

DETECTIVE'S SLAYER CAPTURED

JACOB MILLER, WHO KILLED ONE DETECTIVE AND SHOT ANOTHER, UNDER ARREST

GLAD HE KILLED MANEELY, SAYS YOUNG MILLER

Police Pounce on Murderer at Torresdale After All-Night Search.

Faces Detective Captain With Bravado—Says He Hopes Man He Wounded Will Die, and Declares He Had Expected to Kill Others.

Twenty-one-Year-Old Desperado, After the Murder, Bought Drinks for Strangers and Read of His Crime in Newspapers—Forced Man to Exchange Clothes.

A slim, sallow-cheeked youth, not yet 22 years of age, but with a record of three escapes from reformatory institutions and one burglary, stood before Captain of Detectives Cameron today and gloated over the death of Detective James Maneely by his hand and the fact that he had fatally wounded Detective Harry E. Tucker.

"Yes, I plugged them," he said with an air of bravado, glancing around Captain Cameron's office, which was being draped in mourning at the moment by a squad of attendants. "I croaked that bull (criminal arrot for policeman), and I hope that the other one passes out, too. You can give me what you got for me quick. I would have croaked some more at you only I didn't have no more cartridges."

The youth was Jacob Miller, known recently to the police as "Dogie." He was taken to City Hall at noon, manacled to Detectives Ulrich and Hodge, a short time after submitting to arrest without a struggle. Surrounded on every side and with every avenue of escape from the city cut off, he admitted his identity to the detectives when they pounced upon him on the platform of Torresdale station.

Shaking the handcuffs which bound his wrists to his captors he made a show of playing around at the shocked detectives who have seen plunged into grief over the murder of their colleague. He asked repeatedly for a cigarette.

"It is just as predicted," said Captain Cameron, sadly. "Take his up to the Episcopal Hospital and see if poor Harry Tucker can identify him."

"I blame parents for crimes of this sort. But this fellow's father and mother are dead."

Captain Cameron became silent as the young desperado was led to a waiting automobile and hurried to the bedside of his other victim at the hospital, where he subsequently was identified by Tucker.

TUCKER IDENTIFIES MILLER.

There was a dramatic scene at the Episcopal Hospital when the murderer, handcuffed to Detectives Hodge and Ulrich,

THE WEATHER

CLOUDY

It's easy enough to be pleasant when life rolls by like a song, but the man worth while is the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong.

Which, if not exactly what the bard said, is what she meant. The point is that just because today is not quite up to the standard of some others we have had lately, a real man or woman won't set down in the mouth about it. A thing can never be so nice but that something less so does not heighten the appreciation of it. Thus, while eggs benedictine is our idea of a perfect breakfast, we do eat two plain, boiled four minutes, ever so often. Tomorrow is likely to be a splendid day, but how much more so after a today just a shade off standard!

MY HERO! CRIES GIRL, PROUD TO WED MAN WHO KIDNAPPED HER

Addolorata, Flower of Abruzzo and Little Italy, Marries Salvatore Fasconi, "the Knight in a Taxicab."

This love song was lifting in the Italian heart of Addolorata Merclara, of 1215 South 11th street, when she stood beside "her hero," Salvatore Fasconi, before Magistrate Carson at Central Station today and became his bride. The thought of this tender song shone from the depths of her black Italian eyes and some of its haunting melody was in her soft voice as she shyly murmured the responses in the marriage ceremony.

Salvatore is the man who kidnapped her in a taxicab with all the primal ruthlessness of an Italian bandit. He is the man who took her by brute force when, in the belief that he was already married, she spurned his love. By this kind of love-making he became her hero and captured her heart again.

It made no difference to Addolorata that her captor came from a narrow steel and concrete cell at City Hall to marry her. He was put in that cell because in whisking her away from this city to Chester in an automobile he had broken the law. He got out because, in breaking the law he had won the love of Addolorata, and she refused to prosecute him. So the law had to stand aside while an arm of the law, Magistrate Carson, married them.

TWO INTERPRETERS NEEDED.

Two interpreters were needed for the ceremony, the first man being able to translate but half the conversation of Salvatore and his bride. When the second was called in everything went smoothly. Salvatore wore a toothpick in his mouth to show he was not nervous.

