

RIGID PROBE STARTS WHEN TRAIN KILLS TWO

Death of Clubman and Wife in Auto on Amber Grade Crossing Investigated.

Coroner's officials are making a rigid investigation of the circumstances attending the fatal accident on the Philadelphia and Reading tracks in Amber last night, in which Philip Mercer Maloney, a steel manufacturer and clubman, and his wife were instantly killed in their automobile when it was struck by a train.

The accident occurred a short time after the express left Reading Terminal. The train was running at about 40 miles an hour through Amber. The crossing on which the accident occurred is unguarded by safety gates, but an electric bell warns of the approach of trains. It is believed that the machine of the Maloneys became stalled directly in the path of the speeding express and as the instant Mr. Maloney and his wife probably worked frantically to start the car as the locomotive bore down upon them. The engine failed to see the automobile until it was too late.

Mr. Maloney, who was 40 years old, was a member of the Allen Iron and Steel Company, of 3d and Venango streets, this city. He enjoyed a reputation as a scientific and artistic. With the aid of his wife he conducted a model farm at Blue Bell, Montgomery County, where the couple made their summer home with their two sons, Mercer, 17 years old, and Gordon, 15, both students at Cretchenham Academy. The sons were at home, waiting for their parents, who were on their way to Blue Bell when they were run down.

Mr. Maloney was a son of Philip S. Maloney, 2128 North 20th street, this city. His sister is Miss Mae Maloney. An uncle, Andrew J. Maloney, an attorney, lives at 1000 Locust street. He was an active member of the Baptist Temple, Broad and Berks streets, where they were married by the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, 15 years ago. Mrs. Maloney was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Leister, 1108 Diamond street. She was 37 years old.

The manufacturer was a member of the Manufacturers' Club and was prominent in its affairs. He was connected with Fort Washington Lodge, No. 268, F. and A. M. When his body was picked up after the accident a picture of Mrs. Maloney was found in the damaged automobile.

Other wills probated today are those of Thomas Gaskins, who left $7500; Adam Garscht, $2000; Angelika Menke, $4000; Anna M. Hall, Henry R. Riker, $2000; and Philip Leonard, $2500. Personal property of Mary M. Ziegler has been appraised at $4685.75.

Miss Carrie G. Crate. Miss Carrie G. Crate, a daughter of the Rev. Joseph G. Crate, who was for 36 years a member of the New Jersey Methodist Episcopal Conference, died yesterday at 400 Locust street, at Atlantic and Dayton avenues, Collingswood, N. J., after a brief illness of five hours after being stricken.

Miss Crate was born at Windsor, N. J., March 26, 1862, and for many years conducted a music studio in Camden. She leaves three brothers—Joseph M. and Charles E. Crate, of Collingswood, and Dr. Walter W. Crate, of Camden. She was a niece of Colonel J. Howard Willets, of Fort Elizabeth, and a granddaughter of the late New Jersey Regiment in the Civil War, and of Dr. Charles E. Edwards, of Ocean City, N. J. Funeral services will be conducted by Dr. Carl E. Hammer, pastor of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church of Philadelphia, on Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the residence of her brother, 215 Harvard street, Collingswood. Interment will be made at Haddonfield, N. J.

J. Ridgway Livezey Asks Release of Prisoner Whose Arrest He Caused.

J. Mr. Livezey testified that he had given the boy money prior to the arrest and berated him bitterly for the alleged fraud; then, altering his tone, he pleaded just as vigorously with Magistrate Pennock for the boy's release, saying that the one week of confinement experienced in awaiting the hearing this morning was sufficient punishment.

Young Meyers was released under $300 bail to wait at the police station when wanted.

Levy, president of the association. The news was received with enthusiasm by the business men, who have been fighting for a paving similar to that of Market street for several years. The beginning of the work will be celebrated by an excursion to Wildwood on July 29 next. About 1000 business men and their families will participate.

