

EAST AND CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL ELEVENS READY FOR BIG GAME TOMORROW

The photograph above gives an adequate idea of the vast dimensions of the Yale Bowl, in which nearly 70,000 persons sat last Saturday. That Philadelphia needs a stadium of this type and capacity is recognized by every one interested in athletics.

WHY SHOULDN'T PHILADELPHIA HAVE A DUPLICATE OF THIS MONUMENT TO AMERICAN ATHLETICS? Could be staged the world's series baseball games, the Army-Navy football games, the Police Carnival, the Olympic games and other athletic events of municipal and national importance.

It would cost nothing. It would take only a short time for the bowl to pay for itself. Saturday $137,000 was taken in at the turnstiles of the Yale Bowl.

By EDWARD R. BUSHNELL. Pennsylvania's football team does not win from Cornell or hold the Ithacans to a very close score on Thursday it will be almost a knockout blow for the Red and Blue's gridiron prestige.

occurred between the halves that the writer gives the correct story here. Just after the second half message came from the Cornell room that the second half message had been shortened if the Quakers desired. Some Quakers, but that at any rate was the impression that the Cornell players received.

ELEVENS IN READINESS FOR SCHOLASTIC TEST TOMORROW

Central High School's Crack Football Team Will Meet Worthy Steel in Northeast High School's Splendidly Trained Squad of Athletes.

The blue ribbon events of the interscholastic athletic season are at hand. The Northeast Central High School football game scheduled tomorrow and the Eastern championship cross-country run Thanksgiving morning will attract more general interest than any previous event on the local schoolboy calendar.

the contest which will decide the winner of the Ellis Gimbel Trophy, the end's services would have been greatly missed by the Northeast aggregation. It would have also had a tendency to change the odds in predicting the probable winner. Northeast is the favorite in the big battle.

But the situation at Pennsylvania is so far as spirit is concerned in this. The Quakers have a record of their series with Cornell from 1906, when the first game was played, to date, a record which ought to inspire the greatest team to beat Cornell.

In 1906 Cornell had a team several touchdowns better than Pennsylvania yet was prevented from scoring in the last minute of the game when, with a defense which one of the officials described as "thermopylaean," the Quakers held them back.

State Team is Busy. STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 24.—The football coaches at Penn State were yesterday busy with the team's preparation for the game next Thursday. The Pitt team, which will play the Quakers at 1:30 p. m., is also busy with their preparation.

Quite a flurry was caused in the golfing world when word was received from Abbecon that invitations had been sent out to the Sea View Golf Club for a tournament to be held around the last of the present month.

After being expelled from school last week on a charge of breach of discipline, Wilson was reinstated yesterday by the school's faculty, following a conference. He was greatly pleased when Captain Paul Webb informed him of the result of the meeting which made "Mike" eligible to play against Central.

Wilson donned his moleskins yesterday afternoon, after having a two-day vacation, and ran through a signal drill with his teammates on Northeast Field. Captain Webb used up most of the time in practicing the forward pass, with Wilson as the recipient of the oval.

Three games remain on the soccer schedule of Central High School. The next match of the Crimson and Gold eleven is dated for Friday with West Philadelphia High School. The other two contests are with Moorestown High and Northeast High.

LONG SHOTS FOR BASKET USUALLY CAUSE DEFEAT

Best Goal Tossers in the Eastern League Wait for Real Opportunity Before Trying to Shoot.

No matter how proficient a basketball player may be, it does not pay him nor his team to take long shots. This has been the fault of the Grey-coated team of the Eastern League this season and accounts in a large measure for their position at the bottom of the ladder.