"Will you obey this man?" asked the Magistrate.

Addolorata laughed outright so merrily that everybody else in the hearing room joined in with her.

"All right," she said.

The Magistrate then turned to Salvatore and asked, "Will you take this woman as your lawful wife?" Salvatore

INVENTOR FALLS DEAD

Joseph B. Levy, inventor of the photo-engraving camera, dropped dead from heart disease in the office of Dr. Joseph P. Katzenstein, 1215 North Broad street, late last night. He had gone to the physician's office for treatment after attending a meeting of a photographic society.

Mr. Levy, who lived at 1409 North 18th street, perfected the photo-engraving camera in Europe in 1902, and established a factory at 1429 North 21st street in the same year. He was born in Stienowitz, Bohemia, March 6, 1861, and came to this country in 1884. He is survived by two brothers and three sisters, Elizabeth, Julia, Louis Edward and Max Levy, of this city, and Mrs. Rose Newburger, of Chicago. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday by the Rev. Leon H. Elmshel, of the Mikveh Israel Synagogue. Burial will be in Mount Sinai Cemetery.

VACCINATE 6000 IN MILLVILLE FIGHT ON SMALLPOX TODAY

Authorities Push Battle on Epidemic in Surrounding Towns in Effort to Stamp Out Further Spread of Disease.

MILLVILLE, N. J., March 25.—Six thousand workmen will be vaccinated or forced to remain in quarantine at their homes today as part of the fight being made by the health authorities here on the smallpox epidemic. David C. Bowen, chief sanitary inspector of the State Board of Health, made an announcement to this effect, following a visit to all the factories in the city.

Telegrams were received today by Mayor Harry J. Geig and Dr. John W. Wade, head of the local Board of Health, from Dr. A. A. Cairns, Chief Medical Inspector of Philadelphia. Doctor Cairns wants the name and address of every resident of Millville employed in Philadelphia, the address of his place of employment and details as to whether he has come in contact with smallpox patients.

The quarantine precautions may be extended today to Mey's Landing, Vineland, Mauriceport, Bridgeton and other towns. Bowen will investigate reports that cases of the disease have been found in those places this afternoon.

A basketball game scheduled for tonight between the St. Elizabeth team of Philadelphia, and a local five has been called off. All the physicians in the town will meet this afternoon to plan further measures to suppress the disease.

Health authorities at Williamsport have refused to permit the body of Mrs. M.

YEGGMEN SMASH SAFE

Use Sledge Hammer and Crowbar to Reach $19.

A sledge hammer and a crowbar were used by yeggmans who operated successfully on a safe early today in the wallpaper establishment of Isaac Ivy, 808 South 3d street. The thieves dragged the safe through a long hallway to a shed in the rear of the store.

After several hours' hard work the intruders got $19 for their trouble. The Ivy establishment is a block away from the 2d and Christian streets police station.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Negro, Convicted at Media, Sentenced to 23 Months in Prison.

MEDIA, Pa., March 25.—Morris Lawrence, a Negro, was found guilty today of involuntary manslaughter for killing William Locks in Chester last December. He was sentenced to no less than 23 months or more than 24 months in the Eastern Penitentiary.

Lawrence shot Locks after a fight at a "runk stew" at the home of Hester Davis in Chester.

SUBMARINE CREW PROBABLY CRUSHED AT OCEAN BOTTOM

Hope to Raise F-4 Virtually Abandoned—Believe Pressure of Water Fatal to Craft—Electrician of Boat Sole Survivor.

HONOLULU, March 25.—After hours of diving and grappling, hope was virtually abandoned today of rescuing alive the crew of the submarine F-4.

James Hoggett, electrician, was on shore leave when the ship submerged for what is now believed to have been its last time, and he is the only member of the crew known to have escaped.

Messages from the scene of activity at the entrance to the local harbor said that two vessels reported their grapplers had caught fast on something and it was believed that the supreme effort to smash the Turkish fortifications at the Narrows of the Dardanelles is in full swing.

A Tenedos dispatch reports that 25,000 French troops have been landed on the coast of Asia Minor to attack Smyrna from the land side. These troops are believed to be part of the expedition commanded by General d'Amade. The latest attack upon the Dardanelles is said to have opened at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. One of the dispatches states that two battleships entered the straits at that hour and bombarded Fort Kallid-Hahr until darkness fell, then withdrawing and returning to the attack early today, with several other warships.

