FEDERAL SUIT HOLDS INTEREST OF FANS TODAY

Anti-trust Baseball Charge Goes to Trial Before Judge Landis at Chicago—Different Opinions as to Issue.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The life of the national game, as organized at present, was virtually at stake today when the trust suit of the Federal League against organized baseball was called by Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis.

Because of the far-reaching effect of any decision, no one of the opposing magnates gathered here today would venture a guess as to the probable length of the hearing. Every one expressed hope that it would be over within two weeks, at the longest.

The first move today was arguments by Federal League attorneys who contended that the Federal League was a bona fide business enterprise.

SQUASH RACQUETS ARE TO BE PLAYED TONIGHT

Germantown Team A Will Meet Racquet Club in Last Contest.

The climax in the interclub squash racquet championship will be reached tonight. Only two teams are left in the race, the Racquet Club and Germantown, Team A.

Although the match between Merion Team A and Merion Team B at Haverford will have no bearing on the championship, it should provide some hot contests, in which Team B may spring a surprise or two.

Overbrook will have every incentive to defeat Germantown Team B at Manheim, as a victory will keep the suburbanites in third place unless Team A of Merion gains an overwhelming victory over Team B of the same club.

Overbrook has done much better this year than in any previous season, and so far has furnished the surprise of the contest.

KILBANE AND M'COY WILL APPEAR IN LOCAL BOUTS

Finals in Amateur Tourney at Gayety Staged Tonight.

Two champions will display their mettle before Philadelphia fans Saturday night and Monday night. At the National Club, Johnny Kilbane, who rules the featherweight class, will square-off with Eddie Morgan, of England. Monday night Al McCoy, of Brooklyn, will oppose Joe Borrell, of this city.

The final bouts in the 116-pound amateur tournament at the Gayety Theatre will be staged tonight. Six youngsters will vie for the diamond ring and gold watch, first and second prizes, respectively.

The boys who boxed through the preliminary and semifinal rounds successfully are Kid Baker and Peter O'Reilly.

The preliminary bouts of the 122-pound class will also be staged.

Grover Hayes, of Southwark, will finish training this afternoon for his match with Mickey Dalgaard, of Smoky Hollow, at the Broadway A. C. tomorrow night.

Greater games were never displayed by a boxer in a local ring than when Freddy Yelle, of Taunton, Mass., recuperated after being dropped three times in the first round of his bout with Willie Moore, and then came back to win.

Frankie Conway, the local bantam, who has toured the Southwest, will return to Philadelphia the latter part of the week. His last bout was with Young Joe at Philadelphia A. C. tomorrow night.

It is probable the first big championship match to be staged by Billy Gibson in Havana, in his bout with Joe Shugrue, of Jersey City, and Freddy Yelle.

Harry Brennan, a 17th Ward bantam, is working out daily, and he would like to get a match with Lew Tendler or Young O'Brien.

Insurance for fight fans who travel to Juarez to see the "Nonpareil" of former days, knocked out by a Chicago insurance firm on insurance for Americans entering Mexico do so at their own peril.

Jimmy Tibe, the Scranton middleweight, is anxious to meet the winner of the Horrell-Corcoran fight, and he would like to see K. O. Brennan and Jack McCarron, he says.
