

STAND BY PRESIDENT, HIS OPINION IN CITY ON NEW MEXICAN POLICY

Financial Men Say They Are Thoroughly Prepared for Any Contingencies, Including Intervention, if That Be Necessary.

Leading professional and business men of this city today gave voice to varying opinions on the note of President Wilson calling on Mexico to end the conditions of revolution that have existed in that country for the last four years.

Unwavering support of the President in whatever action this Government may take is expressed in the majority of opinions. Financial men say the stock market is prepared even for active intervention and will not suffer materially should that come to pass.

A strong note of optimism runs through the statements of many brokers and financiers. Some of them hold that the note presented in the majority of the iron-blooms Mexican question and, therefore, no matter what its results, the dawn of better times for American capital invested in Mexico.

A well-informed broker who would not permit the use of his name suggested that the Mexican "Junta," with headquarters in New York, would be a serious financial interest, might end all the trouble in Mexico if so desired. He believes one effect of the note will be to bring pressure to bear on the "Junta" for peace in Mexico.

HUERTA SUPPORTED. The name of Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, who was forced out by the United States Government, also was mentioned in the quarters today as in some way connected with the so-called "Junta" in New York. It was suggested that the former dictator came to this country to work with the New York headquarters. But to what end was not made plain.

Frederick E. Narr, of the brokerage firm of Henry & West, in the Morris Building, expressed the opinion that not even intervention in Mexico, should it come to pass, would have much effect on the domestic securities market. Mr. Narr does not believe there will be any noticeable change in stocks as the result of the President's note to Mexico.

STOCK MARKET SECURE. "I do not think the President's note will make any difference to the stock market," said Mr. Narr. "It may affect certain stocks that have Mexican holdings, but in so far as domestic securities are concerned I cannot see where the note can cause any change. The stock market has been expecting a strong note and not even intervention would make much difference."

VARE SILENT. Congressman William S. Vare declined to commit himself on the note to Mexico. He said he had not read it, and when a copy was offered for his inspection said it would be two or three days before he would be ready to make a statement as to how he would wish to read the note several times prior to giving an opinion. The Congressman also declined to say whether or not he is in accord with the President until he has read the note.

"Before I say a word as to whether or not I am in favor of the policy outlined by the President, I would like to read the message over not once, but several times, and it will take two or three days before I will issue any statement."

SCOTT SUPPORTS PRESIDENT. Discussing the warning served by the President, Congressman Scott said that in this crisis, as in all others, the country should stand by the Chief Executive.

"The President should be upheld by every one in this grave situation," said he. "Further comment is unnecessary."

Congressman George S. Graham, while admitting that he had very distinct views on our Mexican policy, declined to give expression to them.

"I don't feel," said he, "that this is the time to create a party line."

PROFESSOR ROWE'S VIEWS. Prof. Leo S. Rowe, of the University of Pennsylvania and president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, said:

"President Wilson's decision to lend the active moral support of the United States Government to some man, or group of men, who can rally the suffering people of Mexico to their support, offers the possibility of the only really distinct and present distressing conditions in Mexico."

TILDEN SAYS "AMEN!" His support of the President's note was voiced by William T. Tilden, former president of the Union League and prominent business man, in the following terse sentence:

"All I can say is amen."

John Story Jenks, a member of the board of education and also one of the city's big business men, voiced similar sentiments.

"Anything to relieve the deplorable situation in Mexico meets with my approval," he said. "President Wilson is acting in the cause of humanity, and he should be given the support of the entire country."

WALL STREET PLEASSED WITH WILSON MESSAGE. Stocks With Mexican Affiliations Showed Marked Strength.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Advances ranging from a fraction of a point to 15 points were established in the stock market today prior to the publication of President Wilson's warning to Mexico.

When the actual text reached the financial district business came to a standstill for a time while traders and brokers read the note. Thereafter a light selling movement developed, but this did not last long, and before 2 o'clock prices had rallied to their earlier levels.

United States Steel, Lehigh Valley, Union Pacific, New York Central, Reading and Baltimore and Ohio showed a rally from last night's closing figures of from 1/2 to 3 points, whereas some industrial issues, such as the copper and smelting stocks, General Electric, General Motors and National Lead, were up from 1/2 to 1 point.

