HARRIS ON FRANK CASE

Governor-elect, If He Determines Fate, Will Be Fair.

RICHMOND, Va., June 2.-Governor-elect Nate Harris, of Georgia, here at-

"I have been anticipating that the Frank case will come to me for action.

It is a case in which a great many people are taking interest, and more than 8000 letters are coming in daily bearing on it. In addition there are large numbers of petitions for clemency bearing a million names, I reckon.

"Leo Frank is sentenced to die June 22. That is four days before I take the oath of office. Governor Siaton will have to reprieve him, or take some other action to stay the execution. That may pass it up to me. Sentiment regarding Frank is considerably divided, and whatever action is taken will subject the Governor to severe criticism.

RICHMOND PROMISES TO EJECT SUCCESSOR

Deposed Rector Says He Will Use Physical Force, if Necessary, and Defy Bishop.

The Rev. H. M. G. Huff will be prerented from entering the yard of St. John's Episcopal Church, 2d and Brown streets, if need be by physical force, on Sunday morning, when he will go there to preach at the request of Bishop Rhine-lander, who asked the rector of the church, the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, to quit the parish and turn the new vestry, known as the "curbstone vestry." on o

Authority for this statement came from Doctor Richmond Ioday when he emphatically declared that he still is the ector of St. John's Church, and that no epresentative of the Bishop would be dlowed to set foot on the ground of the parish, either new or on Sunday

"This man Huff has nothing to do with the church and won't have anything to do with it." Doctor Richmond said. "Neither will any other Huffs, 'Snuffs' nor any other person sent there by Bishop Rhine-vestry of the church, present on Sunday morning and the gates to the churchyard will be guarded so that neither the Rev. Mr. Huff nor any other of the bishop's growd will be permitted to enter. It is also possible that I may prevent any member of the "curbstone vestry" from entering, as I will not permit disorderly persons to be in the church. Once be-fore, when they were present, they be-came disorderly.

"You can say that I would not even permit Bishop Rhinelander to enter the church on Sunday. My church people have no respect for him and we don't want to have anything to do with him. He is acting mean and contemptible in naming this man Huff to preach in the church, and he has no authority to do so. Why does he not wait until the courts decide as to the legality of the "curbstone yearry." I think that he and his crowd are getting affaid of the action of the court, and for that reason requested that the hearing set for today be post-poned until the 22d. Whenever Bishop Binielander has any dirty work to be done he calls upon this man Huff to do it for him. Well, one thing's certain, Mr. Huff will find that I am the rector of St. John's Church and that he'll never be able to enter it."

subjects of the sermons he intends to

There is every possibility of legal action being starred within the next few days to compel Mr. Richmond to turn over the keys, books and property of St. John's Church to the accounting and rector's warden of the new veatry as requested by Bishop Rhinelander.

Following a fruitiess search by Charles A. Brown, rector's warden, and LeRoy A. McDermott, accounting warden, of the new vestry, for Mr. Richmond, yesterday, for the purpose of formally requesting that the church property be turned over to them, J. Wilson Bayard, attorney for the new vestry, decided to make formal request in writing to Mr. Richmond, through the attorney for the clergyman. The hearing, which was to have been held before Judge Ferguson, of Common Pleas Court No. 2. today, at which it was expected to establish the legality of the new vestry, commonly known as the "curbstone vestry," has been postponed until June 22.

ITALIAN COLUMNS PUSH THROUGH RIVER VALLEYS INTO AUSTRIA

West of the Lake of Garda, in the valley of the Chiese, an Italian column has advanced and occupied the Austrian town of Storo. Italian heavy artillery has been placed on the top of Monte Altissimo, west of Garda, and is shelling the fortifications of Mori. A second column, the main one, is advancing along the valley of the Adige River, and has taken the forts of Serravalle. A third column is advancing on the road of the Fugazze, between the Adige and Brenta Rivers. A fourth column is well ahead in its advance along the valley of the Chiese, and yesterday it was reported to have reached a point six miles east of the town of Borgo. Meantime artillery duels and minor engagements are going on on the plateau of Lavarone, which has been wholly occupied by the Italians, who have occupied also the whole depression of Ampezzo, in Cadore. On the eastern front the Italians are besieging the Austrian fortress of Malboghetto, on the Pontebbo-Tarvis road, while a column is advancing from Caporetto toward Predil Pass, on the upper Isonzo Valley. The main Italian army is attacking with its heavy guns the strong Austrian fortifications of the Goritz-Gradisca-Montfalcone line.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

THERE is no desire for a Local Option law in Pennsylvania by citizens who thoroughly understand, from study or experience, that it is a FALLACY to expect benefit from such statute.

THE FACT is "option" was already vested in this State's citizenship. For last Fall there was local "option" in every county for the electorate to support Representatives either known to be "for" or "against" the sale of liquors. In FACT this question was made the one big issue, in the Fall campaign.

CANDIDATES for the Legislature were quizzed whether they would favor "wet" or "dry" legislation; and the people, in their "option" privilege, cast ballots for a great majority of Representatives known to be against the then contemplated Local Option bill.

EVEN the Anti-Saloon League organ, The American Issue, commenting upon the subsequent failure of a Local Option bill before the Legislature, remarked: "The question was settled at the Primaries last May." And The United Presbyterian said: "Any other result than defeat was hardly to have been expected. The question was made an issue in the campaign which elected the present Legislators." To which the Altoona Times added: "It must have been known to the Governor that the Legislature elected last November was overwhelmingly hos-tile to Local Option legislation." IN THE face of these FACTS it is a FALLACY to say that Pennsylvanians desire Local Option. For it is a

FACT that the men who voted against Local Option in the last Pennsylvania Legislature were elected by their constituents-because they were opposed to just such
