BOARD OF VIEWERS IMPROVEMENT OVER THE OLD ROAD JURY

One Fault of the System Is That Several Sessions Cannot Be Held at One Time by Members of Body

A recent newspaper article reviewed the three years service of the Board of Viewers, a body of nine men appointed by the Board of Judges in October, 1911, and who took the place of the old road

Jury.

These men are William H. Shoemaker,
49th Ward; Francis H. Cantrell, Zist
Ward; Charles W. Boger, 15th Ward; Alfred Gratz, 8th Ward; William J. Kerns, 21st Ward; Robert B. Scott, 14th Ward;
James M. Hazlett, 1st Ward; Louis Saller, 47th Ward; J. Parker Norris, Jr., 7th

Ward.
The article goes into some detail in regard to awards, that they are fewer in proportion than before and heard more speedily, that fewer appeals to higher courts have resulted and that city officials manifest greater confidence, as well as owners, in the awards made.
It goes into detail in regard to meetings, and suggests that if proper accommodations could be furnished all the mambers could meet or at least two meetings at a time could be held and more business disposed of; and winds up as follows:

"As the members are not bound by the textimony of so-called experts employed by suttors, one of the greatest services it could render would be to discourage and utterfy wipe out this coatly and wasteful process and confine the hearings to a speedy determination of the actual value of the properties affected, for the essential purposes of the act creating the board itself was to establish a jury of experts." a jury of experts."

FAULTS IN THE SYSTEM. All this sounds most instructive, but the account falls of usefulness because

It does not nearly cover the situation. Naturally, in the choice of the board politics figured in the indorsements, and attorneys |familiar with road law expressed guarded opinions as to the effect the new departure would have in the premises. It is true that as a whole the board has won not a little goodwill on the part of litigants and lawyers; more dignity has been imparted to the hearings, and the rulings of the board in the main have been along the line of protection to all who come before them, and insistence that witnesses about not and insistence that witnesses should not be bullisd, but heard.

One of the great faults of the system is

One of the great faults of the system is that three sessions cannot be held at once, or at least two, with three members each siting. This would greatly expedite matters, and dispose of cases probably as fast as awards could be paid. All that would be needed would be three modest rooms instead of the hall of the Board of Education, too large for one, and not suited for two meetings at the same time.

It must in all justice be said that in many proceedings the board, having arranged with attorneys, holds meeting after meeting with only a series of small delays; sometimes those representing cases not appearing at all, even after cases have been scheduled weeks ahead. Having reserved the time for a particular case, and others not being ready, they

Inr case, and others not being ready, they lar case, and others not being ready, they can only adjourn.

The Board of Viewers has succeeded to the mind of owners and city officials in forming a belief that there is an element of fairness in awards to both parties. Such awards are based upon the testimony of owners, builders and real estate men called as experts in the matter of values. "The markst value immediately before the taking, or the change of grade; and the market value immediately after"—both sides offer such testimony.

THE DIFFERENCES OF EXPERTS. quantly said by judges from the bench g up land damage cases that real estate men called as experts differ so widely that it could be wished there was some other way of getting before the jury the market value of the properry before and after the change upon which the action is based. It may be imperfect, but at present it is the best

Why has the board been able to show Why has the board been able to show such successful results if not by the evidence offered before them by experts? Such men make a study of the real situation; they are by no means infallfile, but they are most useful. The board winnows the chaff from the wheat, and through the presiding officer on each board, who is also a member of the bar, often rule very severely as to the rule very severely as to the lity of witnesses presented by

It is manifestly asking too much of any set of men to serve on such a hoard, any set of men to serve on such a hoard, and that their most important function should be to buy and seil real estate, and to be able to form opinions themselves as to values all over the city.

It is a matter for congratulation that the change in the old road jury system has brought about much change for the better in three years. With the desire to spin out hearings, so that the members could receive $\overline{2}$ apiece for one more meeting, obvious attorneys were not slow to see that it was "not wise" to shorten the hearings.

All that is now past and gone. Even wherien the hearings.

All that is now past and Kons. Even if some of the members of the board wers inexperienced at first, that condition is now succeeded by experience useful both to the city and the citizen.