Wall street on the whole voiced approval of the President's stand, the only contention being that it should have been taken long ago. Of course, the securities that showed the greatest strength were those with Mexican affiliations, especially the mining issues with claims in that country.

BRUMBAUGH WIELDS VETO AX ON FIVE BILLS; APPROVES 13

Measures Increasing Cost of Legislative Reference Bureau and Pay of Appraisers Fail to Gain Executive Sanction.

HARRISBURG, June 2.—Vetoes of the bill sponsored by Senator Snyder, of Schuylkill, establishing a municipal reference bureau in the Legislative Reference Bureau, and of the McNichol Senate bill to pay appraisers appointed by Registers of Wills $5 per day instead of $2 were announced today by Governor Brumbaugh.

The veto as fell on three House bills also. They were the measure refunding $40 to the Robinson Furniture Company, of Dubois, because "it is purely and clearly a matter for the Board of Public Accounts"; amending the summary conviction law so that no execution may issue against a defendant for a summary conviction until the case has been tried; and the bill authorizing Christian Gertz, of Lancaster, administrator, to sue the State for a refund of moneys paid as collateral inheritance tax and now alleged to be excessive.

The question arose following the signature of the Governor says the law is satisfactory as it stands—and the bill authorizing Christian Gertz, of Lancaster, administrator, to sue the State for a refund of moneys paid as collateral inheritance tax and now alleged to be excessive.

The question arose following the signature of the Governor says the law is satisfactory as it stands—and the bill authorizing Christian Gertz, of Lancaster, administrator, to sue the State for a refund of moneys paid as collateral inheritance tax and now alleged to be excessive.

In vetoing the municipal reference bureau bill the Governor refers to the increased cost it would entail and says: "The legislative reference bureau is now doing much of this work—as much as it is capable of doing without erecting a bureau on a scale vastly larger and more expensive than this contemplated. He adds that until it is definitely settled what should be done it is well to let the matter rest."

The increase is not generally warranted, and must be made to serve the ends of compensation. Men who want only the fees are scarcely those that should be allowed to act."

FOUR BILLS VETOED; 13 SIGNED. Eighteen bills are in the batch which the Governor issued today to join the 25 he disposed of yesterday. Five of these are vetoes and 13 are approvals.

The measures approved include the bill forbidding employment at restaurants and other places where food is prepared, and requiring thorough cleanliness in dishes, utensils, towels, etc.; the Sproul bill, placing the cost of primary elections upon counties, and the bill appropriating $300,000 to continue the work at the Centre county penitentiary, which was started under the act of 1911.

The constitutional bill will save the State about $400,000 per year; heretofore the State has reimbursed the counties for these bills.

The constitutional bill carries no provisions except the appropriation and has nothing to do with the consolidation measure, also in the hands of the Governor.

REGULATION OF RESTAURANTS. The restraint regulation measure containing the provisions, No person suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs, external cancer, barbers' itch, any venereal disease or trachoma, or who is a typhoid carrier, may be employed as a cook, waiter or other servant about any restaurant, dining car or other public eating place. Individual towels must be furnished and changed at least once during the day before being used again. If a drinking cup is not to be "thoroughly cleaned," individual cups must be provided. The maximum fine is $100 and 30 days imprisonment.

OTHER BILLS APPROVED. The following Senate bills were also approved: Amending the act of 1910, by requiring purchase money mortgages to be recorded within 30 days in order to have priority of lien.

Validating appraisement proceedings, under the act of April 1, 1909. Authorizing Gilbert H. Springer and Wm. of Cambria County, to sue the State.

Authorizing Francis J. Boas, of Philadelphia, to sue the State. Providing that in an application for sale or lease of real estate through which a county line runs the court of the county in which the greater part of the plot lies, or in which the mansion house is situated, shall have jurisdiction.

Providing that the arbor days proclaimed by the Governor shall also be "ord days." This means that during arbor days, the fall days being proclaimed by the superintendent of public instruction.

Providing that when a minor without guardian applies for a marriage license in the absence of the father or mother, or Orphan's Court, the clerk of the court or his assistant may appoint a guardian.

Providing that a married woman who has been separated from her husband for a year or more and not been supported by him shall become a feme sole trader with absolute right to all her real and personal property.

Relating to the purchase or erection by counties of bridges connecting cities and boroughs.

The House bill amending the school code by regulating the annexation and consolidation of school districts was also approved.

