The Withers event was inaugurated in Jerome Park, New York, in 1874, and save for the years 1911 and 1912 has had an annual running. Some of the most fam-cus animals the world has ever known have come to the post in this race. The tabulated history of the event

In the early 80s McLaughlin, famous as a jockey, made a record which has not been equaled. He landed three win-ners in the Withers. In 1882 his name appears for the first time as having the leg up on the winner, Forester. In 1883 he is again in the limelight, having made a wonderful ride on George McKinney, His third and record establishing feat came in '87, when he piloted Hanover to the wire. It was about this time that "Snapper" Garrison came to the fore. Many persons have used the familiar ex-Many persons have used the familiar expression "He made a Garrison finish," applying the term in many general ways, yet probably do not know the history. Garrison was one of the most wonderful fockeys of his time and was famous for bringing his mounts to the fore in the last furlong when it seemed the animal was due as also ran. WANTED-A FEW MORE HORSES FOR RACING.

What has come over the owners of the racing thoroughbreds? This year has so far been an open one for the own-ers and trainers of animals, yet they do not seem to appreciate it. Something must be done. It is high time that more support be given, else no complaint can be made if the attendance drops off. Rainy weather has had something to do, with the many scratches, no doubt, and maybe if the sun takes up its regular duties and the going is fast improvement in the fields may be expected. From all accounts there are plenty of horses at the tracks, and the hardest work that many of them have been called upon to do re-cently is to eat their heads off. At Bel-mont Park recently two horses started in a race and three in another. At Woodbine, Toronto, Canada, a similar condition has been noticed during the last

Governor Whitman, of New York, was not so sure that the Westchester Racing Association was conducting its plant ac-cording to law when betting was concerned. Yesterday he had representa-tives at the track, who reported that there was no violation of the anti-bet-ting statute. This is good news to the followers of the lovers of the thoroughbred, who believe if the sport of kings is conducted in a fitting manner the popularity of the pastime will be country-wide. ## ARMY OFFICER MUST USE HIS OWN NAME IN SPEEDWAY RACE

N. Van Raalte, Englishman, Under the Assumed Title of N. Graham, Came to Indianapolis to Contest With Autoists.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.-Automobile fans gathered here for the speedway 500-mile race Monday were surprised Many good judges think Short Grass, the English-bred thoroughbred, will be the English-bred thoroughbred, will be the next winner of the Louisville Handi-Baalte, who entered the race under the name of N. Graham, will be allowed to drive his Sunbeam despite the fact that he violated an American Automobile Association rule when he entered under an assumed name. The contest board ruled that Van Rasite may drive in the race Monday, but that he must use his own name. Van Raalte is an officer in the English army and it is understood that he obtained leave of absence to come over here at this time only on condition that his identity be kept secret.

Indianapolis citizens arose today and began lifting another layer of silver lining from the clouds that caused postponement of the Speedway 500-mile race from today to Monday. It was said that various hotel proprietors who are charging as high as $25 for rooms with three or four occupants are ready to lift the mortgnite.

The city is flooded with tourists. They are stranded here. They have come from every State in the Union and most of the large cities are represented. When they awoke rain was falling. The weather man predicted rain for today and a fair Sunday.

George Robinson, of Detroit, his son Daniel, 14, and Mrs. Stella Kingston, who had come for the race, were thrown from their machine when it struck one driven by I. F. Dalmbert. The two machines were demolished, but the occupants escaped serious injury.

Although the Speedway track is in excellent condition the grounds are water soaked. One day of sunshine will make the race possible Monday. Only 24 racers the race possible Monday.

will start. The A. A. Contest board ruled that Burman's Peugeot Special must be raced as a Peugeot. This forced Babcock's Peugeof out of the race, for only three cars of one make can race, and Babcock's wis the slowest Feugeot. Tomorrow the track will be open to ment was made today that Barney Old-field would drive a race with D. Lloyd-Thompson, an aviator of Washington, D. C. disitors and as a drawing card announce

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES THE HOLMAN SCHOOL

We have an ideal for every Helman Girl.

We conceive her education to be vastly more than the mere acquisition of facts. We believe it equally important that she be taught how to think, how to work, how to play, how to make every hour of the day count most for barself and others.

To this end every Holman girl is carefully tudied by her instructors. Classes are there-

"Self-Building" "Self-Expression"

Because of self-consciousness, timidity in the presence of others, tack of confidence, a burren vecabulary, few people are able to give effective expression to their thoughts and feelings.

A developed, specially trained mind and manistriul self-expression are an invincible preparation for a successful life.

It is hardly likely that Woodbury will be headed in Division C, and Old York Road has a commanding lead in Division D. The plot of the competition is—the four winners qualify for the semifinal, which will be played on home and home courses one week from today, when the winner of the greatest number of individual matches plays the third in rank, and the second plays the fourth. Last year Harold B. McFarland, of Huntingdon Valley, took to wearing glasses, and consequently that sterling golfer, who then was low handicap man of the Golf Association of Philadelphia, found his game deteriorating. There is no doubling but that was the cause, but the wearing of glasses seems to have quite the opposite effect on George C. Thomas, Jr. Philadelphia Cricket Club. Two days after having his cyes treated, and equipped with a pair of those nice, round, goggles, Thomas played in a four ball match, with Alec Duncan as a pariner, against J. M. Harnes, professional at Whitemarsh, and his partner. In this match Thomas set the amateur mark for the reconstructed course of the Philadelphia Cricket Club at 75, as follows. phia Cricket Club at 75, as follows.

Incidentally, Thomas and Duncan won in the 19th hole.

For a consistent 36-hole performance it would be hard to beat the 139 made by Charles Hoffner, the Woodbury pro-fessional, in a three-ball match with George Green and Charles Greene over the Woodbury course. In the four rounds of the nine-hole course Hoffner had only one bad hole. That one was

The conclusion of the preliminary; the fourth, 475 yards, on the first round.

Excellent progress is being made in the Philadelphia Cricket Club championship. In the upper half of the draw Ira J. Williams has reached the semifinal by reason of victories over J. B. King, the international cricketer, and J. B. Colahan, Jr. The semifinalists in the other half are T. C. Henry, who heat F. M. Camp and E. S. Jamieson, and George J. Cooke, who registered victories over R. D. Brown and W. N. Price.

When golfers get together for a regular old-fashioned "nineteenth-hole" talsfest style and methods of play invariably come up for discussion. The position of the thumbs is a matter in which there is the widest difference, but even among the many who play with the thumbs down the shaft it is generally conceded that a little length is sacrificed. Better direction is, of course, the strong point in favor of the thumbs down as compared to the "two V grip.
