

LEBANON BANK'S PROSPECTS GROW MORE HOPEFUL

Indications Point to Rehabilitation of First National, Looted Through Cashier's Accommodation.

SCHAFFERTOWN, Pa., Feb. 11.—Substantial progress was made this morning in the work of putting the looted First National Bank of this place, back on its feet financially.

Another encouraging sign came in the form of an agreement that Squire Irwin Horst, the local cigar manufacturer and tobacco dealer, would at once pay into the bank...

On the other hand if Horst's debt should be found to be less than that amount restoration is to be made to him of the balance.

COMMITTEE GIVES $36,000

Contributed to the Fund for Aid of Destitute.

Thirty-six thousand dollars was thrown into the breach between unemployed Philadelphians and the necessities of life today by the Citizens' Permanent Relief Committee.

The specific stipulation was made by the committee in making division of the $36,000 that not a cent is to be expended for the overhead or other expenses of the charities to which it is entrusted.

The Permanent Relief Committee met today in the office of Mayor Blankenburg.

ROOSEVELT STRIKE DEPUTIES ENTER PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY

Remanded to Jail—Trial Unlikely Before March 22.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 11.—Twenty-five deputy sheriffs today pleaded not guilty before Superior Court Justice Bergen to charges of murder and assault and battery brought against them in connection with the shooting of the Roosevelt, N. J., strikers January 20.

YEAR FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Paolino Pisker, an Austrian, of 3011 North Bodine street, was sentenced to one year in the County Prison by Judge Little in Quarter Sessions Court today as a result of the death of Thomas Kachanaka, who was struck by a brick thrown by the prisoner.

Girl Baby Brightens Millar Home

Miss Stuart Millar, a little girl, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald B. Millar, at Harrisburg, yesterday.

RAILROAD IN RATE PLEA TELLS OF HIGHER WAGE

Philadelphia and Reading Representatives on Staff in Camden.

Efforts on the part of representatives of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, owners of the Atlantic and Seaboard Railroad, to show that increases in wages to train crews and shorter hours were a large factor in causing the proposed increase in passenger rates, characterized by the resumption of the hearing today in the Camden courthouse.

Superintendent Falck also attempted to show that the company could not work the employees more than 12 hours at the maximum, with eight hours as the limit for the full day.

In the summer months, he declared, extra equipment and rolling stock consumes much of the earnings. Under examination by Attorney Tracy for the commuters, he admitted the stock was really the property of the Reading Company.

DOCTORS PROD COUNCILS

County Medical Society Favors Improvement of Blockley.

The County Medical Society is expected to give its whole support to the plans for the rehabilitation of Blockley, for which Councils has refused so far to appropriate the $1,000,000 voted by the people.

SHOTS FIRED IN CHASE

Policeman and Robber Suspect in Revolver Duel.

Residents in the vicinity of Front and Master streets were awakened from their slumbers today when a dozen or more shots rang out in rapid succession. It was the noise of a revolver duel between Policeman Doherty, one of the crack shots of the force, and one of two strangers, one of whom opened fire on him when he surprised the pair.

FLAMES IN APARTMENTS

Occupants Flee Haverford House in Seamy Attire.

A score of Main Line society folk sheltered in seamy garb on the sidewalk in front of the Haverford Apartments, at Haverford, for 15 minutes early today while flames fought a blaze in the cellar of the house.

CONTRACTING FIRM FAILS

Receiver Appointed for J. E. and A. L. Pennock.

Ira Jewell Williams was today appointed temporary receiver for the contracting firm of J. E. & A. L. Pennock by Judge Thompson in the United States District Court.

NICKEL A DAY FOR A WIFE

A nickel a day and a black eye every week were all Mrs. Fannie Guirio, of 2025 Latona street, got from her husband in the four years of their married life, according to her testimony today before Judge Brown in the Domestic Relations Court.

SHIRT SPECIAL!

4 Madras Shirts made to your measure for $10. All shirts are latest patterns and designs.

BOOK SHOP

1701-1703 Chestnut St. COUNTER, 710 Chestnut St.

EXHIBITS AT DOG SHOW OPENING TODAY

"HAMELOCK GOLDEN" "ARCADELLE TERRIER" "COSCOB KENNELS"

"MARYALLEST WIND" "SCOTTISH TERRIER" "H.B. MARVIN"

DOGS VIE FOR HONORS

Kennel Club's Show for Emergency and Fund Opened.

Society leaders and dog fanciers from many nearby cities thronged the Metropolitan Building, Broad and Wallace streets, for the show of the Kennel Club of Philadelphia which opened at 11 o'clock today and will continue until Saturday evening.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

Sixty-two Girls and Fifty-five Boys Receive Diplomas Today.

Graduation exercises were held today at both the Girls' and Boys' West Philadelphia High Schools.

ARGENTINE SAILORS ON BOARD U. S. SHIPS

Crew of Moreno Quarters on Indiana and Massachusetts.

Sailors of the Argentine Republic, who were sent here to man the battleship Moreno now being completed at the New York Shipbuilding Company, were happy today in their new quarters on board the battleships Indiana and Massachusetts at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

THREE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Car Hits Telegraph Pole and Occupants Go to Hospital.

