

WIGHT-CYLINDER AUTO PRONOUNCED TRIUMPH OF GENIUS

New Form of Engine Will Revolutionize Motor Industry, Expert Says. Show Closes Tomorrow.

One of the most striking features at the Philadelphia Automobile Trade Association show, now being held in the Metropolitan Building, Broad and Wallace streets, is the new eight-cylinder type of engine. This engine is practically perfect as far as ideal power is concerned. Theoretically and practically the eight-cylinder has been found far better than the four or the six.

It is hardly probable that any of us will ever witness the triumph of a 12-cylinder engine. To all practical purposes the eight would have the 12 whipped any day. The little advantage to be gained from the building of a 12-cylinder engine would not repay the builders for the extra cost of the engine.

It is a radical change from the four-cylinder, but I am sure in the end the eight-cylinder will simply fall in love with the 12.

Last night was society night and many of Philadelphia's society folk came and enjoyed the show, which is the talk of the country.

The show will end tomorrow night. The show will be closed at 10:30 o'clock.

On and after February 15 the Regal auto organization, with headquarters at 222 North Broad street, will exhibit and demonstrate their Regal cars.

Jackson cars of new and distinctive models may be inspected at 629 North Broad street.