FLAMES SWEEP PRINT SHOP; ENGINES AWAY

False Alarm Causes Delay in Putting Out Fire on South Fifth Street.

A pipe left smoldering among some papers and the prank of a gang of boys in "pulling" a false alarm contributed today to a disastrous fire in the printing shop of the Commercial and Snyder avenues.

At the same time that the firemen of Engine Company No. 43 were answering a false alarm—the fourth this month—at Commercial and Snyder avenues, fire broke out in the printing shop on the east side of the building.

The fire spread quickly and the place soon was a mass of flames. Meyer Snyder and his wife Rose, who live on the second floor, were overcome by smoke and were carried out by Policeman West. The woman was bruised by a fall and was treated at St. Michael's hospital.

By the time the firemen could respond to the alarm, the rear of the shop was totally destroyed. The damage was $500.

L'AUSTRIA PREPARA UN ATTACCO CONTRO L'ITALIA IN CARNIA

Le Dreadnoughts del Duca degli Abruzzi Cercano Invano la Flotta Nemica Per Darle Battaglia.

ROMA, 2 Giugno. Giunge notizia che gli austriaci, conosciuti del pericolo da cui sono minacciati, hanno portato notevoli rinforzi verso la vallata di Ampezzo allo scopo di attaccare gli italiani che in questa regione hanno due circoli strategici di importanza. Probabilmente gli austriaci tenteranno di attaccare gli italiani che occupano le posizioni di Montebelluna e di Salsomaggiore.

Una squadra di aerei italiani, al comando del capitano di artiglieria Ferruccio, e la strada della Val di Posteria, una delle principali vie di comunicazione tra Vienna e Trento.

Un aereo austriaco è stato abbattuto nei pressi di Montebelluna. I resti dell'aereo sono stati trovati nei pressi di Montebelluna. L'aereo era diretto verso la vallata di Ampezzo.

Le navi della nostra flotta da guerra in crociera per tutta la giornata di ieri furono colpite da due aerei austriaci. Uno dei nostri aerei fu abbattuto. Gli austriaci hanno distrutto il semaforo del Poleso di Cursola.

Lissa e sull'isola omonima, a sud del porto di Trieste.

RUMANIA E BULGARIA. Un telegramma da Bucarest dice che un accordo di pace è stato concluso tra la Rumania e la Bulgaria per una simultanea dichiarazione di guerra di questi due paesi contro l'Austria. Si dice che la Rumania avrà il controllo di Dobruja e Dobruja alla Bulgaria ed ha chiesto all'Austria compensazioni territoriali per la sua neutralità.

Un aereo austriaco ha bombardato l'altare della città di Melfetta, sulla costa africana. Un aereo austriaco ha lasciato cadere bombe nelle vicinanze della cattedrale, del palazzo vescovile e sul piccolo cantiere. Un operaio che lavorava nel cantiere è rimasto ucciso da una bomba.

L'artiglieria italiana ha cominciato questa mattina il bombardamento delle posizioni fortificate austriache di Rovereto. Le artiglierie italiane piazzate sulla cima di Monte Altissimo hanno già distrutto il ponte ferroviario sull'Adige e hanno danneggiato la stazione di Rovereto. Le piogge torrenziali hanno ostacolato non poco la marcia delle truppe italiane lungo la vallata dell'Adige, ma dispanchi hanno oggi dicono che gli austriaci hanno ugualmente sofferto per le piogge glaciali la piena dei torrenti ha trascinato parecchie delle loro trincee a sud di Rovereto. Ieri sera si annunciava ufficialmente che il nemico si era ritirato.

Finora è stato perlopiù impossibile trasportare sulla montagna le fortificazioni pesanti di Rovereto. Nonostante che la presa di questa città e la continuazione della marcia su Trento siano ritenute certe nei circoli militari romani, questi riconoscono però che la natura del terreno e la difesa austriaca, immenso vantaggio per la difesa specialmente attorno a Mori. Ivi il nemico è trincerato dietro grandi rocce che si susseguono in vari ordini come altrettante barricate lungo la ferrovia di Trento-Trofare.

Da queste opere di trinceramento le mitragliatrici possono infliggere perdite gravissime alle forze attaccanti. E un fatto che la lotta impegnata attorno a Rovereto desta qui la maggiore attenzione. I comunicati ufficiali non accennano ad una ripresa di attività nella vallata dell'Adige, ma si sa che l'avanzamento degli italiani procede soddisfacentemente sul fronte trentino-trofare.

