PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS JUST AS POPULAR IN WINTER AS ON HOTTEST DAYS OF SUMMER

Here are youngsters enjoying themselves on the city playground at 2d and Carpenter streets. It has to be a cold and disagreeable day to keep them away. All these grounds are under the supervision of trained instructors and officials. Last month more than 200,000 children patronized the various public playgrounds and it is believed January will show a total even beyond this mark. There is not a healthy sport on the list which has not been provided for and recreation for the girls is as well looked after as that for the boys. The playgrounds were set aside with the idea of keeping children off the streets and in this they have been eminently successful.
