GIOUS ACTIVITIES OF ALL DENOMINAT

AND SPECIAL MUSIC IN CITY'S CHURCHES

Cantatas, Carols, Anthems and Children's Entertainments Tomorrow and Through the Week.

Protestant and Catholic churches coughout the city will welcome the ristmas season tomorrow with sermon, ng and special observances. Ministers ill preach special sermons and the Sunay school children will hold elaborate xercises. Choirs and choruses will sing he famous carols and Christmas canmins. Most of the edifices will be beau-Ifully decorated with holly, paims and evergreens.

Following the customs of the centuries. there will be appropriate celebrations in which the children will participate with recitations, music and dialogues. In many cases these observances will take place in the evening at the usual hour for ening worship, and large spruce and edar trees, brightly illuminated with electric lights and laden with gifts and decorations, will occupy prominent positions in the large auditoriums.

At the Central Congregational Church the pastor, the Rev. W. V. Berg, will take for his morning topic "And on Earth, Peace." In the evening he will speak on "The Song of Mary." At the evening service Christmas carols will be sung, with the assistance of a choir of young people. The subject of the sermon to the junior congregation in the Sunday evening meetings of the Lemon mas." At both services there will be special music, under the direction of Benamin L. Kneedler. The soloists, assisted by Roy Comfort, violinist, will be Miss from nearly every quarter of the globe. M. C. Gilbert, Miss Flora Robinson, Wil-Ham J. Clark and Douglass MacDonald. The Christmas entertainment will be given on Wednesday evening in the chapel.

At St. Mark's Episcopal Church, 16th and Locust streets, the Rev. Elliot White, rector, holy communion will be admin-istered at 7 and 8 o'clock tomorrow morning: at 10:30 there will be matins and at Il o'clock the choral eucharist will take place, and the rector will preach. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon will come choral evensong, with a short address by Mr. White, On Christmas Day there will be elaborate services at 10:20 o'clock, and the carols, "The Shepherds Watched" and "The Shepherds Left Their Sheep," will be sung.

A beautiful effect will be produced tomorrow evening at Messiah Lutheran Church, 16th and Jefferson streets, when two large trees will be illuminated with electric lights, and will be surrounded by a large orchestra that will play Christmas hymns. The solo quartet, under the direction of Shepard K. Kollock, will give Christmas anthems, and the pastor, the Rev. D. E. Weigle, will make an ad-

At the East Baptist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. H. Woolston, will preach on "The Message of Christmas" in the morning, and in the evening he will give an illustrated sermon on "A Midnight an illustrated sermon on "A Midnight Visit to Bethlehem." Special music will be a feature at both services. There will be an elaborate musical program at both morning and evening serv-Charles in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Burns, will preach in the morning on "The Road to Bethlehem

Merry Christmas! To all we wish a senson of unusual gladness. May your Christmas Day be full of laughter and song. There is no other holiday so uni-versally celebrated. While the chimes fing out the glad liding of Christ-mas morn in the oid Quaker City the same spirit of kindness and gladness that we shall feel will reach around The custom of giving at this glad sea-

The custom of giving at this glad sea-ron is beautiful. But it is the spirit in which a gift is offered that makes it worth while to the recipient and the bestower. Its value in gold should count not at all. Always the giver should get the greater joy. In Philadelphia and America there have been special opportunities this year to brighten the Christmas season for the unfortunates abroad and at home. We should enjoy our Christ-mas because we have been able to give so much. Every person who has helped even a fittle should feel a sense of gratifue for the chance to scatter what sunshine was possible. scatter what subshine was possible. But we should be most happy because there remain vast opportunities to sow about us always that gladness that comes only through love and We should be glad because there are countless thdusands to whom we can give the spifts of faith by showing them that we, who are Christians, are just as anxious to help and cheer them as the Master was when He sent the Babe to the manger in the little town of Bethlehem. "It is more blessed to give than to refeive. Bui let our "Merry Christmas" al-wass carry with it a gift of sincers love. PHILLIPS.

THE REV. H. A. MUSSER A "JUNGLE MAN" IS ONE OF

BILLY SUNDAY'S BOOSTERS The Rev. H. A. Musser, Formerly i Superintendent of Missions in India, a Busy Man. One of the busy men in the Billy Sun-day campaign headquarters is the Rev. H. A. Musser, the "Jungle Man." Mr. Musser who was for many years a mis-sionary in India, has been shrinking from publicity, but he has been so busy as assistant secretary of the Executive Com-mittee and as secretary of the bits Prover mittee and as secretary of the big Prayer Meeting Committee, of which the Rev. Dr. George H. Bickley is chairman, that everybody associated with the movement In every section of the city has come to know him know him. He was secretary of the Laymen's Mis-slonary Movement and was asked to go ahead with the preliminary work pre-vious to the organization of the com-mittee for the campaign. Step by step he has seen the machine grow around him, until he now superintends a large office under George C. Shane, executive momentum as Mr. Shane, executive secretary, as Mr. Shane's assistant. Nearly every night of the week Mr. Musser is busy speaking to some church group on the different phases of the Sunday campaign. His talk on "What a Jungle Man Thinks of Billy Sunday" is filled with wittand humor, and is becom-ing popular throughout the city. For eight years Mr. Musser was superintendent of missions in Central India, and he has acquired a genial and intense-ly interesting way of telling his stories that assure big crowds wherever he is

