

Evening ILLUSTRATED Ledger

THURSDAY
May 27, 1915

THE CAMERA MAKES CLEARER THE NEWS OF THE DAY FROM A WORLD'S VARIED SOURCES

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
ITALIAN CAVALRY CHARGING UP A HILL
A scene that doubtless will be repeated many times in the coming battles among the Alps.

Photo by Thompson.
LLOYD-GEORGE AT HIS EASE
This photograph of the new British Minister of Munitions was taken after a golf game on Walton Heath.

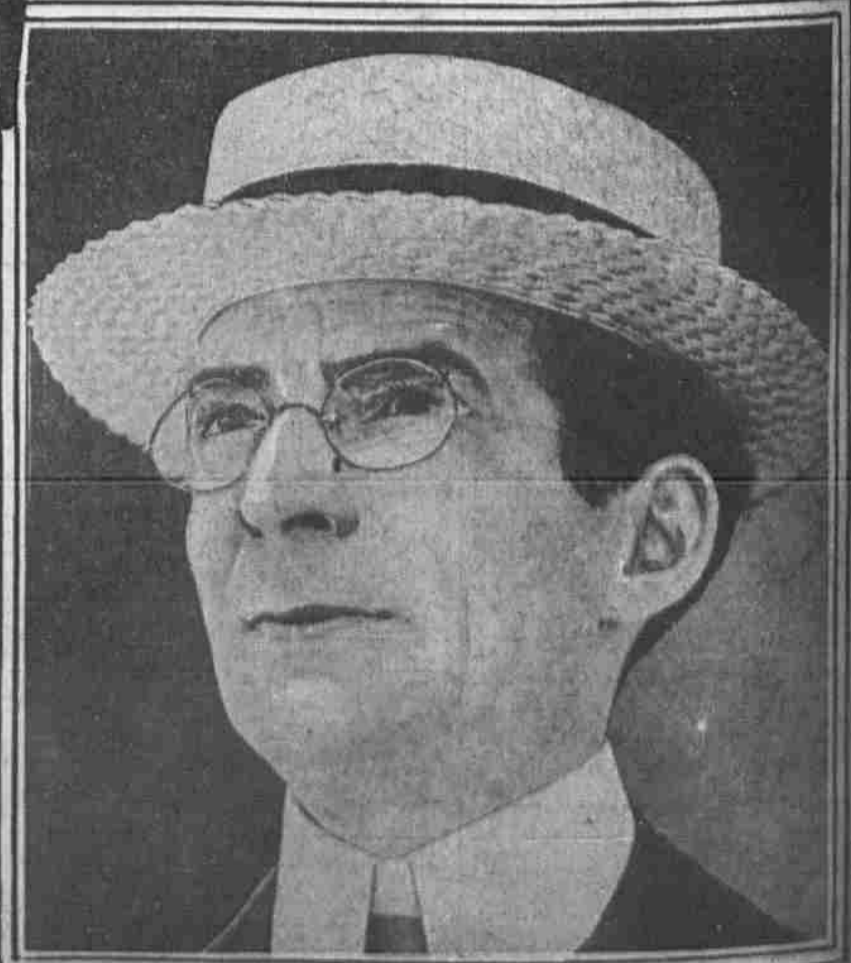

A PHILADELPHIA "TWILIGHT SLEEP" BABY
"Mother and child doing well" is the motto of Mrs. Mary Kruger and of her baby, which was born in the much-discussed twilight sleep. They live at 18 East Seltzer street.

TO BE SEEN HERE IN OUTDOOR DRAMA
Granville Barker is the much-talked-of young English stage manager who produces "Iphigenia in Tauris." His wife, Lillah McCarthy, plays the leading feminine role, and will be seen here at the amphitheatre being built in the Botanical Gardens. Mr. Barker had just come from rehearsal. This explains his rumpled hair.

CITY'S CHAMPION RAT CATCHER
"Billie," the dog, is attached to Engine Co. 48. When not on duty he takes pleasure in joining his two boy friends on a hunt among the warehouses on the water front. He sometimes earns 50 cents a day for them, they declare.

"MOST GENIAL MAN IN KENSINGTON"
Edwin L. Hoffman has this reputation, according to those who know. He is a man without enemies and with many friends. Last winter he labored heroically for the relief of the unemployed. He is a member of the North Kensington Business Men's Association.