CHILDREN'S TABLEAUX

Bellevue-Stratford Presented Charming Scene As Little Ones Posed and Danced.

Yesterday proved a red letter day for those small members of society who were fortunate to take part or to view the entertainment given in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford for the benefit of the Hope Day Nursery. And especially for the wee folk who posed in the attractive tableaux was the day a hectic one. The performance began at 2:30 o'clock, with a number of tableaux arranged by Miss Elizabeth Fisher. Characters from "Grimm's Fairy Tales," "Alice in Wonderland," "Mother Goose" and other familiar tales, were pictured by the young enthusiasts, among whom were Miss Phoebe Drayton, Francis Lloyd, Ned Berwind, Miss Isabel Frazier, Jacky Wheeler, George Patterson, Sylvanus Pace, Miss Sallie Henry, Miss Peggy Rosenkranz, Owen Wister, Jr., Miss Sarah Large, Nicholas Newlin, Miss Frances Warr, Miss Stella Elkens and Curtin Winsor.

Then followed two delightfully well-rendered violin solos by Miss Polly Thayer, accompanied by Mrs. Henry C. Thompson.

Little Miss Lillian Emerson, whose remarkable dancing has stamped her as a child of marvelous originality, gave several interpretations from the music of Grieg, Kreisler and Meyer-Helmund.

The second part of the program consisted of reproductions of the portraits of old masters, which were given atmosphere and the proper illusion by means of a gauze curtain stretched over the dull gold border which framed each picture as it appeared. The children who posed for these pictures were Miss Catherine Mather, Miss Betty Donner, Miss Anita Clothier, Christopher and Alexander Young, Clayton French Banks, Miss Eleanor Sloan, Miss Ruth Packard, Miss Anita Evans, Charlie Mather, Miss Marion Kendrick, Matthew Baird and Billy Donner.

After the performance the floor was cleared for dancing, while tea was served at tables lining the sides of the ballroom, the party having quite the air of a grown-up fashionable dance. Tea was served and candy, programs and other souvenirs sold by a group of younger girls, who wore white frocks with red streamers. They included Miss Jane Yeatman, Miss Elizabeth Jeanes, Miss Florence Kane, Miss Elsie Klapp, Miss Anne Ashton, Miss Margaretta Jeanes, Miss Alice Janney, Miss Meta Janney, Miss Elsie Hirst, Miss Lenore A. McCall, Miss Constance Vaucain, Miss Marian Watts, Miss Katherine Hancock, Miss Lorraine Graham, Miss Virginia Heckscher, Miss Jane Hepburn, Miss Marie Louise Hepburn, Miss Gladys Earle, Miss Susan Doughton, Miss Ellen Glendinning, Miss Sophie Baker, Miss Jean Austin, Miss Marian Baird, Miss Pauline Bell, Miss Rhoda Brooke, Miss Edith Carpenter, Miss Eleanor
