

FASHION'S FORECAST, BARGAIN HINTS, CLUB NEWS AND COOKERY FOR MAID AND MATRON

How the One Is Mistaken for the Other

If people could only be brought to understand where friendship ends and love begins...

They mistake the mistaken belief that the masculine friendship offered them is really love...

I am a firm believer in friendship between man and woman. Yet a real genuine friendship is not easily found...

Many people completely separate the two feelings, those of friendship and love, as being composed of entirely different materials...

Philosophy

The light of spring On the emerald earth, A man, a maid, And a mood of mirth; A foolish jest, That a smile amends— It took no more To make us friends.

GOWN IN PEACH-COLORED FAILLE

An Attractive Gown

I have just seen a very pretty gown. It was worn by the little Belgian bride and had quite a foreign note about it...

Crepe de chine and the new lines in Georgian crepe are much in vogue. The new combinations in color schemes are very attractive...

THE DAILY STORY

Below Stairs

Evans, the butler, was industriously reading the newspaper out loud. On the other side of the kitchen table, Mortimer, the coachman, was mending his whip.

Thursday, Miss Charlotte. Thanks! "Did you say it was for the grand occasion?" "No, Miss Charlotte. For the coachman's ball."

TOMORROW'S MENU

- BREAKFAST: Prunes, Rice and Cream, Lamb's Liver, Biscuits, Coffee. LUNCHEON OR SUPPER: Macaroni and Cheese, Canned Salmon, Boston Brown Bread, Preserves, Tea. DINNER: Vegetable Soup, Roast Lamb and Potatoes, Cranberries, Nut Salad, Bread Pudding.

Liver—Cover the liver with boiling water and soak for 10 minutes. Then remove the skin, which the hot water has shriveled.

Boston Brown Bread—Two and a half cups of Indian meal, one and a half cups of sweet milk...

Roast Lamb and Potatoes—Fill the cavity left in yesterday's leg of lamb with mashed potatoes and shape nicely.

Fashion Forecast

The Japanese influence in fashions is seen in many of the new gowns. Embroidery in blue, black and white is used...

The flaring skirts are extensively trimmed with outstanding plaited boucans. This gives fullness without being bulky.

A very notable reversion in street gowns is the use of dark blue serge or gadsdine. Girdles of royal purple grosgrain ribbon embroidered in wooden beads are worn with this.

Perhaps the most interesting thing in the fashions this season is the odd way in which the new stocks are worn.

Cotton dresses will be trimmed with Cluny, Valenciennes and flit lace.

Evening wraps in satin are not seen half so frequently as the metallic cloth, velvet and brocaded styles.

White petticoats are undergoing a revolution from the narrow styles of last season. They are accordion plaited, knife-plaited and at least three yards above the bottom.

PRIZE SUGGESTIONS

PRIZES OFFERED DAILY For the following suggestions sent in by readers of the Evening Ledger...

A prize of $1 has been awarded to Mary C. Neely, 2115 Washington street, Wilmington, Del., for the following suggestion: I have a black and white check suit from last season which is still in very good condition...

A prize of 50 cents has been awarded to Dorothy Veet, 1005 Gray's Ferry road, Philadelphia, for the following suggestion: To remove a glass stopper from a bottle when it sticks, I drop a little sweet oil around the stopper and it comes out easily.

A prize of 50 cents has been awarded to M. E. H. Lanerch, Pa., for the following suggestion: When perspiration causes coat lining to discolor white waists of cotton or wash silk, soak discolored part in alcohol from two to four hours, then pour boiling water gradually through stained part. This method will remove the worst stain.

A prize of 50 cents has been awarded to Mrs. A. M. Briggs, 3121 Arch street, for the following suggestion: Fine china and glass may easily be cleaned by using two tablespoonfuls of powdered alum dissolved in a spoonful of boiling water. Place the parts close together and apply quickly, as it hardens very rapidly.

A SIGH It was nothing but a rose I gave her— Nothing but a rose, Any wind might rob of half its savor, Any wind that blows.

When she took it from my trembling fingers With a hand as chill— Ah, the flying touch upon them lingers, Stays, and thrills them still!

Withered, faded, pressed between the pages, Crumpled fold on fold— Once it lay upon her breast, and ages Cannot make it old! —Harriet Prescott Spofford.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION Rare Collection on View at Academy of the Fine Arts.

An exhibition of photographs and surveys of medieval buildings, made by William Henry Goodyear, curator of fine arts in the Brooklyn Museum, will be opened tonight in the lecture hall of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts.

Unanswered I wanted you when skies were red, And now the sky is gray; I thought of you when shadows fled— Now falls the end of day.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

TIRED OF WINTER

"DON'T you think it's about time for spring?" asked a sparrow as he searched for food in the drifted snow.

"No, he crawled out from his hiding place and flew over to the bush."

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN OUTDOOR CAMPAIGN

First Street Corner Meeting Will Be Held in Front of Postoffice, March 10.

Balmy spring days have prompted suffragists in this city to prepare for their annual series of out-of-door meetings.

During the course of the spring, summer and early autumn several hundreds of such meetings are held throughout the city.

"You don't!" exclaimed the bush, "there's the reason! Look at all that!"

"There!" asked the fairy, "that's no reason, that's snow."

"I know it's snow," replied the bush, "but it's a reason, too. I guess if you had been buried under this snow drift as long as I have been, you'd think that snow was a reason for asking about spring."

"What now?" questioned the bush, "what are you laughing at?"
