

Evening Illustrated Ledger

THURSDAY

March 18, 1915

PERSONS AND SCENES THAT FIGURE IN THE DAY'S NEWS AS RECORDED BY THE PHOTOGRAPHER

MISS WALLIS WARFIELD

Baltimore girl with many friends in Philadelphia, who has been a house guest at the home of Major General Barnett, of the Marine Corps, in Washington. She has been much entertained at the capital.

Photo by International News Service.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR KEEPS IN TRIM BY BOXING

Left to right—Governor Carlson, State Representative F. H. Spencer, referee, and Young Hector, a Denver heavyweight. The big boss of Colorado began boxing after recovering from a recent attack of pneumonia, and now five or six rounds is part of his daily program.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.

THE QUEEN OF GREECE

She is a sister of the Kaiser and as such may soon be compelled to cheer on the soldiers of her kingdom as they march out to battle on the side of the Allies against the hosts of Germany and Turkey.

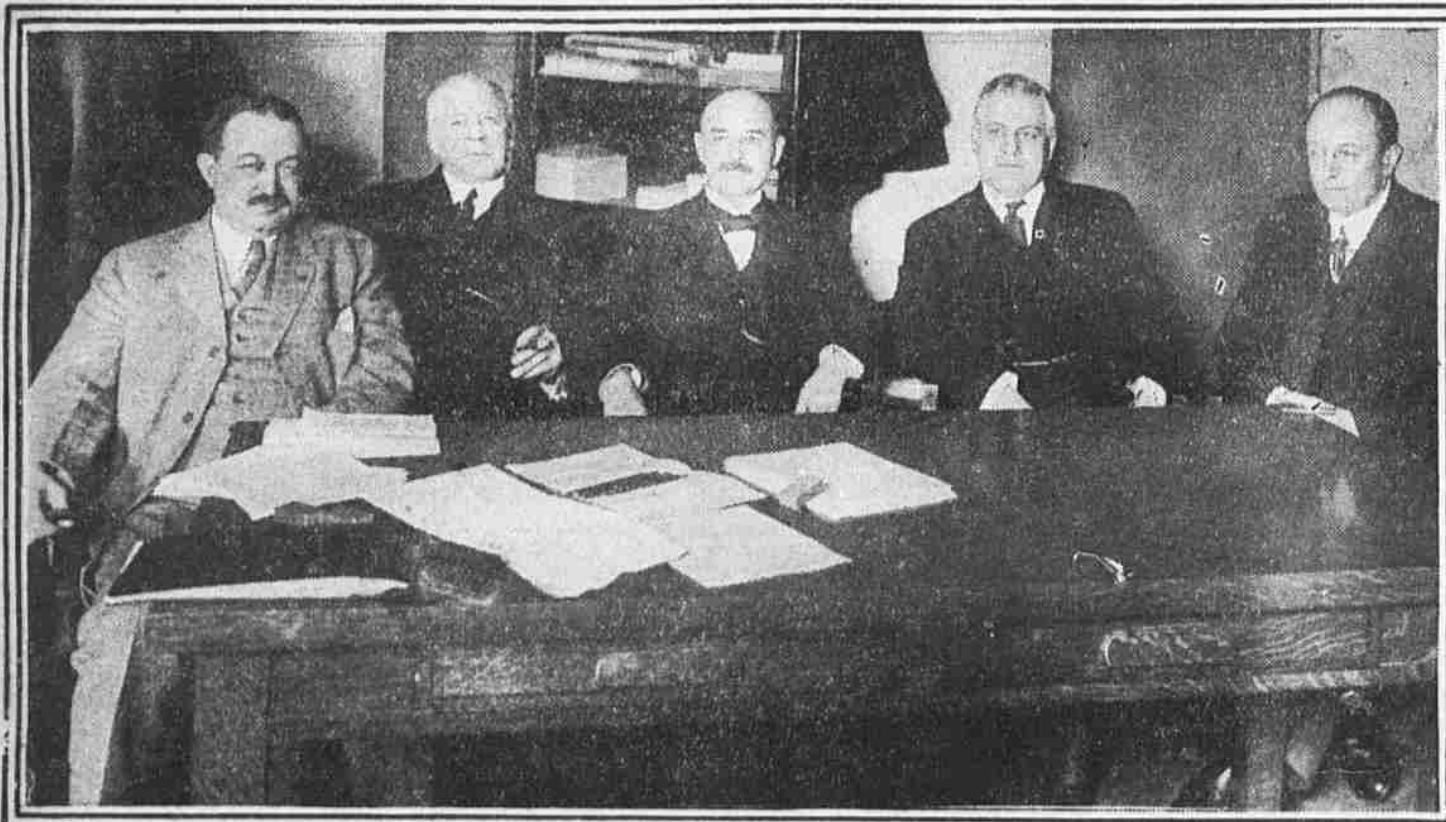

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.

THEY WILL RUN THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

Members of the Executive Campaign Committee of the Democratic National Committee, who met in Washington recently and discussed campaign plans with the President. From right to left—Homer S. Cummings, of Connecticut; A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee; Cato Sells, of Texas; Fred B. Lynch, of Minnesota, and Thomas J. Pence, noted publicity man of the committee.

Photo by International News Service.

