Resolution Calls for Probe of Organization of Reserve Banks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6-A resolution, charging that the Federal reserve system and the Federal Reserve Board is domand the Federal Reserve Board is dom-inated by the "money trust" and demand-ing the appointment of a special House Committee "to inquire into the influences that have been exercised by the Money Trust in the organization of the Federal Reseve Banka," was introduced today in the House by Representative Lindburgh, a Minnesota Republican and a member of the Banking and Currency Committee. Representative Lindburgh also said he contemplated introducing a resolution for an investigation of George M. Reynolds and James B. Forgan as directors of the Chicago Reserve Bank.

Chicago Reserve Bank. The preamble of the resolution intro-duced today recited that "money trust managers and their agents were selected to control the 12 Federal Reserve Banka, and because of their mutuality of interests they formed a natural as well as a legalized trust, and the small banks are forced to become a part of this trust." The preamble also declares "that the President in creating the Federal Re-serve Board appointed men who had been

Market Pushed Up Too Rapidly, Traders Declare. No Falling Off of Export

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.-There was a general selling movement in the wheat market at the opening today and prices declined I to 1%c. Some traders expressed the opinion that the market had been pushed up too rapidly.

The market at Liverpool opened strong with offers light and winters is higher, but later turned easier. A cable from Ruomhall said the British Government had threatened to take drastic measures to check exorbitant prices, and this tended to cause concervation. Underlying conditions remained unchanged, however, and there was no indication of any fall-ing off in the demand for exports, and the position of the cash article remained firm. Wankly exports of breadstuffs to Eu-rope since August I amount to 169,000,000 bushels, against 22,000,000 bushels last year. Corn declined, in sympathy with wheat. The market at Liverpool was strong on lighter Piste offerings and decreasing Lawn to David Jamison, who is the owner of southeast corner of Ilat and Locust streets, price was not shown. This property is assessed for $16,000. For many years properties could be purchased in the 2000 block at prices which were low enough to enable the buyer to modernize the properties and keep the entire expenditure between $10,-600 and $12,000. This period, however, in the history of the street has passed.

WALNUT STREET AN AID. To give some idea of the value of the dwellings fronting on Locust street. there are between Rittenhouse Square and 20th street ten properties with a total frontage of 219 feet assessed at $260,000.

On the south side of Locust street from 20th to 21st street are 23 properties, with a total frontage of 584.51%, which are as-TOth

On the north side of Locust street from 20th to 21st street are 15 properties, with a total frontage of 337.6, which are as-messed at $363,000. With business conditions coming so strongly out Walnut street, and with apartment houses increasing in number around Rittenhouse Square, it is safe to say property on Locust street, certainly ns far went as 23d street, is bound to in-crease in value. The fact that some dwellings in the lo-callty named have been for sale or to rent for some time is not at all at vari-ance with the facts as stated. It is be-caume such properties have not been im-proved up to the standard of such a the Tommites stick to their trenches to the last. The clothing and equipment of the English officers and soldiers is consid-ered almost ideal. "Have you seen everything you wished to?" asked General yon Heeringen, in a farewell conversation. "We have no se-crets, you know, except such as a re-locked up in the breasts of our com-manders. I gave instructions that you should be given every facility for your work. In return please do one thing. Let the people of America know that we are not Huns and barbarians." proved up to the standard of such a neighborhood. OBITUARIES

DR. CHAS. BARCLAY WARDER

Retired Specialist Active in Charity Work.

Dr. Charles Barclay Warder, a retired ear, nose and throat specialist, who was actively interested in hospital and char-ity work, died last night at his home, These hand grenades are about the size of a baseball and are bound to ity work, died last night at his home, 59 Westview avenue, Germantown. He had long been a sufferer from heart trouble. He was 51 years old. Doctor Warder graduated at the Jeffer-son Medical College and later at the medical school of the University of Pennshort wooden paddles, making them very short wooden paddles, making them very handy to throw. Usually they are pro-vided with fuses which the user lights from a match or a digar. A supply of these is kept in readiness in every trench. General von Heeringen, when asked as to the superiority of dense or ex-tended lines for attack, said that in order to get the men forward under heavy fire it was necessary to advance in successive rushes rather than in dense lines, owing to the effect of the modern medical school of the University of Penn-sylvania. For several years he was as-sistant to Dr. William Popper. He was a member of the Union League, the Phila-delphia Hospital Association and the Philadelphia Home Missionary Society. His father, the late Dr. William H. Warder, who died here ten years ago, was reputed to be one of the best known authorities on the diseases of women and children. He lawses a widow and one in successive rushes rather than in dense lines, owing to the effect of the modern infantry weapons. The general had only praise for the British and French soldiers. The French were stiff, hard fighters, but the British soldiers were the toughest opponents. The German infantryman has a whole-some appreciation of the way in which the Tommies stick to their trenches to the last. children. He leaves a widow and one daughter.