Dancing at Horticultural Hall, The Arabian Night fete and tableaux, ollowed by a ball and dancing competiion for the benefit of the American Hospital in Paris, to be held tonight in Hortfoultural Hall, will mark the final feature, with the exception of the Fashion Show tomorrow at the Ritz-Carlton, of the most brilliant and most successful charity affair ever held in this city. It will be a long time before the memory of the "Made in America Bazzar" fades from the minds of those who participated in it.

Last night the hall was thronged with those who came to the Ambulance Ball, and many were the disappointments when it was announced that the piece de resis-tance of the affair, the Dance of the Eight Klasses, to have been given by Miss Frances Hoar, of Boston, and Vinton Friedley, would not take place because the arrangements for the performance were not satisfactory to the dancers.

Give the Dance of the Eight Klasses on the common level of a ball room floor in the glaring light of a brilliantly illuminated chandeller? Shades of Terpsichore! nated chandelier? Shades of Terpsichore! It could not be done. According to Mr. Friedley, who the audience suspected of having temperament, to obtain a real artistic effect, a specially arranged stage and softly shaded spotlights were essential concomitants of the performance. Since these could not be produced on the instant, the Dance of the Eight Kisses was left entirely to the imagination. But twas a merry carnival, nevertheless.

LEGISLATION FOR IMPROVED HOUSING STRONGLY FAVORED

Senator Vare Pledges Support to Measure That Will Relieve Condition of the Poor.

Legislation for better homes for the enement poor will have the backing of Benator Edwin H. Vare, who today said he would support any measure that might be introduced in the next Legislature pertaining to housing. Should the mem-bers of Councils' Finance Committee refuse to grant appropriations for the new Division of Housing and Sanitation, it was learned today, another housing measure will be introduced.

Civic workers who fought to have the cresent department created are planning o introduce another measure, which, if passed, will give dwellers in the fifthy, windowless, bathtubless, unventilated and brickless tenements some relief.

The act which created the present division had the support of Senator Vare, as well as Senator McNichol. Senator Vare said today that in view of the uncertainty of the new Division of Housing and Santtation ever being placed in actual operation something ought to be done.

"A great deal of the opposition to the act which created the new Division of Housing and Sanitation," said Senator Vare, "comes from property owners who are of the third class. I mean the man who has a little house, owns money, has a mortgage on it and has to pay taxes and other bills in order not to fose his house. This man is opposed to the act because of the many clauses and drastic rulings.

"If the present act is too drastic, some-thing must be done for our poor. I feel certain that when the next Legislature convenes one of the first matters taken up will be the homes of our poor. There is no doubt that a new act will be in-troduced which will be fair to the little property owner as well as the women, men and children who live in some of the broken-down tenements.

broken-down tenements.
"I am for better homes and you can't make that too strong. I believe in fair play to both sides. When the Legislature neets and a legislator introduces a measure for bettering conditions I will support it, and will also do everything in my power to bring some relief to those who have been pictured as living in dirty and unventilated tenements. The next Legislature will positively not ignore.

next Legislature will positively not ignore the present tenements."

The consensus of opinion among certain Republican Organization men was that if nothing was done for the tenement poor during the next session of the Legislature it would hurt the Organization during the coming mayoratty election. To continue to ignore the poor, it was agreed every-where, would hurt the candidacy of every candidate running for offices on the Re-publican ticket.

I believe the Evening Lengen deserves great praise for showing the effects on the bupraise for showing the effects on the hu

The Christmas Fashion Sale Is Helpful

For instance, there are suits at $10, which not long ago sold for much more and which would make particularly good gifts. They include serges, cheviots, broadcloths, usually black or blue, and in long and short coat styles.

Other suits at $15, many newly reduced; serges, gabardines, broadcloths and cheviots. Lots of short coats; a few fur trimmed.

We still have some of those famous evening frocks at $15; charmeuse, taffetas, chiffons, crepes de chine, in evening colors.

Besides cloth dresses for street and house wear at $15, these being mostly velvet or serge, the latter sometimes combined with charmeuse. A few are altogether charmeuse.

There are hundreds such dresses and suits in the clearaway now going on, and any one of them is a good investment for Santa Claus.
