JONAH STORY TOLD AS PARABLE, SAYS TYSON

Speaker at Lenten Service in Theatre Opposes Literal Interpretation.

Modern Christians are not expected to Modern Christians are not expected to believe that Jonah actually lived three days in the stomach of a whale, as set forth in the Old Testament, in the opinion of the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, former professor of theology at the University of the South, who spoke today at the Length of the Carrier Theorem. the South, who spoke today at the Len-ten service in the Garrick Theatre. The speaker held that this was a parable written to answer a need of the times, and was chronicled in the form most acceptable to the mental stature of the peo-ple who lived at the time of the much-ple who lived at the time of the much-disputed incident.

Dector Tyson took for his text, "Put all things to the proof and hold fast to that which is good," from St. Paul's Epistle to the Thessalonians. He said that the parables in the Old Testament should be read in the light of modern knowledge and a leason drawn from most of the unusual happenings which are de-scribed.

He said that God sent Jonah to Nineveh to demonstrate to the Jews that the Al-mighty desired the salvation of the Habymighty desired the salvation of the Haby-lenians as well as of His chosen people. The story of Jonah's shipwreck and sub-sequent life for three days within the whale was simply used by the ancient chronicler. Doctor Tyson said, because that was "the most attractive way to present it to the people of the times."
"All the parables in the Old Testa-ment." he said, "are not to be believed literally. Lessons must be drawn from them and the truth separated from the them and the truth separated from the parable. Just as a man who had received a basket of fruit would eat the fruit and not the basket, so Christians should read

MUNCIE, IND., EXPECTS NEW MUNICIPAL SCANDALS

Arrest of Mayor and Other Officials Believed to Be a Prelude.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 2.-Following the arrest of Mayor Rollin H. Bunch, Chief of Police W. H. McIlivane, Deputy Pros-ecutor Gene Williams and Herbert S. Maddy, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, on the charge of soliciting and accepting bribes, the public was anxiously awaiting another promised sensa-tion which it was said would be still greater. The Grand Jury is still grinding

Arrest of the four officials is the result of several weeks' investigation by the Grand Jury, with W. A. Thompson as special prosecutor. Evidence against the officials was given by Lloyd Yount, who said he was given the "slot machine privileges" in Muncle and that later he was "double-crossed" and the privilege taken away from him. Charges against Mayor Bunch and Williams were filed several weeks ago on the strength of Yount's

In the Census Bureau such figures are based on the difference in population in 1900 and 1910. By that system of computation the country would contain 100,399,-215 persons on July 1, 1915, and more than 108,000,000 on July 1, 1920. By the census estimates the population of all the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, would be 110,750,000 on July 1 of this year.

Thanks to the Pope's patriotism, the most distressing and apparently unsolvable question, that of the diplomats accredited to the Vatican, has been solved in a way which will insure for Pope Ben-edict XV the eternal gratitude of the nation. In case of war the Pope has of-fered to ask for the recall of those diplo-mats belonging to the nation against mats belonging to the nation against which Italy would be compelled to march. On its part the Government will permit the Vatican State Chancellery to communicate with the warring nations through the neutral embassies entrusted with the protection of Italian interests.

The position in which the Vatican would find itself in case of Italy's intervention in the war was another of the difficult questions which required a so-difficult questions which required a so-lution satisfactory to both parties. The Vatican firmly stated that it would not submit to any restriction of its freedom of communications, and that any act on the part of the Italian Government to cur-tall its liberty would be followed by atrong protests to the European Governments.

Now, however, Catholic circles say that the order, issued to the clergy to give their full support to the civil authorities and work in harmony with the sovernment organs justifies the belief that the foundations for a solution of the Roman question have already been laid.

What this solution is is not yet known, but the impression prevails that a revision of the guaranty law, which now governs the relations between the Church and the State, already has been undertaken. It is believed that the changes to be made in the original laws, while defining more accurately the status of the Holy See in Italy, will also increase the range of its freedom in its international range of its freedom in its international relations, thus rendering it more inde-pendent of outside interference.

JAPAN REASSURES U. S. ON CHINESE DEMANDS

"Open Door" Treaties Are Being Observed.

WASHINGTON, April 2. Japan has assured the United States through Ambassador Guthrie at Tokio that she is scrupulously observing all her existing treaties dealing with China, This assurance is not an answer to the considered by the Japanese Cabinet.

Japan actually was striking at the "open door," the Japanese Government decided to present assurances voluntarily.

Japan and China are on the point of compromising their differences. Japan has yielded, reports said, on several important points, and the negotiations are said to have taken on a more hopeful tone.
