

PERSONS AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY AS PORTRAYED BY THE QUICK EYE OF THE CAMERA

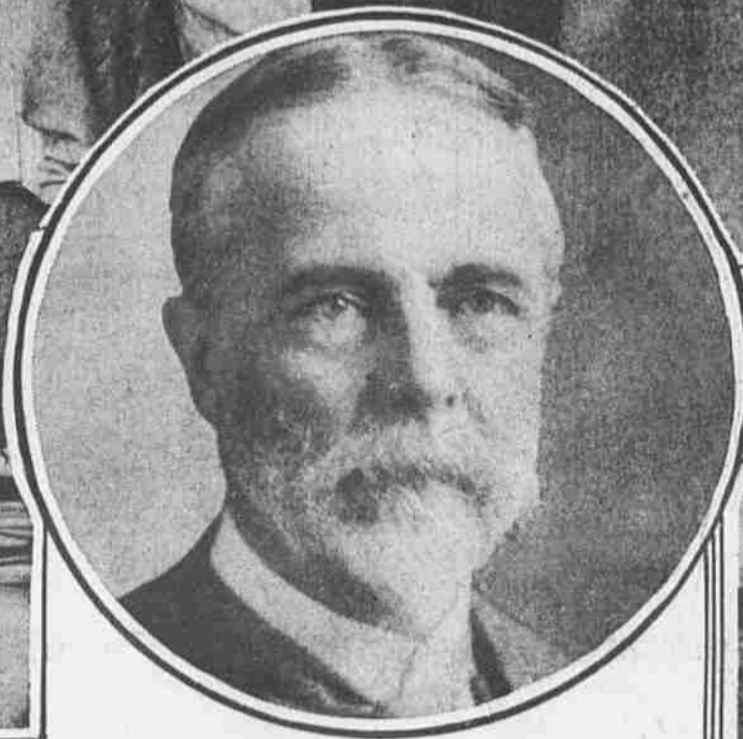

ABOUT TO GLADDEN CAPITAL SOCIETY
Miss Gladys Lowden Pugh, daughter of Judge and Mrs. James L. Pugh, is one of the pretty debutantes at Washington.

OFFICERS OF MARINES BACK FROM MEXICO
From right to left, are Lieutenant Wirgman, Major John H. Russell, Lieutenant Colonel C. G. Long, Captain C. B. Taylor, Lieutenant Case, Captain H. H. Kipp, Lieutenant Morrison, Captain Sullivan and Lieutenant Stephenson.

OVERCOATS FEEL GOOD AFTER LONG MONTHS IN TROPICS
The marines who are back from Vera Cruz disembarked from their transports all huddled up in their long military coats. They complained the chilly air of Philadelphia ate into their bones, though it was not considered uncomfortably cold here.

NEW AMBASSADOR TO ARGENTINA
Frederick Jessup Stimson is the new United States Ambassador to Argentina and succeeds John W. Garrett, of Baltimore. He is a lawyer and author of Boston

CONVICTS GREET REFORMER AS NEW WARDEN
Thomas Mott Osborne, new warden of Sing Sing Penitentiary, is shown surrounded by the men whom he purposes to help, in the yard of the prison grounds a few hours after his appointment.

YES, BEAR CAN STILL BE SHOT IN PENNSYLVANIA
This is H. H. Knauus, of Allentown, who bagged the game here depicted after several days in the hills in the western part of the State. The bear next to him is plainly a good-sized specimen.

SILENCED BY A SINGLE AUSTRIAN SHELL
This striking photograph is mute evidence of a battle fought in Galicia with the Russians. The horses lie just as they fell, suddenly crumpled up in a heap, the gun barrel pointing to the sky, in the midst of a field the battery was trying to cross.

STREET SCENES AT FUNERALS IN VERA CRUZ—FROM PHOTOGRAPHS BROUGHT BACK BY THE MARINES
Two Mexican captives met death in sniping attacks on the American landing forces and the entire population turned out to bury them. On the left is the procession that followed the body of Captain Ruiz. On the right is the crowd that paid honors to Captain Azueta. The photographs give a good idea of the streets of Vera Cruz during the American occupation. The white-clad posse roamed about as they played in little fear of the soldiers from the north.
