GERMANS TAKE TRENCHES FROM FOE IN VOSGES

French Artillery in Champagne Region Inflicts Severe Losses Upon Kaiser's Batteries.

Invaders' Infantry Repulsed in Flanders Action—Fresh Troops Reinforce Joffre's Army on Ypres-Dixmude Line.

Capture of French trenches in the Vosges was announced in an official report issued in Berlin today.

Along the Franco-Belgian lines the artillery fighting, which has been almost incessant, still continues, but with diminishing force, according to this afternoon's official statement of the French War Office.

But one infantry attack of consequence is reported from the Flanders front. This was delivered by the Germans, and according to the French claim, it was repulsed.

The massing of fresh troops by the Allies on the line between Dixmude and Ypres has increased the pressure against the German front at this point to such an extent that if the Kaiser again attempts to break through there he will find the task more difficult than ever.

Germans are still in possession of their trenches in the vicinity of Lodz, Petrosgrad admits, but these are being violently assaulted.

Berlin declares that the Russians have been forced to bring every available man to the battle front, yet have not won the fight.

In Galicia the Russians have passed the Raba River, the last tributary of the Vistula, east of Cracow, Bochnia

GREAT BOOM IN STEEL TRADE NEAR, SAYS REPORT

Railroads Begin to Place Large Orders for Improvements.

"The railroads are just beginning to place orders," said he. "So far they have not been for the usual tonnage, but I look for a considerable increase in the volume of trade.

Indicating a general resumption of business activity the steel manufacturer pointed out that the California Railroad Commission yesterday authorized the Southern Pacific to spend $1,500,000 on new equipment.

The ban will be removed from sheep, horses, hogs and calves tonight at midnight and except for a stricter inspection, the business of the stockyards will go on as usual.

The Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington has announced its policy will be to lift quarantines as quickly as possible now, as the foot and mouth disease has apparently been checked.

A casual remark made by a 13-year old boy resulted in the arrest of four men accused of stealing automobiles and the recovery of the missing machines.

The boy is Andrew Sullivan, Jr., son of a detective of the Central police station squad, who was entertaining William Glavin, a fellow detective in the Sullivan home at 44 North Wylie street last night.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE OPENS WITH OPTIMISM

Trading in Bonds Resumed After Seventeen Weeks' Suspension—Early Extension to Shares Predicted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—After being closed for 17 weeks, the New York Stock Exchange reopened today for trading in bonds.

Long wooden tables had been constructed on the floor of the exchange to accommodate traders.

The opening was marked by a feeling of optimism pervading the financial district, and predictions were made in some quarters that trading soon would be extended to shares.

During the first 15 minutes, $15,000 worth of bonds were traded in, the fluctuations being narrow.

Deals were confined to eight issues, of which were United States Steel Corporation 5s, Distillers 5s and Tial Con. Copper 5s.

The steel 5s opened at 99 1/2, but quickly shaded to 99 1/4. Distillers 5s were three and a fraction high, beginning at 28.

The first sale reported was $500 of Steel 5s. The first sale in Distillers 5s was also $500.

Chesapeake and Ohio convertibles began at 28 1/2, against 28 at the close of the market in July.

About 1000 bonds are listed upon the exchange with the par value of more than $12,000,000. There are only about 40 or 50 specialties, but every one of the 1100 members of the exchange has at some time or other had orders to execute in them, so the opening of the exchange for bond trading has a financial benefit for the country which rapidly is apparent.

The volume of business normally reaches from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 daily, this being equal to 2000 to 5000 bonds. Because of the conditions imposed by the war, however, it is obvious that business will be of a restricted nature.

Magistrate Tracy at 11:30 o'clock said he would give a further hearing to the three at noon. At that hour the prisoners were arraigned and discharged.

THEATRE OWNER FALLS DEAD

GRIDIRON HEROES URGED TO VICTORY BY STIRRING SONGS

Spectators and Players Alike Are Stirred by Singing of Cadets and Middies During Game.

Enthusiasm is always stirred to its highest pitch by the Army and Navy songs, which so straight to the heart of the gridiron warriors and make them do their best.

While the official yells stir the fighting blood, there is a punch to the songs sung by both the forces from West Point and Annapolis. They have a swinging lilt, which makes one think of sweeping across the field overcoming all obstacles.

The old Army "Benny Havens" is a sample. Here it is: Come, fill your glasses, fellows, And stand up in a row, To sing the national anthem, We're going far to go, For in the name of the Lord, Prussian's very bold, So let us sing our reminiscence, Of Benny Havens, Oh!

"Anchors Aweigh" is the musical battle cry of the Middies, and they sing it with a gusto which would bring fear to the hearts of any less confident than the Cadets from the Hudson. This song is sung in a rhythmic, swinging style, and pictures the Navy down and out with no hope. Here are the words: It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.

It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.

It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.

It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.

It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.

It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River, It's a long way up Hudson River.
