BOSTON IN MATCHES

New Englanders This Afternoon Win But Four Contests of 15 Scheduled in Intercity Contest at Merion Cricket Club.

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 3.-New York absolutely smothered Boston in the twoball matches here this morning in the first of the series of intercity contests between New York, Hoston and Philadelphia for the Clement A. Griscom Cup. Out of 15 matches Boston won only four. The New Englanders must win all fourball matches this afternoon to even tie the Metropolitans, a feat practically out of the question. Boston started well enough by winning.

the first two matches.

Miss Margaret Curtis, Boston, and Miss Lillian Hyde, New York, played number one on their respective sides, and Miss one on their respective sides, and Miss Curtis gained what may appear on the surface a rather easy victory over her opponent, 4 up and 3 to play. There was some excuse for Miss Hyde's sefeat. In the first place the course was totaly unfamiliar, and it is an extremely difficult one unless you have played it before, and in the second she did not receive the best of advice from her caddle. Miss Fanny C, Osgood gained a meritorious victory over Mrs. H. R. Stockton, 4 up and 2 to play. With the exception of a couple of matches New York swept the board after this, and there were only two matches that were at all close. two matches that were at all close.

Mrs. A. S. Rossin, of New York, de-feating Miss D. W. Crosby, 1 up, and Miss J. Alexander, New York, beating Miss D. Bail, 1 up, Miss Louiss A. Wells and Miss D. A. MacCarthy, both of Boston, turned in victories for their side. Miss Wells gained a most convincing victory over Miss Elsa Pickhardt, 6 up and 4 to play, and Miss MacCarthy defeated the New York captain, Mrs. Lawrence Swift.

"Iron Jaw John Quinn, the Boss of Bevil's Den," is not a moving picture pray, merely the name of an aggressive individual who ruled the gang in an abandoned stable on East Girard avenue, die was a little Nero in his own bailiwick sad seemed to be happiest when he was angry. "Iron Jaw John" won the title by a feat performed many years ago when he bit six nalls in halves and won's lis bill. He never forgot it and won't permit any one else to. Quinn doesn't like to be annoyed when he is walking along the street and when a careless house-keeper accidentally swept some dust on him he pulled the broom from her hand and broke it in two. Another woman expressed her disapproval of the ungalant act and John broke a bucket with which she was bathing the sidewalk into splinters. vidual who ruled the gang in an

"Out it!" shouted Mike.

In reply, John tried to cut the cop's less with a whip. Mike pulled the whip from John and lushed him all the way to the East Girard avenue station.

The iron jaw of Quinn was still set with wrath when he was stood up before Manstrate Stevenson.

"You will be just as handy with a sec as you were with the whip," said the Judge, "and you can szercise at the House of Correction for 30 days."

The more that George Fitier's wife works the happier he is—and there's a ratem. He figures that the more money are makes over the washtub the more is will have to drink, the police say. The husband said his arrest was due to a misunderstanding, but the Judge placed his faith in the teatimony given by the cop and sent Fitler to the "Correction" for three menths.

In five years we have built up our farm on a saving of $2000, which is all the money I have actually put into the $25,000. All the rest has been taken out of the land.