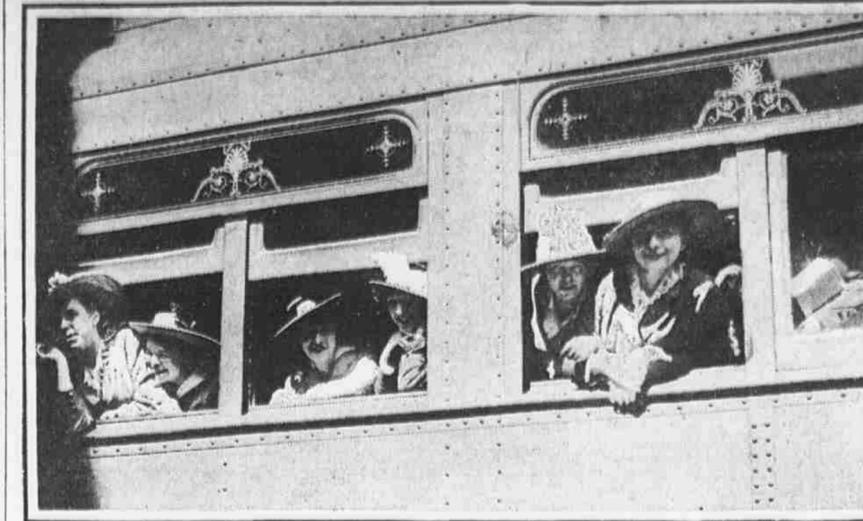

Custom Receipts Here Decline

Despite the heavy importations of sugar at this port for the month of April, the custom receipts continue to decline. Sugar is virtually the only article received here in large quantities upon which duties are assessed. Next year it will be admitted free. The total receipts collected by the local Custom House amounted to $23,905.77, against $1,683,947.73 in the same period of last year. However, the exports through this port for April showed a gain of $2,000,000. The imports declined more than $2,000,000. The value of the sugar received amounted to $2,79,454. Last year in April $1,941,295 worth was imported.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS OFF FOR WASHINGTON ON TOUR

Members of the graduating classes of the William Penn High School departed in a special train over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for the Capital, where they will spend three days sightseeing.

SOCIETY WOMAN, NOW AN ACTRESS, SPURNS ELITE

Mrs. Sherburne Hopkins, Jr., Shows Small Concern for Criticism. What will be the sensations of Mrs. Sherburne Hopkins, Jr., erstwhile society leader of Washington, when she appears behind the footlights in vaudeville before the gaze of her friends and acquaintances, the cynosure of the eyes of the "fashionable set" in that city next week?

She is not losing any sleep over it if her positive statements count for anything. This was what she said today at the Adelphi Hotel, where she is stopping: "I won't mind it at all. I don't care a bit what they say or think."

As leader of a fashion show she is known as "Peggy" Hopkins to the theatrical world. A month ago she decided that the life of a society woman's wife was unendurable, and so she joined Keith's vaudeville in New York in order to be independent. She was successful from the start. Graceful, pretty, and with a slim girlish figure she fitted into the role of a fashion model to perfection.

She was chosen, in fact, to lead the array of pretty girls. She said that she and her husband intend to separate. Divorce proceedings will be instituted in a month, she said. Mrs. Hopkins, Jr., her husband, is in Central America.

Mrs. Hopkins could easily pass for 18, although she is just a little bit older. She smiled a little as she said: "Marrying a society man isn't all it is cracked up to be. I got sick of it very soon."

"Probably he spends too much time attending social affairs," was suggested. "He hasn't time for anything else," she replied quickly.

"I took the plunge of my own accord and for the rest of my life," her blue eyes snapped as if her experiences with men had not been over pleasant. Her face took on a determined look as she continued: "I took the plunge of my own accord and I will stick to it. The reason I chose the stage as a vocation was because I knew that I could make good. The present job I hold is only a stepping stone to something higher. I expect to take leading roles in a few years."

She was asked what salary she received. She would not give exact figures because of professional jealousy, she said, but said she was over $100 a week. "Any girl can live on $100 a week," she said with a smile.

Gulfoast to Replace Gulllight

The steamship Gulllight, which was disabled by the attack of a German submarine, will soon be replaced by the Gulfoast, a sister ship, now being rushed to completion at the New York Shipbuilding Company's plant. It is expected that the Gulfoast will be ready for service early next week. She is one of the finest tank steamships afloat, capable of carrying more than 2,000,000 gallons of petroleum in bulk. If it is discovered that the Gulllight has been irreparably damaged, it is expected that the Gulf Oil Company will give the New York Shipbuilding Company an order for the construction of a similar ship.