Thousands of the city's deserving poor will be fed and given gifts to brighten their Christmas Day through the benevolence of the Christian people of Philadelphia. Various organizations that have annually made it a rule to provide din-ners for the unfortunates, and to give candy, fruit and toys to the hungry children in the congested districts, are making a special effort this year because they say there are greater demands for assistance than usual.

More than 25,000 dinners will be provided through the efforts of such organizations as the American Rescue Workers, the as the American Rescue Workers, me Salvation Army, the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Episcopal City Mission, the Society for Organizing Charities and others. Most of these organizations also provide clothing to those in greatest need, and there will be many little feet warmed as well as hearts on Christmas morning. The Home Missionary Society of the

Ine from Missionary Society of the Protestant Episconal Church, the Bethany Anchorage for Girls and Womee, the Inasmuch, Gallies and Whomeever Gospel Missions and dozens of other charitable organizations will help in making the day one of brightness for those who would otherwise use no for those who would otherwise see no joy, but instead would be cold and hungry, and, in not a few cases, have no place to lay their heads on Christmas night.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 20 No Collection Seats Free

Christmas is a Church Day-the day of her sweetest message.

And this year witnesses the most notable anniversary of the birth of the Christ that the Church in Philadelphia has known for many decades.

Christmas and the Church

In Philadelphia

A strange thrill and stir and expectancy mark our City's Church life at the present time. Part of this she shares with the whole world; part of it is peculiarly local.

Consider one stupendous fact: Last night approximately

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS gathered in about

SEVEN THOUSAND PRIVATE HOMES for

MEETINGS OF PRAYER for blessing in the coming weeks. DOES THE READER KNOW ANY PARALLEL TO THIS? SUCH AN ACHIEVE-MENT MIGHT WELL BE THE GOAL OF GREAT CHRISTIAN ACTIVITY; INSTEAD, IT IS ONLY PREPARATION FOR GREATER ACTIVITY.

This is not the place to tell of the legions of men and women who are already organized and under drill for special service in the Philadelphia Evangelistic Campaign during the early weeks of the new year. The magnitude of the special enterprise upon which the Church in Philadelphia has entered is amazing: no other city of the first class has known anything like it for more than a generation.

AND THIS EPOCHAL ENTERPRISE IS THE WORK OF THE UNITED CHURCHES OF PHILADELPHIA.

FOR TWO YEARS THIS PUBLICITY COMMITTEE OF THE ASSOCIATED CHURCHES HAS BEEN ADVERTISING THE CHARACTER AND WORK AND WEL-COME OF THE CHURCH. Now, we remind the public that the Sunday Evangelistic Meetings, which open in the Tabernacle at Nineteenth and Vine streets on January 3, are meetings under the Churches of the city.

In this campaign Mr. Sunday labors in behalf of the Church, and not the Church in behalf of Mr. Sunday. The project is of, for, by and under the Churches of Philadelphia.

The Tabernacle Meetings are an Outreach of the Church in Philadelphia

The local expenses, in building the largest special evangelistic tabernacle ever erected; in building a nursery, rest room and auxiliary structures, in clerk hire, postage, printing, houserent, etc., are estimated at some-thing less than $50,000. This is a purely Philadelphia expense, for strictly Philadelphia purposes. It will be met by offerings in the Tabernacle. As soon as the expenses have been met, the collections will stop.

Philadelphia fashion, local leaders are proposing that at least half this sum, or $25,000, be placed in the collection plates on the opening day of the campaign. We venture to urge, in a public way, the propriety and wisdom of this in order that Christian givers may early designate a share of their 1915 benevolent budget to this purpose. Or the offering may now be set aside as a Christmas gift. In this way we shall remove as quickly as possible all financial matters from these great Gospel Meetings.

And, by the way, may we repeat once more that Mr. Sunday himself has exacted no guarantees, and has been given none. Aside from meeting the actual expenses of him and his workers while in the city, the Com-mittee of the Churches will not pay Mr. Sunday one penny of compensation. His only remuneration will be the absolutely free-will offering made to him in the Tabernacle on the closing day of the meetings.
