

CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Glitter and Glamour Will Mark Barnum & Bailey Show All Next Week.

The Barnum & Bailey circus train will reach Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon. The animals and equipment will be taken to the show grounds at Hunting Park avenue and 19th street, where the circus will be established in its temporary home.

Many novelties and features in plenty are announced in preliminary information. Much stress is laid upon sensational features, which form an important part of the performance—the first appearance in America of Italy's comic equestrian, the rider who made all Europe laugh, Signor Flamenco, the pageant entitled "Jalla Rookh," and Mrs. Adgie's trained lions.

Among the arena artists are the Davernport family of equestrian celebrities, the 16 Venezuelans in the World aerial novelty, the Flying Neapolitans, the fearless Silbous, the Bird-Millman troupe of high wire experts, the troupe in a novel acrobatic specialty, John Fuller's school of beautiful horses and the great European equestrians, the Five Hunsifers.

Of riders there will be a score or more. They are said to be the champions of all countries and of all schools of equestrianism. Trained animal acts will be a feature of this season's program. Pallenberg's wonder bears, riding bicycles, skating on roller skates, walking a tight wire and many other amusing feats; Madam Emelia's dog and monkey circus; Marcella's exhibition of trained birds and the famous artillery elephants.

The manager of the combined shows is said to be the mix-up of the largest and rarest collection of wild beasts ever exhibited under canvas. The two score elephants embrace the collection said to be the wonder of the zoological world. Three enormous tents are necessary for the accommodation of the 700 horses with the Barnum & Bailey circus. The stable occupied by the heavy Percheron and Clydesdale draft horses is a model of equine neatness, while Arabian thoroughbreds and the rink stock occupy luxurious quarters in separate tents.

Beautiful horses will feature the free street parade which the management of the Barnum & Bailey show will give during Monday morning. Starting at 9 o'clock the parade will move through Hunting Park avenue, to Broad street, to Washington avenue, turning, the parade will counter-march on Broad street to Germantown avenue, to Hunting Park avenue, to show grounds.

ROCKEFELLER, JR., IS BLAMED FOR STRIKE

Frank P. Walsh Says He Has Evidence to Prove Millionaire's Guilt.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., instead of being ignorant of the strike situation in Colorado, as he pleaded at a recent hearing in New York, really personally directed the fight on the coal miners, is the belief today of Chairman Frank P. Walsh, of the Industrial Relations Commission, following the discovery of correspondence between Rockefeller and the officials of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

The startling correspondence will open the whole case, according to Walsh. One of the alleged documents implied that Rockefeller had dictated a Governor's letter to President Woodrow Wilson.

While Rockefeller told the commission at New York and also the Congressional investigating committee that he had kept his hands off the strike situation and had no knowledge of conditions in the strike zone, Walsh said the letters show that the directing mind throughout the struggle in which women and men were killed was at 26 Broadway.

"The commission has made a part of its record," Walsh said, "a mass of correspondence not only showing that the Rockefeller were generally in constant touch with every phase of the Colorado coal strike situation, but that they knew the strike was coming and were prepared for it. We have letters of Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., of J. P. W. Brown, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company; of L. M. Rowan, chairman of the Executive Committee; of Starr Murphy, personal representative of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.; and of Ivy Lee, his publicity agent, which make it plain that every step taken by the Rockefeller agents in Colorado in the great strike, in which men, women and children lost their lives, was taken with the full knowledge and assent of 26 Broadway, New York.

It is amazing that the confidences exchanged between Rockefeller headquarters in New York and the mine executives on the very eve of the strike, at the very moment when the Department of Labor was striving for the Rockefeller's co-operation to avert the clash and behind the back of the department's representative.

WIFE DESERTER ARRESTED, CHASED ACROSS CONTINENT

Los Angeles Man Taken on Street After Leaving Sister's House.

After eluding the authorities in a chase across the Continent, William Pepper, of Philadelphia, who deserted his wife and two children in Los Angeles, Cal., was apprehended in this city today by William Mosler, and John Armstrong, process servers of the Municipal Court. The officers had learned that Pepper was stopping at the home of his sister, at 2306 North 20th street, and early this morning they watched the house, which was closed at 7 o'clock. Pepper came out and started rapidly down 20th street. Mosler went after him and when he denied his identity, Armstrong, the other officer, came up with a photograph in the Police Bulletin of Los Angeles. Pepper's sister ran after the man and inquired where they were taking her brother.

Pepper's wife, who had come East when she received information that he had left Chicago for Philadelphia, was immediately sent for to identify the man. Officer Mosler said the identification of the man was easy because of a peculiar scar on the side of his nose. The wife deserter was taken before the Municipal Court, and real estate security was demanded for his appearance at a hearing.

Save His Wife From Suicide Mrs. Rose Behrens, 60 years old, of 15 South 2d street, is in a serious condition at the University Hospital after an attempt to end her life with poison. The woman was deserted by her husband who struck the drug and he quickly succumbed, leaving her for dead.

GUESS WHAT'S COMING! HAVE THEY CHANGED A BIT SINCE YOU WERE YOUNG?

Of course you guessed it. The circus will reach Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon and will be established at Hunting Park avenue and 19th street in its temporary home. The parade will be held Monday morning and the first performance that afternoon.

SUFFRAGE PARADE ON MAY 1 TO BE ELABORATE APPEAL

Women Representing Virtually Every Profession and Occupation to March in Ranks of Vote Seekers—Friendly Rivalry Among Organizations.

A rousing appeal to each and every one of the 20,000 women engaged in earning their own living in Philadelphia to join in the suffrage parade on May 1, and thus give expression in overwhelming numbers to their desire for the ballot, is being made by the Parade Committee.

Women representing virtually every profession and occupation have already signified their intention of marching and workers from the suffrage organizations are visiting the office buildings, department stores, factories and all the industrial sections of the city to further arouse the interest.

One department store with 2500 employees has promised to give 10 per cent of its entire staff leave of absence for the demonstration, and an effort is being made to have all the other shops fall in line and do likewise. Business organizations, not allied with suffrage, but which have endorsed the movement, will send large representations.

Even the dressmakers will put aside their needles and thread long enough to show how they feel about this question of woman voting. Headed by Miss Diehl Hastings, they will have a section, just as will the stenographers, bookkeepers, clerks and saleswomen.

In order that the parade will be properly advertised to the foreign women of the city, Miss Bertha Sapovits, who speaks Yiddish and its allied tongues, together with the other linguists, will hold night meetings in the foreign districts to exhort the women to help make this one of the biggest suffrage parades ever held anywhere.

MILITANT SONS OF VETERANS They "Start Things" on Trolley Car, and One Is Arrested.

A soldier's uniform often imbues the average youth with a spirit of bravado, and four young men attired in the uniform of Sons of Veterans were no exception to the rule.

They made things uncomfortable for passengers on an 11th street car, the police say, and struck several riders with their belts.

The conductor compelled them to beat a retreat, and then the military youths attacked Charles H. Sell, a passenger, who left the car with them at Norris street. Policeman Miliken witnessed the attack and pursued the trio. He captured Clarence Mains, 19 years old, of 28 South 10th street.

Mains was held in 300 hall today for a further hearing by Magistrate Morris. The night occurred last night.

Although business enterprises and the "show business" in general have been seriously affected by the world war, the motion picture industry has continued its march of progress unretarded without, indeed, the slightest perceptible shortening of its strides.

Such a condition is altogether unique in the history of amusements and causes the first serious break in the time-proved relationship of office and theatre of big business and professionally provided pleasure. Invariably the prosperity of the amusement world has been dependent upon and in well-defined proportion to the prosperity of the business world.

A marked depression in the financial market is always reflected in the box office, and since the commencement of the European strife and subsequent depression of big business, the dramatic stage, circus, carnival and kindred amusements have received a jolt that has all but put them out of the running, and the majority of those which remain are conducted more upon the hope that springs eternal in the showman's breast than upon actual receipts.

Not so with the motion pictures. On the contrary that extraordinary amusement with its appeal so broad as to touch all classes and its rates of admission so low as to be ever within easy reach of the masses, has shown a greater advance in prosperity from the exhibition side and a more rapid and vital development of the inventive, constructive and productive side during the last six months than at any other given period of its existence.

Last September it was estimated that there were 15,000 theatres in the United States devoted to pictures. Today a conservative estimate places the figure at 21,000, while on the producing side there has been an astonishing increase in the number of people employed now about a quarter of a million, and the salaries paid them aggregate $2,515,000 weekly. The income of the combined picture shows is about $1,333,333 per day or close to $5,000,000,000 per year.
