NORTH PHILLY NINE ADMITTED TO CIRCUIT

Suburban League Officials Decide to Retain Six-Club League This Year.

After a three hours' deliberation the directors and managers of the Philadelphia Suburban League last night decided to retain a six-club circuit for 1915. Jenkintown, one of the best baseball towns of the northern suburbs, and Olney, 1913 champions of the league, were forced to withdraw their franchises on account of being unable to secure grounds. Three applications were made for mem-

Three applications were made for membership in the league, which caused a lengthy discussion as to the advisability of making a six or an eight-club circuit. The applications were made by North Fhiladelphia, Chestnut Hill and Roxborcuigh. It was finally decided that the league should be composed of six clubs and that North Philadelphia should be admitted.

MURRAY WILLING TO BATTLE WILLIAMS

Manager Harry Lenny Would Insist Upon 116-pound Ringside, However, in Next Fight.

Harry Lenny, who handles Jimmy Murray and other well-known fighters, was a caller at the Evening Lepour office today and declared his boy was not matched to fight Kid Williams, the world's bantamweight champion, April Drug League Team Outrolls 12. Lenny says he is willing to permit Murray to again battle the champion. To show that the tocal fighter has the "stuff," he will agree to a six-round fight here, if Harris will grant him the privihere, if Harris will grant him the privi-lege of battling in Baltimore or at any other place at 15 or 20 rounds.

Lenny stated this afternoon: "Williams is not matched with Murray, but the battle can be arranged. I will agree to a match with Williams at even weight—that is, at 118 pounds. I will not again agree to catchweights. The last time we fought Williams, Murray had to do 116 while the champion came in at catch-weights. To show how interested I am in the aght for the title, I will pay $500 to Harris the day he signs with Murray at 15 or 20 rounds. my ne signs with about the fries hard enough in six rounds here, but is at his best ever the 10 and 15 round routes. In his fight with Tender last night Murray found one of those slashing, rip-tearing sort of little puglists who is well suited to the short distance, but who would probably have a different proposition to face over the long run.

Barney Schneider, 112, is a likely looking youngster in Lenny's stable, who would be literally tickled to death to meet Lew Tender for the newsboys' title. Schneider halls from Boston.

Charley Thomas, local tough boy, is tickled with his chance to again demonstrate his punch-proof law against a knockout artist's wallops. Cholly met Charley White at the Olympia. Monday night, "Kilbane couldn't knock me out," says Thomas, "so where does

Frank Muller, long connected with the esper Boat Club, will handle the coachng reins this year, and will endeavor to duplicate Harry de Baecke's feat of landing a winning junior eight at the Navy Day Regatta.

Definecke will not be able to give the Vesper Deflaceke will not be able to give the Vesper aramen life attention this year, owing to his susiness, and while Muller is not so widely known as Deflaceke his long experience and the help of his brother officers will no doubt result in the development of winning crows. Muller is 32 years old and began rowing with the February Rowing Association, being a Captain Zilenziger in First member of the winning junior eight-oared member of the winning junior eight-oared crew in the July 4, 1960, regatta. Since joining the Vespers five years ago Multer has had a very successful career, rowing how on the famous senior four-oared shell crew which took the measure of many United States and Canadian crews, and were known to the rowing fraternity as the "flig Four. With the Vespers Multer has won 15 races. The Vespers Multer has won 15 races. The Vespers durier has won 15 races. The vesper Club's junior material this year consists of about 40 men, over half of whom are new this year, and are working out three times a week on the machines in the club-house. Anong the most prominent are Riggs, Pippin, Wilkins, Lowire, Hauman, Wilkins, Lowire, Hauman et Riggs, Evers, Bater, Bowman, Engle, Coney, Cabill, Merris, Severin and most of last years junior octopeds.

Morris, Severin and most of last year's juntor octopeds.

The intermediate eight, strengthened by Hob Arms, former stroke of Fenn Harge Club, will start training for early regarts on Sunday next, but the outlook for a senior eight is poor. Muller expects to keep the Vespers at the top, as in former years.

Crement Hoat Club plans to begin rowing practice on the Schuykill next Thursday. Crant Alarman and his candidates for the junior eight-oared shell crew, as well as other crews which will compete in the senior eight-oared shell crew, as well as other satta, will launch their shell early that evening from the clubhouse in Fairmout Farh. Creacents are anxious to turn out a winning former Vesper caraman and coach to develop its candidates.

The Yale-Harvard varsity eight-oared race will be rowed upstream on the Thames River. New London, between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Friday, June 25, according to an announcement yesterday by F. V. Chappell, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

Manager Herzog, of the Cincinnati Reds, is undecided as to the thai make-up of his team. He is trying all sorts of experiments with the idea of procuring the best combination of hit ters and fielders. Mollwitz seems to be a fixture on first base, and Herzog says he will cover shortstop himself. At present he is playing Heinie Grob on third base in order to try out Olson, the former Cleveland player, at the keystone bag. If Olson does not come un to the mark Grob will go back to second base and You Koinita will guard the third corner. Herzog also is puzzling also have tracked in selecting his best outfield. Leach will cover centurely but for the left milling arriens Herzog will let Killifer, Wingo, Twombley and Griffith fight it out right up to the last week of the exhibition season.