Questa mattina un violento quello di artiglieria e impegnato nella vallata dell'Adige dove le fortificazioni di Mori sono state colpite da due aerei austriaci. Sono state fatte bersaglio dei grossi cannoni italiani. Nel tempo medesimo le forze italiane operanti nella conca di Ampezzo hanno stabilito in loro base a Cortina ed insierano una marcia convergente su Trento dopo aver intercettato la ferrovia di Val di Posteria.

STOP FIGHTING, IS PRESIDENT'S COMMAND TO MEXICAN CHIEFS. Continued from Page One. ing about a settlement which will embody the real objects of the revolution, constitutional government and the rights of the people.

Patriotic Mexicans are sick at heart and cry out for peace and for every self-sacrifice that may be necessary to procure it. Her people cry out for food and will presently hate as much as they fear every man, in their country or out of it, who stands between them and their daily bread.

It is time, therefore, that the Government of the United States should frankly state the policy which in these extraordinary times it becomes its duty to adopt. It must presently do what it has not hitherto done or felt at liberty to do, lend its active moral support to some men or group of men, if such may be found, who can rally the suffering people of Mexico to their support in an effort to ignore, if they cannot unite, the warring factions of the country, return to the constitution of the Republic so long in abeyance, and set up a Government at Mexico City which the great powers of the world can recognize and deal with, a Government with whom the program of the revolution will be a business and not merely a platform.

MUST GET TOGETHER. I, therefore, publicly and very solemnly call upon the leaders of factions in Mexico to act together and to act promptly for the relief and redemption of their prostrate country.

I feel it my duty to tell them that, if they cannot accommodate their differences and unite for this great purpose within a very short time, this Government will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people.

WOODROW WILSON. Dated the White House, Washington, June 2, 1915.

That the United States will have to select Mexico's "man of iron" was the opinion expressed late this afternoon by the officials here most familiar with the situation south of the Rio Grande.

Not only in official quarters, but among diplomats familiar with the ambitions of the men now in the saddle in Mexico, did this belief find utterance. They declared that under the words of the President himself there is nothing left for him to do, if the factions prove obstinate, but to select a man or men who will lead Mexico's millions into progressive conditions.

The $100,000 item for the reconstruction of the Philadelphia General Hospital has not been appropriated, and he can obtain no action from Councils on the matter, declared Dr. S. Lewis Ziegler, Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities, at a meeting of Mayor Blankenburg's Cabinet today.

Doctor Ziegler said that the $100,000 loan bill, which is included in the item for the hospital, has been in the hands of the Finance Committee for several months, without action having been taken on it. He said, in a disappointed condition, that the three members of the committee, while the improvements are being unecessarily delayed, Mayor Blankenburg stated that he would urge the Council to take action tomorrow morning to provide the proper relief for the hospital.

CHILD LABOR LAW WILL KEEP 22,000 AT BOOKS

Pupils Who Might Have Had to Quit School Will Continue at Studies.

Twenty-two thousand children who otherwise might have to leave school and go to work will continue their studies as a result of the child labor act passed by the last session of the Legislature, according to the report of Dr. William C. Jacob, superintendent of public schools. The report was submitted to inform the Board of Education what it will have to do to comply with the child labor act. It was received by the Committee on Education of the Senate this afternoon. About $5,000,000 will be necessary to meet the requirements of the act within the next two years.

The plan of the woman suffrage party of the Bureau of Vocational Education to that of a department, at the same time promoting its chief, John C. Frazer, and the position of Associate Superintendent of Schools and increasing his salary from $3000 a year to $4500. This was urged by Doctor Jacob, who informed the committee that Mr. Frazer could easily get $2000 a year from several other cities.

The Board of Education will have to employ more clerks, teachers and examiners physically to meet the requirements of the child labor act. It also will have to build new schools and add many extra classrooms to old structures.

The plan of the woman suffrage party to have a suffrage essay contest among children of the elementary schools was defeated by the Elementary Schools Committee at the meeting today. A subcommittee report of the contest was announced some time ago. Today it reported without recommendation either way, and the main committee tabled the proposition.

In their private lives the woman suffrage party tried to have the essays either for or against suffrage.