ZEPPELIN WRECKED ON DANISH COAST

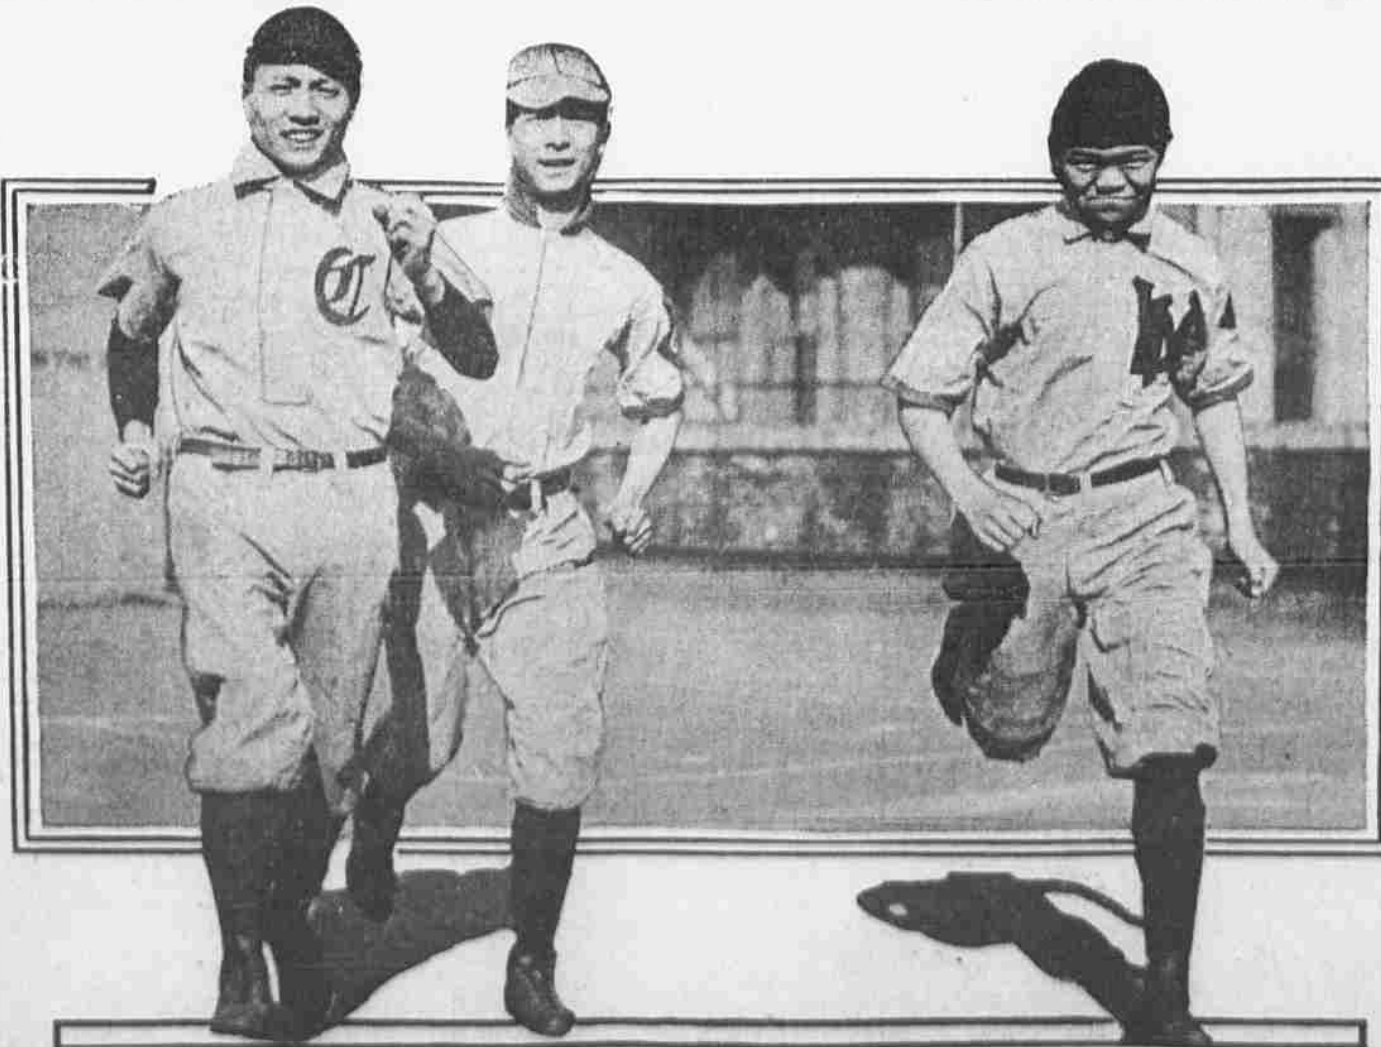

These are the remains of a big air vessel which caught fire and was destroyed in the course of a flight toward England. The Danish Government melted down the metal of the frame and will hold it until after the war ends. The crew of the craft landed safely and burned what remained of the equipment. They then gave themselves up to the interned. Peasants and tourists came in crowds to see the prostrate monster.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.

ORCHID GROWING IN HUMAN SKULL

An exhibit at the International Flower Show at Grand Central Palace, New York. The skull is that of an old tribal chief of the Philippine Islands, who was murdered years ago by Guano, a Sarango chief.

PHILADELPHIA'S CHINESE BALL PLAYERS

These three youngsters are Fulton Hung Yung, Harry Chuck Lee and John Paul Li. They are out for the Brown Preparatory School baseball team and are enthusiastic over the game. Fulton Hung Yung is the son of Shang Him Yung, Director General of the Chinese national railroads, who is a graduate of Yale. His father was captain in the Chinese navy during the Japanese-Chinese War and after the naval battle of the Yalu he was made commodore.

THE DADDY OF THE MODERN PIPE

This ancient pipe is on exhibition at Ostrow's cigar store, 703 Chestnut street. It is believed to have been the original pipe from which Sir Walter Raleigh got his first pull of the Virginia weed.