Sailor Hurt in Jitney Accident

Simms Childers, a sailor of the United States battleship Kentucky and a motorcycle enthusiast, collided with a "jitney" bus last night while out on his machine for a ride. The accident happened at Broad and Pine streets. Childers was thrown from his machine and struck his mouth against the curb, losing all his teeth. Otto Lingo, of 133 North 16th street, driver of the "jitney," was arrested.

A search is being made throughout the country for the daughter of H. St. Pierre Lewis, a former Philadelphia policeman attached to the 3d and De Lancey streets police station. Lewis, of 308 South Frazer street, Washington, are conducting the search for the girl.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS OFF TO WASHINGTON

Graduating Class of William Penn Leave on Annual Pilgrimage to Capital.

Two hundred and thirty-one members of the graduating class of the William Penn High School left this city for Washington today, on the third annual sightseeing trip of the last-year students. The custom of making tours in lieu of class-day exercises was established at the school three years ago, and has proved one of the most popular innovations ever decided upon by the Board of Education.

The young seniors presented a sprightly appearance when they boarded the capital express, which left the Baltimore and Ohio station at 24th and Chestnut streets at 9:15 this morning. For a moment the happy chattering of the students, which had provoked smiles from the other fortunate travelers in the station who departed on the same train, was halted by a momentary scare. Miss Minnie Wright, one of the members of the class, could not be located and there was much alarm when the train drew into the station.

Principal William E. Lewis, who is in charge of the outing, mounted a baggage truck, and lifted his arm for silence. He shouted several times, and before the full crew repeler is expected finally to pass the Legislature next week, when it will come up for a vote on third reading in the Senate. This measure has passed the House. The railroad men asserted that they had at least 22 votes in the Senate for the bill, assuring its passage.

Smoked in Bed, Dies From Burns. Burns received by Donald Scott, 29 years old, of 523 North Franklin street, when his bed caught fire with a cigarette last Sunday, proved fatal today. He died in the Hahnemann Hospital.

SENATE SUSPENDS RULES TO COMPLETE WORK SOON

House Moves for Adjournment May 20—Liquor Bills Die.

By a Staff Correspondent. HARRISBURG, May 6.—The Legislature is clearing the road to rush the last of the legislation, including the workmen's compensation, full crew repeler and appropriation bills, through so that final adjournment can be taken May 20.

The Senate opened the doors yesterday by suspending the rules for the rest of the session so that bills may be amended on third reading and passed at the same time without being laid over.

The House is rushing bills through as rapidly as it can. One of the moves made by the lower branch that insures an early adjournment is the action taken last night by the Law and Order Committee, which decided not to report any of the liquor bills it now has. Among the measures that have thus been killed is the bill providing for the Gibboney plan of compensation for liquor dealers forced out of business through legislation.

The workmen's compensation bill will be made a special order on third reading in the Senate the latter part of next week. A public hearing will be held on them on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The full crew repeler is expected finally to pass the Legislature next week, when it will come up for a vote on third reading in the Senate. This measure has passed the House. The railroad men asserted that they had at least 22 votes in the Senate for the bill, assuring its passage.

Women's Clubs in Session. A number of Philadelphia women, representing the various women's clubs of the city, left today for Pottsville to attend the eastern district meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting was opened at 10:30 o'clock. An interesting program is being carried out, including the reading by Atherton Browne of his production, "An Unseen Empire."

Mrs. I. H. O'Hara, of this city, vice president of the district, is the head of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

This afternoon the class will board the steamship Charles McAlister, for a 16-mile trip down the Potomac River to Washington's home at Mount Vernon. Tomorrow they will make a sightseeing tour of the city and visit the Congressional Library. They will visit also the National Museum and other places of interest, and an interview with the President has been arranged for Saturday at the White House. The students will leave Washington at 1:45 Saturday afternoon for this city.

Merchants to Canvass "Shopping Zone" in Education Campaign.

Residents of West Philadelphia are to have a "shopping zone," which will be bounded by Haverford avenue, Pine street, 50th and 58th streets. Plans for a six-months' advertising campaign to educate the shoppers on the other side of the Schuylkill River were completed last night at a meeting of the 52d and Market Streets Business Men's Association, which is sponsor for the innovation. Frank L. Davis presided.

In connection with the campaign to have West Philadelphia do their shopping at home, banners will be strung across the streets included in the shopping zone and canvassers will go from door to door throughout the section to educate householders in advantages of buying in their own district. Placards will be distributed by the merchants, setting forth their bargains, and slides explaining the project will be shown in many public places.