Three persons are in the Abington hospital today from injuries received last night by being hurled from an automobile which crashed into a telegraph pole near Wynocte.

MARRIED AT ELKTON

Seven Pennsylvania and New Jersey Couples Visit Gettysburg.

DREKA FINE STATIONERS

Invitations for Easter Weddings Correct Styles Engraved by Hand 1121 CHESTNUT STREET

GIRL FORCED TO WED; HER FATHER HOPES HUSBAND WILL DIE

Boardwalk Romance Led to Unhappy Marriage and Man Is Dying of Poison Self-Administered.

"The poor judgment that most girls show in the men that they allow to see them and the men that they marry, together with the racial quality which some fellows manage to wear under the mask of a suave and fascinating manner, is responsible for my daughter's predicament today."

Brokenly and dejectedly and showing the traces of the terrible strain under which he has been working for the last months, John B. Wright, the gray-haired father of Mrs. Frank E. Handley, told the story this morning of his daughter's tragic marriage which reached its climax at City Hall last night when Frank Handley, arrested on the charge of threatening his wife after he had forced her to marry him, took enough poison to kill several men, because he said she would have nothing to do with him.

"The man who lies at Hahnemann Hospital and who is my daughter's husband—though in name only," said he grimly, "has no more love for her than a stone wall. Long before she married him and ever since then—it took place last October—he has been bounding her day and night for money."

"Not a minute's peace has she had. My daughter has a good position downtown and he has been importuning her at her office to such an extent that her means of livelihood was imperiled. He has come to our house and I have had to kick him out. Once he said that if the girl would give him enough money to take him to South America he would cease his annoyance. Like a foolish girl, half hypnotized, she gave it to him, but he only became insatiable for more."

"I did not know of this in the beginning, but finally his threats became so alarming that the girl was almost prostrated. I then became aware of what was going on, and we decided that the only thing to do was to have him arrested."

"It was simply another one of those Atlantic City romances. My daughter met the fellow at the shore, and despite the fact that such a type as he would be repulsive to men, he exerted a curious influence over women. Women don't see through men like that, and, though she got over her infatuation, my daughter was afraid not to marry him when he threatened to kill her and to use his influence to make me lose my position."

THOMAS WILL CONTESTED

Physician Testifies Aged Woman Had Softening of the Brain.

Dr. James B. Longshore, 3150 North Broad street, testified today before the Register of Wills that in his opinion Miss Mary C. Thomas, who died at 1508 Green street, on January 3, leaving an estate of $51,000, was not capable of reasoning sufficiently to make a testamentary disposition of her property.

HAYMAKERS' PETITION FAILS

Court Refuses to Charter State Organization.

A petition for a charter under the title of the State Haymakers' Association of Pennsylvania was refused today by Court of Common Pleas No. 6. The Court contended there was no existence of a body known as the State Haymakers' Association of Pennsylvania, incorporated March 15, 1903, which derives authority from and is subordinate to the National Haymakers' Association of the United States.

GAS CASE TO BE REOPENED

South Jersey Concern Wants Court to Revoke State Board's Order.

The fight for cheaper gas in South Jersey will be renewed February 23, when the New Jersey Gas Company will ask the Court of Errors and Appeals to revoke the ruling of the Public Utilities Commission, which ordered the concern to furnish B gas.

Annual Sale

Dinnerware, Fancy Goods, Glassware, Decorated Plates

Valentines

Of Flowers arranged in these Heart $1.50 up boxes, from

Charles Henry Fox 221 South Broad St.

CONFESSED SLAYER OF EIGHT AGED INMATES MAY GO FREE

District Attorneys Say Evidence Against Mora Is Weak.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Frederic Mora, who confessed that he killed eight aged inmates of the German Odd Fellows' Home, may go free, District Attorneys in the two counties where Mora says he committed the crimes expressed serious doubt today that the former orderly could be convicted.

"Mora declared he used arsenic in the three Bronx cases," said District Attorney Martin, of Bronx County, "but I have learned that physicians had prescribed potassium arsenic for at least one of these three men. Exhumation would show traces of arsenic, but prove nothing."

Mora's statement that he killed five persons in Westchester County with other and chloroform satisfied District Attorney Weeks that little could be gained by digging up the bodies.

FENCIBLES MAY BUY OLD ARMORY

An offer has been made to the city by the Old Guard Fencibles to purchase the site of their armory on Broad street. The Fencibles declare that in the 20 years they have occupied the building they have spent $100,000 in permanent improvements and do not want to lose it.

Fur-lined Overcoats and Persian Lamb Collar Coats

Quilted Satin Lining in a 2-Day Sale

at Extraordinary Prices!

$75 Natural Muskrat-lined Coats for $48

$90 Natural Muskrat-lined Coats for $59

$100 Marmot-lined & Muskrat-lined Coats for $64

$150 Black Muskrat-lined Coats for $96

We will sell these Persian Lamb Collar Coats with quilted satin lining at these reductions:—

$60 Coats for $39

$75 Coats for $49

$95 Coats for $61

Big Bargains in Winter Suits!

Wright, Tyndale & van Roden, Inc. 1212 CHESTNUT STREET

DRINK

The Purest Water in the World The Great Health Giver

Perry & Co., "N.B." 16th & Chestnut Sts.