The fire of the warships met an energetic reply from the forts.

TWO PHILADELPHIANS HURT IN RAILROAD WRECK

Passenger and Freight Trains in Collision on Baltimore and Ohio.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 25.—Several passengers were injured when passenger train No. 37, westbound, on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio, was sidetracked by a freight train at Williams Station, near Meyersdale, Pa., today. Two passenger cars were wrecked and several freight cars damaged. The seriously injured are:

MRS. J. H. WHITE, Philadelphia, cut above eye, nose broken and probably internally injured.

MRS. STEEL SIMPSON, Baltimore, Md., bruised about the body.

W. W. SIMPSON, Baltimore, Md., bruised and cut.

M. B. COFFEY, Cumberland, Md., badly bruised and suffering from shock.

J. J. NEAL, Philadelphia, bruised and cut.

Traffic in both directions was blocked for some time by the wreckage. The freight train is said to have been just pulling onto a siding when the passenger train reached the point where the trains were to pass.

TURKS WANT PEACE, BREAK WITH KAISER, REPORTED IN ATHENS

Field Marshal Von der Goltz Leaves for Germany as Fleet Again Smashes at Dardanelles Forts in Supreme Effort.

ATHENS, March 25.

Athens newspapers publish today what they declare are "reliable private advices from Constantinople," stating that the Turkish Government has broken with its German advisers and is going to sue for peace. They assert that Field Marshal von der Goltz has already left for Sofia on his way to Germany and that General Liman von Sanders has gone to Odrianople.

Another great duel between the Anglo-French fleet and the Turkish forts on the Dardanelles has opened, say dispatches received at Athens today.

The gale which for several days prevented operations by the main forces of the Allies has completely ceased and it is believed that the supreme effort to smash the Turkish fortifications at the Narrows of the Dardanelles is in full swing.

A Tenedos dispatch reports that 25,000 French troops have been landed on the coast of Asia Minor to attack Smyrna from the land side. AUSTRIA REFUSES TO CEDE ITALY'S ANCIENT PROVINCES; WAR ALMOST CERTAIN NOW

Germany's Plan Rejected by Dual Monarchy—Rome Limits Tourists and Prepares to Censor Telegraph and Mails—Army and Navy Ready to Strike at Moment's Notice.

ROME, March 25.

Negotiations for the cession of Austrian territory to Italy are reported to have been broken off and Italian intervention in the war is believed to be imminent.

An attaché to the French Embassy stated today that it had been learned that Austria had rejected the proposals made by Germany that the Dual Monarchy should surrender all its Italian provinces.

The Government has forbidden the issuing of passes permitting tourists to visit its military and naval bases, and preparations have been made to impose the strictest censorship over all telegraph and mail service.

A statement in the Messaggero, regarded as the most reliable source of news in the present European situation, taken in conjunction with the increased military preparations, is accepted generally as presumptive evidence that Italy is approaching a moment when she is determined to pass from negotiations to action.

Officially nothing has been made known of the policy of the Government beyond the reiterated announcement that Italy must be prepared for eventualities. But the military preparations have been on a most extensive scale, and if a blow is to be struck both army and navy are in a position to strike quickly.

Everything is in readiness for a general mobilization of the Italian army. Seven complete classes are already under the colors.

The departure of Austrian and German families is reported from all parts of Italy. It is estimated that about 3000 persons of these nationalities have left Rome. Trains from Milan and Venice to the frontier are filled with Germans and Austrians, and large numbers of Hungarians have left Venice by steamer for Trieste.

FLAMES IMPERIL ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH

Fire in Parish House at 42d Street and Baltimore Avenue Causes $3000 Loss.

A stubborn fire that threatened St. Philip's Episcopal Church, at 42d street and Baltimore avenue, today, was extinguished in the parish house of the church after it had done $3000 damage. The pipe organ was spared, although the flames ate their way on both sides of it when the cloister connecting the parish house and church communicated the flames to the church.

