

FIGHT FOR LOCAL OPTION FAR FROM DEFINITE STATUS

Survey Shows Supporters of Bill Made No Gain in Legislature Last Week.

Exact Strength Behind Measure Cannot Be Estimated and Varies With Respective Moves in 'Submarine' Battle—Margin Will Be Close.

HARRISBURG, April 12.—The local optionists gained nothing for their cause in the Legislature last week. If, indeed, they did not actually lose ground.

The exact strength that is behind the local option bill in the Legislature cannot possibly be known until the measure comes up for a vote.

A move that temporarily lost ground for the local optionists was the formation of the Republican Local Option Committee of Pennsylvania.

AN IMPORTANT ADMISSION. The liquor ring today asserts that only 25 members of the House will answer to the roll call when the local option bill comes up in the House for a vote.

Their claim of 118, however, shows the progress that Governor Brumbaugh has made during the past three weeks.

The Governor's veto of the Granaback "toothless" housing bill has made the situation all the more involved.

THE FATE OF LOCAL OPTION DEPENDS upon the moves that Governor Brumbaugh makes during the present week.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO OF THE GRANABACK "TOOTHLESS" HOUSING BILL has made the situation all the more involved.

THE CHILD LABOR BILL IS NOW IN THE Senate. It will repose peacefully in Senator Snyder's Judiciary Special Committee.

BLACKHANDER TAKEN WHEN HE COMES FOR DECOY MONEY

Dynamiter Counting Bills When Police Pounce Upon Him. WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 12.—Michael Petrikonis, 24 years old, was arrested late last night by State Troopers and County Detective Daniel T. McKeivney when he went to a lonely spot and obtained a decoy package containing $1000 in marked bills.

THE TROOPERS AND THE COUNTY DETECTIVE arranged the trap. The decoy, Kurdirka, went to the spot last night. Troopers were hidden near. One hour later a young man appeared, stopped at the pole, picked up the can and took out the money.

THE AUTHORITIES BELIEVE THERE ARE OTHER members in the gang, but Petrikonis denies this.

500 NAVY YARD MEN GIVEN FURLOUGHS

More Than Half of Machine Shops' Staff Asked to Take Vacations.

Half of the 1000 machinists employed at the League Island Navy Yard machine shops have been asked to take vacations or furloughs whether they want them or not.

With the reduction of the League Island force, agents of the British Government have redoubled their efforts to induce the navy's machinists to quit the service.

Despite reports of dissatisfaction among the machinists, the men appear to be taking their enforced idleness philosophically.

Lack of funds is in no way responsible for the required furloughs and vacations.

BOARDWALK JITNEY PLAN STIRS WRATH OF ATLANTIC CITY

Protest So Vehement That Project of New York Syndicate Will Probably Not Be Seriously Considered Again.

ATLANTIC CITY, April 12.—Hands off the Boardwalk! The protest registered against proposals for the establishment of jitney chair transportation on Atlantic City's world-famed promenade, the stamping ground of the pleasure seekers of the nation, could not have been more significant if an officially authorized injunction, in black and white, had been swung across the Great Wooden Way for all the world to read.

There is to be no exploitation of the Boardwalk by promoters, either local or foreign. The Boardwalk is Atlantic City's greatest asset.

ATLANTIC CITY HEARD THAT A NEW YORK syndicate was "thinking seriously" of operating jitney chairs at a cent a block up and down the broad planked way.

"THE BOARDWALK IS NOT A thoroughfare in the popularly accepted use of the word," said Samuel P. Leeds, a hotel man, voicing the general feeling.

OWNERS OF $200,000 WORTH OF hotel property, the great caravansaries and the excellent smaller hosteleries which have helped to make the resort grand stand ready to fight to the last ditch to keep the Boardwalk as it is.

THE POLICY OF THE CITY HAS BEEN opposed to commercialization of the Wooden Way. If the rolling chairs now operated under hourly rates, as a diversion and not in any sense for a utilitarian purpose, had not become, years ago, and continued to be one of the accepted features of the city, they would have been excluded long since.

EVERY PROPOSAL TO substitute chairs operated by motors, or even by men mounted upon a seat behind to pedal the rubber-tired vehicles, has been read out of court. Once upon a time it was seriously proposed, for purposes of revenue, to grant an exclusive franchise for the operation of chairs to the highest bidder, thus creating a veritable Boardwalk Transportation Trust.

BUT SOME OF THE FOREMOST constitutional lawyers of Philadelphia and New Jersey studied the agreement between the city and property owners, under which the Boardwalk is maintained upon a privately owned 60-foot strip, and declared it could not be done.
