BILLY SUNDAY STIRS PATERSON OFFICIALS AGAINST RUM SHOPS

Prosecutor Vows to End Saloon Abuses - Evangelist's Forces Attack Drinking Lairs of Industrial District.

PATERSON, N. J., April 3.—Stirred into activity by "Billy" Sunday's attacks on um and the rum interests, Michael Dum, prosecutor of Passale County, said this morning that he was going to go hammer and tongs after the scores violat-100 saloons, trembled,

"The April Grand Jury," said the prosecter, will be a busy one for township committeemen and constables empowered to enforce the law and who wink at the maintenance of unlicensed places and places that break the Sunday closing law. All I've got to say is, look out, you're lable to indictment.

All I've got to say is, look out, you're lable to indictment.

Lipur conditions were terrible, the prescutor was forced to admit when he fared the fact that hundreds of intoxicated foreigners at the duPont Powder Works revel every week in the shantles near the ammunition factories. Last Sanday, in a drunken row there, three min were nearly killed and 25 offenders who battled with the duPont guards were arrested and fined $25 each.

Right down in the heart of the silk mill district of Paterson went members of the Sanday party early today. They ran a desen prayer and praise meetings among men and women, hundreds of whom did not understand the Lord's Prayer in English. The talks of the speakers, in many cases, were translated into Dutch, Italian and Lithuanian.

It was almost humorous to hear them singing "Brighten the Corner." Except that the tune was something approximating the real thing, one would have never recognized that hymn.

These people are the very ones that are going to hear Frank Tannenbaum, Carlo Treaks, Jim Larkin and Edward Lewis here Tuesday night, when the agitators tell the people to have nothing to do with Willight and his campaign. "Billy" has

"Billy" won the great audience with his famous "Home, Sweet Home" sermon last night, and also with his answer to these persons who have called him a "grafter" because the free will thank offerings he usually receives are large. MAKES THEM LAUGH AND CRY. One moment both men and women were wiping tears from their eyes and the next they were applauding, laughing and happy. When the services had ended hundreds rushed forward to shake "Billy's" hand and give him assurance that they were with him. Sunday answered critics of his financial affairs when urging contributions for the expenses of the campaign. He told the addence that not one penny of the money being received was for himself, but was to be used to defray the expenses, which were Paterson's debt. Then he spoke of the persons who call him a "grafter," and said they were "lars." The audience liked that and showed it with an outburst of applause. He also won the crowd when he informed critics that it was nobody's business that he did with his money. Sunday referred to the big money paid singers, actors and prize fighters, and among other things said: "Caruso gets thousands of dollars every time he sings, and he's worth it; I wish I could sing like be does. But if a preacher gets anything, oh, he's a 'grafter. Why, even Jack Johnson 1020 120,000 just for standing up and being licked in an hour. And I'm not so sure REFUSED "MOVIE" OFFERS. After telling of a few of the big salaries paid to persons in different professions, the evangelist told of the big offers that he had received to go in the "movies," to so the vaudeville stage and to lecture in the Chautauqua circuit.

The offers he named were far in excess of the thank offerings he has received for preaching, and the audience applauded wildly when he said no money could persuade him "to stop preaching for Jesus Christ."

Sunday will not call for converts, in all probability, before the end of next week or the first part of the week following. Mr. Sånday's sermon on "Home, Sweet Home" was printed in the EVENING LEDGER on Friday, January 8.

WEST CHESTER REVIVAL

Tabernacle Ready; Campaign to Open Sunday.

WEST CHESTER, April 9.—The huge labernacie here, in which the Rev. Charles Grant Jordon will conduct services for six weeks, commencing on Sunday after-mon, is completed. The seats were in-salled yesterday. The building is the largest structure in this place, and will accommodate more than 3000 persons in addition to a choir and orchestra of 400 persons. All the churches in the borough, stopp two, are taking a prominent part to the undertaking, and its success is assured.

The services will open Sunday afterness, when the pastors of many churches as well as the members of the choirs will be present to assist the evangelist.

The merchants of the borough have agreed to close their establishments every straining during the campaign.

BUSINESS STEADILY PICKING UP, INVESTIGATORS REPORT

80 of 90 Bank Examiners Declare They Found Improvement.

WASHINGTON, April 9.- In line with the prosperity propaganda, undertaken by the White House through the Department of Commerce, the Secretary of the Treasury yesterday gave out a summary of business conditions as seen by the 90 national bank examiners. Of these 50 report a permanent improvement as being under way. Business conditions throughout the country are showing marked improvement in almost all lines. According to the examiners Maine is said to be the only State where real depression exists.