Smoke pouring from the windows of the stone parish house at 4115 Baltimore avenue was discovered by Policeman McIntyre, of the 32d street and Woodland avenue station, who turned in an alarm. Engine companies Nos. 57, 54, 47, 15 and 44, and Truck No. 13 responded. Heavy streams of water beat the flames back into the basement, where they originated, and the blazing cloister was drenched with water. The greatest damage was done on the first floor, in the rooms of the Music Association, which contained several billiard tables. The furnishings and interior were destroyed and smoke and water did damage on the second floor.

The fire was caused by sparks from the furnace. It is thought by the Rev. C. W. Blapham, rector of the church.

BRIDGE OVER SCHUYLKILL AT 34TH STREET ASKED

Downtown Business Men Want Access to Boulevard.

A delegation from the 36th Ward Improvement Association called today on Director Cooke, of the Department of Public Works, to advocate the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill River connecting 34th street with University avenue, and providing a direct route from West Philadelphia to the South Broad Street Boulevard.

Director Cooke informed the delegation that he would confer immediately with Chief Webster, of the Survey Bureau, on the bridge project.

The delegation included the Rev. James F. Halohan, of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church; David Patchell, Common Councilman Robert Smith and Emil Guenther.

JAP PREMIER MAY GO OUT

Latest Election Results Surprise Count Okuma.

TOKIO, March 25.—Latest returns in the general election today upset the calculations of the Premier, Count Okuma, and indicated that his contention that his policy had been fully endorsed was at fault. The minority independent party will probably hold the balance of power in the Diet. The first vote may result in a Government defeat, and in that case the Cabinet will resign.

Because of storms in some districts voting had to be postponed, and until they are heard from no accurate estimate of the parties' strength can be made.

Trusted Employee Accused of Theft

John Maloney, 2 Spooner court, 1113 North American street, a trusted employee of the Aranson Tool Company, Thompson and Elkhart streets, was accused today of stealing more than $100 worth of tools used in the manufacture of hoisting machines. He was held in $500 bail for a further hearing April 8 by Magistrate Campbell, of the Belgrade and Chestnut streets station. Constable John Marks arrested him on a warrant.

$40,000 FIRE SWEEPS DOWNTOWN BUILDING

Franklin Street Structure Burns in Early Morning Blaze.

A $40,000 fire swept through the top floor of the five-story loft building at 108, 110 and 112 North Franklin street at 4 o'clock this morning and gave firemen a hard two hours' fight before they got it under control. No one was injured.

The blaze was discovered by pedestrians. Two alarms were sent in and all the engine companies in the fire zone responded. They found the top floor blazing fiercely. This is occupied by the Labella Brauser Company, officers of which declare their loss to be $20,000.

The third and fourth floors of the building were vacant. The second floor is occupied by Lindenmoore & Goldberg, hat-makers, whose loss is estimated at $10,000, and the first floor by the French Button Works, who also lost $10,000. The damage in the lower floors was caused mostly by water, as firemen prevented the spread of the flames.

Firemen fought the blaze from the roofs of adjoining buildings for the first hour and also managed to get on the roof of the burning structure. They then were able to go up through the loft building, and quickly extinguished the blaze. So far the origin has not been learned.

"PEEPER" GIVEN $100 FINE

Philadelphia Is Caught Under Boardwalk at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 25.—Determination to stop prowling under the boardwalk while the season is young, caused Recorder Gaskill today to impose a fine of $100 on Jesse Hogan, a Philadelphian. The police charged him with "being a peeping Jack."

"This thing must stop," said the court, in imposing sentence.

Hogan gasped and was led back to a cell.

The name of Jesse Hogan does not appear in the city directory.

CIGARETTE IGNITES HER BED

Negro Woman Probably Fatally Burned Early This Morning.

Sara Sinkfield, 23 years old, a negro woman living at 1708 Norwood street, probably will die as the result of burns received when her bed caught fire early this morning from a lighted cigarette which she laid beside it when she went to sleep.

Policemen passing heard her screams and, breaking open the door, found her enveloped in flames on the third floor. They beat out the fire with their hands and took her to St. Joseph's Hospital. Doctors there say she cannot recover.

The Kensingtonian Says: Harry Daiske is a frequent visitor out to the Falls of Schuylkill these days. Miss Helen Cassidy, we believe, lives out that way.
