It all happened when Joseph Daly, 1918 West Cambria street, dressed in imita-tion of the real champion and walked up and down Front street near Susquehanna avenue to advertise the reel 'champion. Crowds gathered. Several persons took exception to the cut of the attire of the pseudo Jess, and before long a fight was in progress.

HOPE TO AMEND FARLEY BILL

Mayor Shows Senator Vare It Would Halt City's Big Projects.

The force of the Farley bill, which threatens to nullay all the city's plans for development, will probably be de-creased before it comes up for final action in the State Legislature. Amend-ments are likely to result from a confer-ence today between Mayor Blankenburg and Senator William H. Vare.

Mayor Biankenburg called the attention of the Senator to the fact that the enactment of the bill, which would probibit ity planning for more than one year in advance, would invalidate the plans and agreement for the $20,000,000 work eliminating grade crossings in South Philadelphia, the completion of the Park-way and other projects for which plans must be laid years in advance. The hill has been passed by the Senate and will come before the House on Mon-day for concurrence.

STRONG MAN CAN SAVE MEXICO, SAYS HUERTA

Ex-Dictator Avers Real Liberator Will Come - Warns Against Intervention.

Ex-President Victoriano Huerta, of Mexico, today received a representative of the International News. Service in New York and, in response to certain questions submitted to him, prepared a statement on matters which the former Mexican dictator had formerly refused to discuss. These were particularly the question of American interrention in Mexico and the results of such action. The statement follows:

By VICTORIANO HUERTA Ex-President of the Republic of Mexico.) Capyright, 1915, by the International News

NEW YORK, April 17.-Mexico must save itself. Intervention by the United States is not the solution. It would take the United States many years and the sacrifice of millions of men before it could bring order out of chaos in alexico. Even then it would not be absolutely certain that the improved conditions in Mexico would be permanent.

Mexico would resent intervention by the United States in the same way as a man would resent intervention by his neighbor if he had domestic trouble, and in the same way that the United States ould have resented intervention during ts Civil War.

The United States would not have the good-will of the Mexicans if it intervened. The factions that are at war now would band together and present a solid front to the United States. And the warfare would be a bitter one and would last indefinitely. The United would last indefinitely. The United States has a population of over 90.000,000; Mexico's is only 15,000,000. Despite this big advantage in numbers the United States would be confronted with a huge task in subduing Mexico, because the Mexicans would be fighting on their own soil and the warfare would be of a guerrilla nature.

I do not care to place myself in the I do not care to place myself in the position of prophesying as to who the Mexican will be who will lead the country into peace and prosperity. He may be one of the big men in Mexico today, and he may be a man of the future. But sooner or later he will rise to power and Mexico will be saved.

I do not care to discuss questions directed at me relative to my future as far as Mexico is concerned. I have been asked numerous times ff I again would take the Presidency of Mexico. Such questions I cannot answer.

Such questions I cannot answer.

I love Mexico and I love its people. I am willing to lay down my life for the cause of Mexico. I resigned the presidency because I felt at the time that such an action would be for the best interests of Mexico and I am willing to devote the est of my life to serving Mexico in any way that will help it.

DEDICATE BRIDGE

After 16-year Struggle South Philadelphia Crosses Schuylkill on Passyunk Avenue.

Efforts of South Philadelphia to procure bridge over the Schuylkill River at Passyunk avenue, covering a period of 16 years, was rewarded today when the span was dedicated in the presence of the Mayor, his Cabinet, Select and Common Council members and other municipal officials.

The elaborate ceremonies attracted hundreds of residents of that section of the city. Although the bridge has been in use for more than a month the formal dedication was postponed that the exercises might be held under more favorable weather conditions.

At 1:30 o'clock a luncheon was given in the Point Breeze office of the United Gas Improvementh Company. It was attended by the Mayor and members of Councils representing the wards benefited by the opening of the bridge. Addresses were made by the city's Chief Executive, Select Councilman James E. Lennon, Congressmen Vare and Darrow, and

The official party then proceeded to the bridge, where an immense gathering of school children sans appropriate songs.
The structure was officially accepted as city property by the Mayor, after which addresses were made by persons who have been prominent in the fight waged for this public improvement.

The new span is an important addition to the municipal bridge system, since it connects a densely populated section of southwestern Philadelphia with a district that hitherto has been sparsely settled. Petty politics, involving various parties and factions, has interfered with the realization of the project which was under taken 18 years ago.

The cost of the bridge is approximately $500,000. It is of the bascule type and conforms to the most modern standards of ngineering. The original appropriation, itended to defray the entire cost, was 5.00. The development of bridge construction, as well as the increased demands of the people supporting the project, resulted in added appropriations authorized at various times.

BRUMBAUGH VETOES BILLS ON BRIDGES AND ESTATES

Questions Constitutionality of Act Exempting Municipalities From

Taxation. HARRISBURG, April 17.-Governor Brumbaugh today vetoed bills exempting municipalities from taxation on capital stock, or bridge companies in certain circumstances and relating to the administration of intestate decedents. The Governor now has vetoed is bills, In vetoing the bridge bill, which capplies to the capital stock of bridge of panies owning bridges wholly or partly without municipal limits, and exempting the capital stock and bonds of such companies from State taxation, the Governor gives these as his reasons; This bill contemplates the exemption of the capital stock and bonds of cer-tain bridges from State taxation. The constitution, article IX, section 1, requires all taxes to be uniform upon the same classes of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. This exemption of said power is of uncertain propriety within the meaning of the constitution. If there are to be exemptions of scourfties held by municipalities, these exemptions should be general and not special.

As a reason for withholding approval f the bill relating to administration of the estates of injestate decedents, the Governor says the bill defines a method of procedure in the administration of the such estates which is of doubtful constitutionality.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

STATEMENTS were made at a public hearing in Harrisburg the early part of April that prove the FALLACY of Prohibition.

IN THE presence of thousands of persons these statements were made-and their accuracy was not questioned or combatted. They were FACTS-and could not, successfully, be refuted.

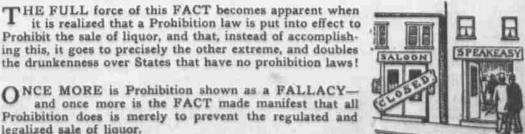

legalized sale of liquor.

TN ANSWER to the FALLACY that liquor is largely responsible for crime, one speaker stated the FACT that "the most murders last year were committed in a dry town, Memphis, and the least in the wet city of Milwaukee.'

B UT EVEN more illuminating was the statement made by another speaker. Said he: "We are able to prove, by statistics, that there are more than twice as many arrests for drunkenness, pro-rata, in Prohibition States, than there are in non-Prohibition States."

THE FULL force of this FACT becomes apparent when it is realized that a Prohibition law is put into effect to Prohibit the sale of liquor, and that, instead of accomplishing this, it goes to precisely the other extreme, and doubles the drunkenness over States that have no prohibition laws!
