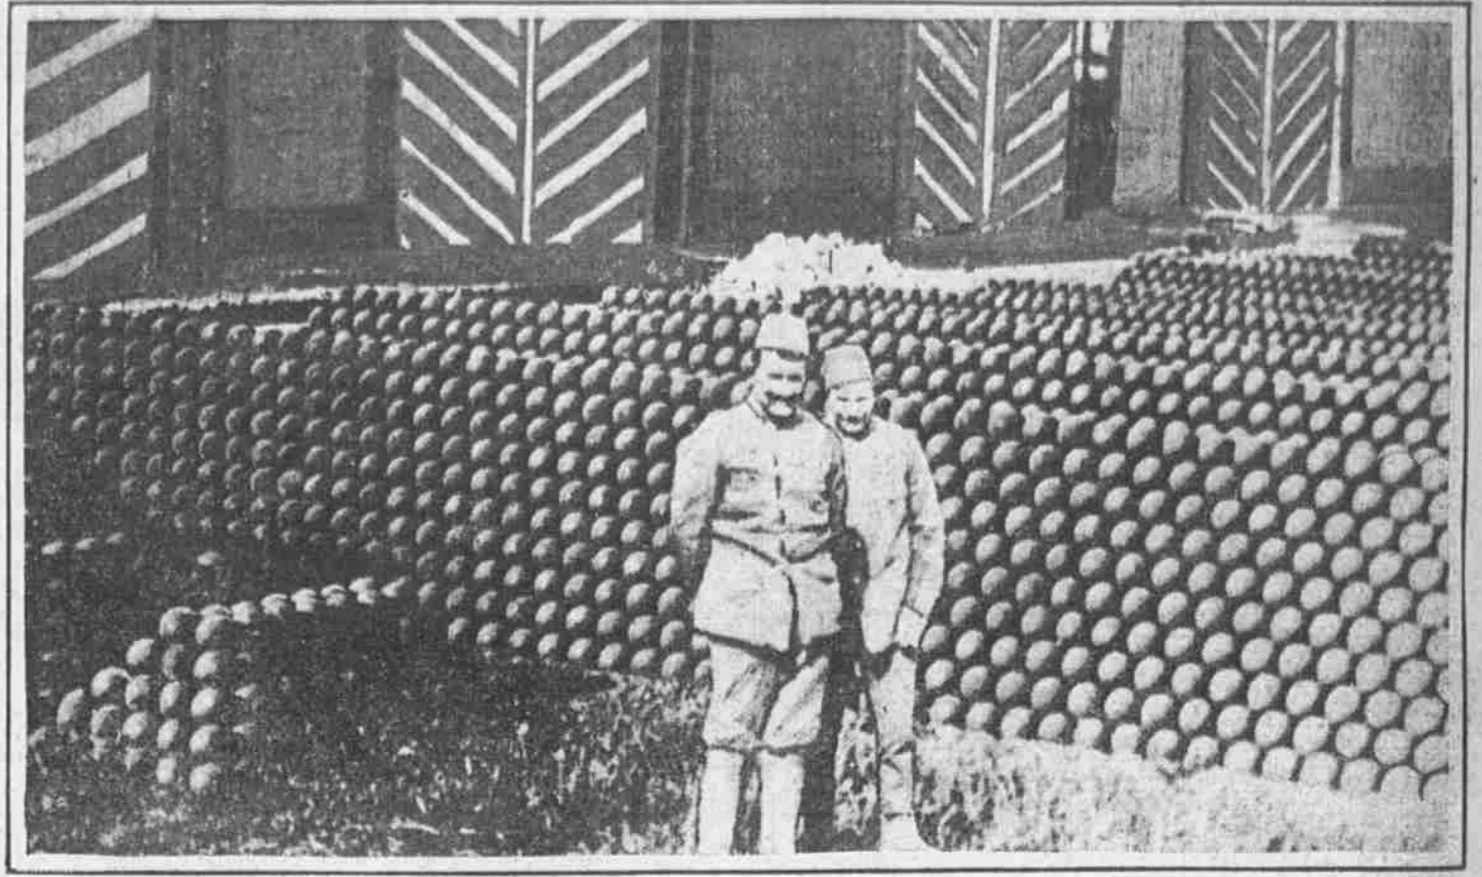

PRICE ONE CENT

Germans Halted on Yser—"Mother" Jones Assails Rockefeller 1200 Men Indicted—800 Saved From Fire—Carranza May Flee

SCENES AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

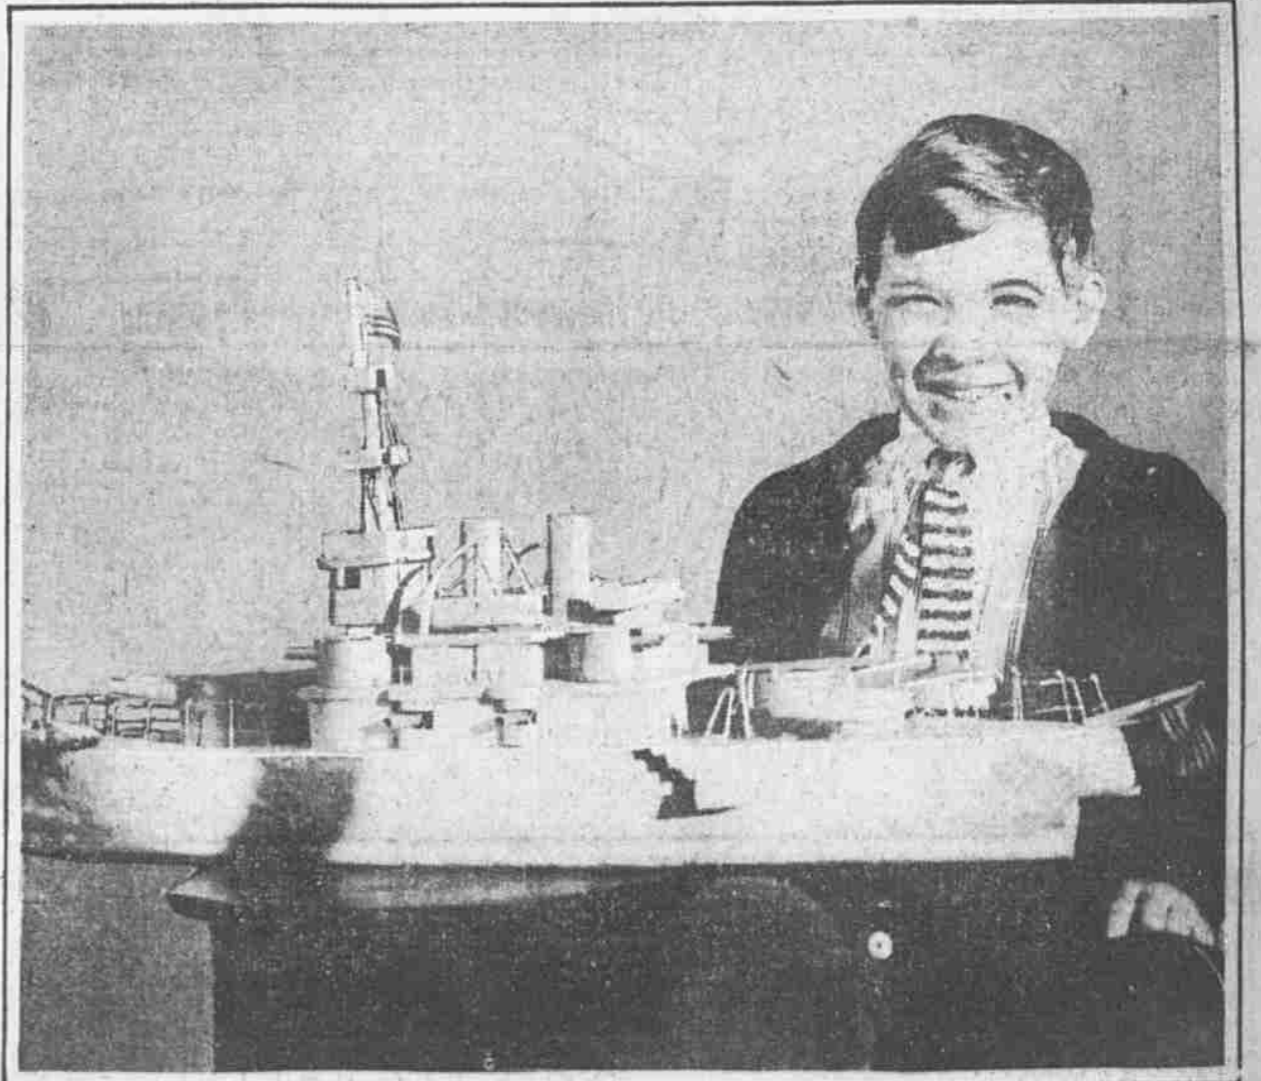

WHEN THE SULTAN GOES FORTH TO WAR—Photo. by Paul Thompson.
Turkey's new army has an exceptional number of military bands to the corps. Here one is shown leading its regiment through the streets of Constantinople.

TURKEY WAS PREPARED FOR WAR—Photo. by Paul Thompson.
At the arsenal in Constantinople—The Sultan's call to arms revealed the fact that the Turks had been long preparing for conflict with Russia.

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS CHEER THEIR EMPEROR—Photo. by Underwood & Underwood.
Vowing to fight, and die if need be, in the defense of their Fatherland. The ceremony of administering the oath of service to troops bound for the front is observed amid stirring scenes in Vienna.

WEST PHILADELPHIA BOY AND WARSHIP MODEL
John Lane Evans, of 5215 Chester avenue, shows skill in design at the age of 12. His U. S. S. Oregon is made entirely of wood and tin.

"WHO DIES IF ENGLAND LIVE"—THE FUNERAL OF SIR CHARLES DOUGLAS
The gun carriage, bearing the flag-draped coffin of the Baronet, who gave his life for Britain on the plains of France, was drawn through the streets of London. The officer's horse, accoutred as for battle, was led behind his fallen master, the soldier's boots reversed, in accordance with old custom.

COUNTESS GREY AND WOUNDED MEN
On her estate in Northumberland. At Howick Castle there are many wounded Belgian and British soldiers recuperating from their wounds. The handsome estate of the Countess Grey has been turned into a military hospital by her and her two daughters.