Pronounced hopefulness is prevalent in nearly every district," says the announcement. "Agricultural conditions are generally excellent, and commercial lines, with comparatively few excepbe the liquor laws. Paterson, with its tions, are enlarging their activities mainly through an increased demand, but in some cases preparation for activity is expected to develop with the coming of good weather. Manufacturing is on the increase and those industries having orders for supplies from foreign countries continue especially active.

"Further orders have been placed for cars and rails by the railroads, and some large contracts have been made from structural iron for large buildings in different portions of the country."

JERSEY SUICIDE'S ESTATE FOR WIDOW 'IF SHE STAYS SINGLE'

Skalla's Will Received by Surrogate in Camden.

The will of Frank Skalla, the Hotel keeper of Berlin, N. J., who committed suicide in his orchard early yesterday morning, was received by Surrogate Surrogate Reeves in Camden by mail this morning, proving the assertion that Skalla had premeditated suicide for several days. The document was mailed on Wednesday night. Skalla leaves real estate valued at $15,000.

According to the provisions of the will, Mrs. Skalia will receive $4 a week as long as she lives on the condition that she remains single. It is also stipulated that when she dies Mrs. Skalla is not to be buried near her deceased husband. Skalla in the will said that since he and his wife "had not been on intimate terms in life he did not want her near him in death."

The Skallas were married 30 years ago They have three children, Joseph, Anna and Herman, all under age. The will was drawn up on February 27, was properly witnessed and is legal in every way. Joseph Kohout, one of Skalla's life-long friends, is named executor. Skalla's body was found yesterday with a note nailed on a nearby tree saying that he had killed himself because his wife did not love him and because his chil-dren "made faces at him."

"YOU'LL MARRY THE BLONDE," SHE SAID, AND IS ARRESTED

Married Man Felt Gipsy's Prophecy Was a Bit Wild.

Joseph Osoff, of 3d and Bainbridge streets, is anxious about his future. So when Angelina Mitchell and her mother, Mary Mitchell, dressed up in multicolored angly sittened, dressed up in multicolled gipsy dress, with gold coin necklaces and the like for adornment opened a fortune telling parlor yesterday, at 711 South 11th street, Osoff went around. He permitted Angelina ot hold his hand and read it at he same time.

Angelina was not too accurate in telling him his past, but Osoff passed that over. Her predictions on the future, however, were something awful. "You are in love with two girls," mur-mured Angelina, "and will marry the blonde come Michaelmas."

Osoff has a wife and five children, in the light of which fact he determined he had not got his money's worth even if it only was two bits.

So he had Angelina and her mother arrested. At a hearing before Magistrate MacFarland, in the 2d and Christian streets police station today, the pair was held in $300 ball for court on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Witnesses testified that for a short working day the gipsies had done a fair amount of business. The crowd waiting its turn stretched across lith street and blocked the traffic, they said.

U. OF P. ALUMNI ASSEMBLE IN FORCE

Back to Classic Halls of Undergraduate Days to New Improvements.

Fraternity houses, clubs and dormitories of the University of Pennsylvania are crowded today with graduates back for the "Alumni University Day," the first gathering of a yearly series planned by prominent alumni and members of the faculty. Heretofore meetings of the alumni organizations have not been held the same day and the new plan is expected to promote fellowship and give opportunity for closer relationship beween alumni and faculty.

Those who returned to the University today attended meetings and classes and viewed the equipment and innovations introduced since last June. There will be no brass bands nor parades, but a more thoroughgoing knowledge of the University work was implanted in the graduates' minds, as a result of the inspection

The day was given over virtually to an inspection of the institution in action. Gay students of undergraduate days, now staid business men and professional men, toured the buildings, looked in on classes and ended at 3 o'clock this afternoon with a "family council" made up of faculty members and trustees, for an interchange of ideas on the best way run the University. At noon the visiting alumni were the guests of Provost Edgar Fahs Smith at a luncheon in Houston Hall. This was held in order that the former students might have an opportunity to meet the members of the present faculty, the trustees of the University and the provost himself. Tonight the alumni and the college officials will meet again at a dinner.

"Schoolmen's Week," from April 13 to 17, is the next event on the University calendar. Specialists of national reputation are on the program to discuss educational problems. The program, which was ar-ranged by a joint committee from the University faculty and leading schools throughout the State, is comprehensive. throughout the State, is comprehensive.
