

MAY DAY CELEBRATION AT BRYN MAWR AND ATHLETES PROMINENT IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

BRYN MAWR STUDENTS HOLD ANNUAL MAY DAY CELEBRATION ONE DAY AHEAD OF TIME

After breakfast today the entire student body, wearing white dresses and sashes of their class colors, gathered on the campus and sang "To the May Pole Let Us On" and danced around the four May poles on the college green. The students then assembled in the chapel, where President Thomas awarded the scholarships and fellowships. Tonight members of the freshman class will have supper in Pembroke Hall, and the graduates will be given a reception by members of the senior class in the gymnasium. Tomorrow morning the finals of the track meet will be held.

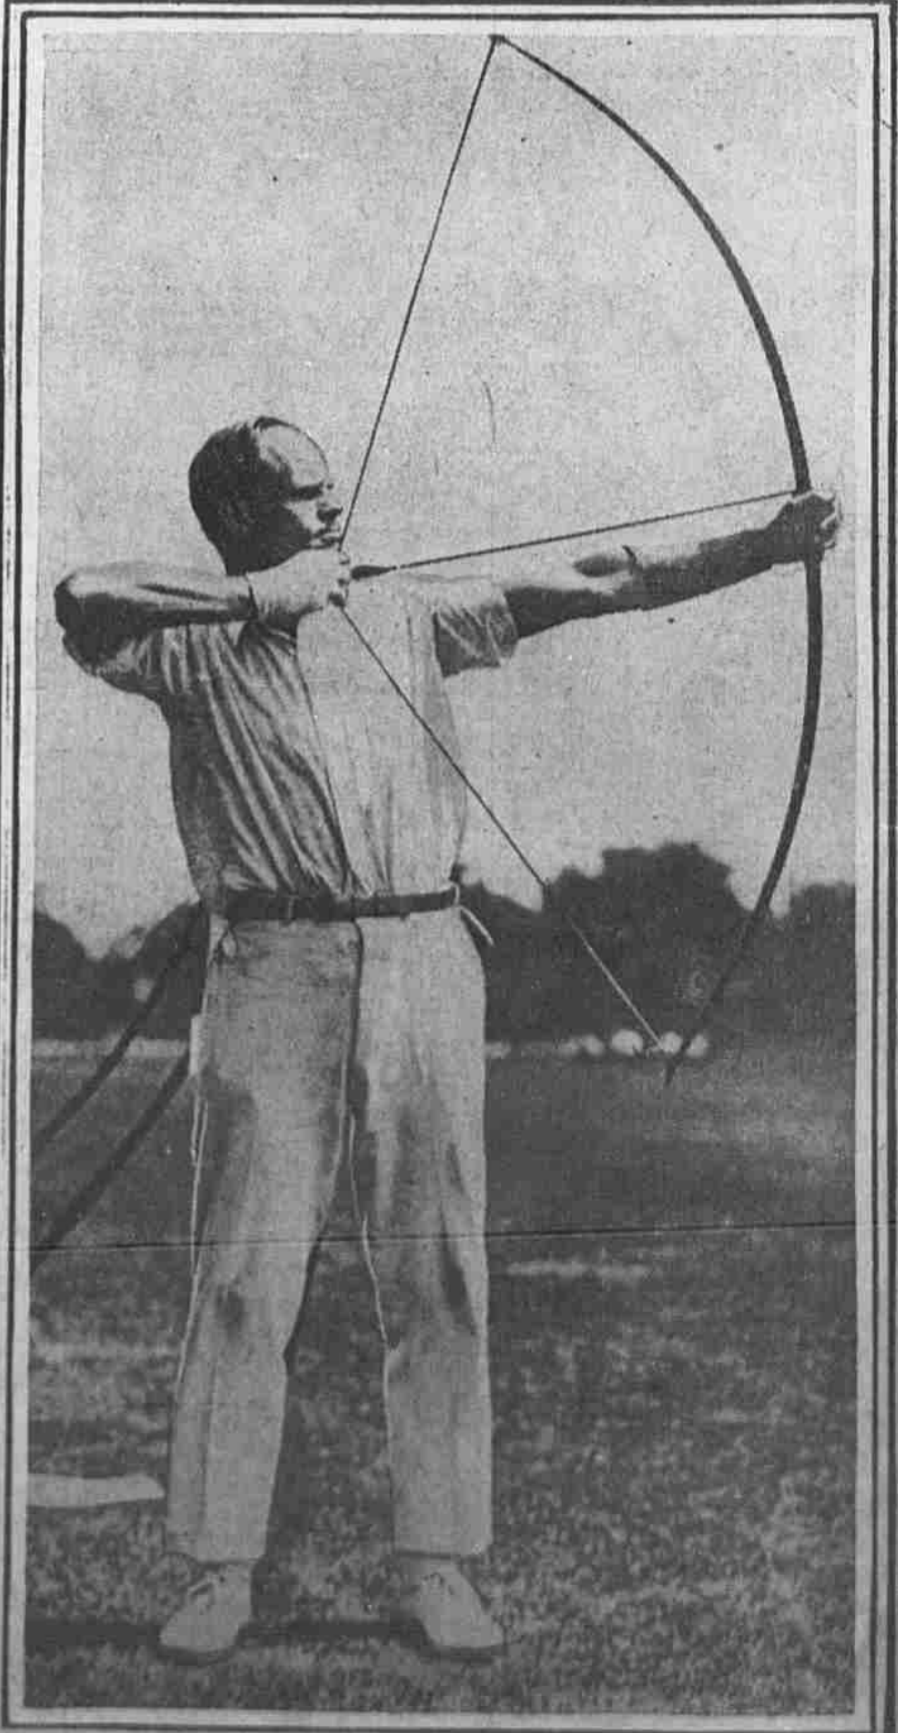

MISS ANNA W. BROOKS

Warm days and clear weather has started archery devotees to fingering their bows.

GAME OLD VETERAN OF THE DIAMOND

A portrait of Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Dodgers, by an Evening Ledger photographer that shows the scars and zozms earned by many a battle before yelling thousands.

T. TRUXTON HARE

Another sportsman who loves the thud of an arrow against the target.
