BREAKING OF LENTEN FAST SHOWS CITY'S IMMENSE APPETITE

Food Dealers Estimate $20 000,000 as Price Paid for Easter Feast, of Which $600,000 Was Expended for 25,000,000 Eggs.

Philadelphia broke its Lenten fast with a vengeance. It is doubtful if ever before in its whole life this city got away with so much food as at this Eastertide.

The 40 secular days between Ash Wednesday and yesterday may have been lean ones for the majoirty, but today they are forgotten. Gone is the period of fast and abstinence until next year. With an appetite that would have done credit to an anaconda, such quantities of eggs, poultry, spring lamb, meats and new green vegetables were consumed as almost to defy calculation.

Virtually $2,000,000 changed hands in Philadelphia's determination to colebrate royally the feast day. According to the wholesale food magnates, tons upon tons of foodstuffs, amounting to that value, came into the city for the Easter consumption, and by this morning it was all disposed of. Six hundred thousand dollars is the estimate put on the egg business alone of the last three days, with $500,000 following eleasely as the approximate figure for the positry sold.

These are the figures quoted by a leading wholesale dealer in eggs, chickens and game. Basing his estimates on figures taken from his own sales, he declared that no fewer than 25,000,000 eggs were sold from Friday to Saturday night. HENS MAKE A RECORD.

"The hens seem to have made a special effort," he said, "just to provide Philadelphia with the 'fruit," and eggs. as a matter of fact, have never been cheaper. "Poultry, on the other hand, has been a little higher than usual, due to the fact that the Jewish Passover preceded Easter. Whenever that happens, Easter's supply of chickens and other fowls is al-ways depleted, and therefore the price is somewhat inflated."

somewhat inflated."

Offhand, 25,000,000 eggs seem almost an Inconceivable amount for even a city of more than a million and a half population to consume in a few days, but when the dyed eggs and the small boys' "pick-tee" are taken into consideration, to say sething of the quota required for the nothing of the quota required for the large quarts of eggnog, without which no Philadelphia Easter seems complete, it is not difficult to comprehend how they were disposed of.

VAST MEAT CONSUMPTION. A representative of one of the largest meat firms in the world valued the Easter meat consumption at $270,000. With paper and pencil he calculated that 1,800,paper and pencil he calculated that 1,800,-900 pounds of beaf were sold in Philadel-phia and its environs in the last three days, the value of which was $270,000; 1,400,000 pounds of smoked means, at $203,000; 250,000 pounds of fresh pork, at $37,000; 200,000 pounds of lamb and mutton, at $60,000.

"Spring lamb," said be, "has becom one of the most popular Easter meats, but it is still a delicacy, and the majority of people are constrained to buy what is cheapest, that being beef and the smoked meats. However, the lamb figures are a good estimate of a return of a prosperous era."

E. K. Woodoth, a member of the firm of Woodoth & Co., wholesale produce dealers, figured out that this city and its suburbs got rid of $106.825 for Venetables and fruits. "Tons upon tons of Southern stuff have been expressed here for Easter," said he, "to augment the local products. Peas, beans and strawberries all the way from Florida and asparagus from as far distant as California.

"Lettuce and celery probably bring in the biggest business at this season, and prices this year are no higher than pre-

In view of the above quotations of the gargantuan quantities consumed yester-day, a prominent druggist was asked if the sale of pensin and digestive tablets had been correspondingly great. But he only smiled with the lazy grin of a well-fed man and replied that he didn't have the animation to figure it out. the animation to figure it out.

Send Supplies for Poor in France A bundle of supplies has been sent to me of the poor hospitals in Brittany by he members of the Women's Army and Navy Relief of the 22d Ward Cormantow which holds its meeting in the museum of the Sits and Relic Society, in Vernen Park. The donations were sent through the Rev. Samuel W. Watson, rector of the American Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris.
