The fourth annual Indoor Horse Show opened this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Third Regiment Armory, Broad and Wharton streets. There will be three afternoon and three night programs, ending Saturday night.

So numerous were the entries this year that an extra day has been added to the know, for the success of which Mrs. Walter C. Hancock, as chairman of the committee, has been working for two months. Among the new events that have been meded are several novice classes, two breeding classes and four championship classes. This year the ring is 15 feet longer and six feet wider than heretofore, which will give the contestants a tanbark inclosure of sufficient dimensions to accommodate the classes without crowding.

The horse show is for charity. Six hospitals will receive the proceeds. Cups have been presented by Mrs. Robert Kelso Cassatt. Mrs. I. W. Hollingshead, J. Howell Cummings, MacDonald & Campbell and L'Aiglon.

"that the Pennsylvania Railroad is going to spend $28,000,000 for new cars and engines, and I want to know if that's a lot or not."

So father and Willie sharpened a pencil or two, got down the almanacs, and this is what father, as well as Willie, learned.

Reading of the will today caused the police and the Coroner's office to believe that young Cohen had planned the tragedy and that at the time when he wrote the document he had his mind made up to murder his grandmother whom he idolized in order to save her from suffering and also to end his life. "It's the same way with trees and flowers. Why should we have little ones, if it's possible to have them big? I be-

Because of this belief, the planter-psychologist-professor wrote to Edison for some of the benzol he is now manu-

City Hall has cost the city during the period it has been building only $24-000,000, payment of which has been stretched out over the 41 years that have elapsed since it was first started. The interest on $25,000,000 at 5 per cent, for one year is $1,400,000.

But the fact that interested father and Willie most was that the high cost of railroading is indeed a fact when they learned that the total purchase weighted 226,355,000 pounds, which is a cost of $10 a pound.
