Splendid Pleasure Craft Takes Its Plunge Into the Delaware.

Plunge Into the Delaware. George W. Childs Drexel's new $30,000 yacht Akbar was launched at the Mathis Yacht Building Company, Cooper Point, at 12:45 o'clock today. The palatial pleasure boat was christened by Mrs. Drexel. Foi-lowing the launching Mr. and Mrs. Drexel and a party of friends had luncheon on the yacht as it rode at anchor in the Delaware River. The Akbar is one of the most modern and best equipped yachts constructed. It is 75 feet long and only 11% feet beam. Two 200-horsepower engines, constructed speed of 22 knots an hour. There is no sun deck to the Akbar. The cock pits, fore and aft, are inclosed. The features of the yacht are double state-rooms and a magnificently furnished salon. The interior of the boat is in brown mahogany.

Reiterated Demands for Sanctity of American Lives on High Seas Crux of New Text Delivered to Berlin.

WASHINGTON, June 10.-President Wilson's second note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania which precipitated the crisis in the Cabinet culminating in the resignation of William J. Bryan as Secretary of State, was believed here to have reached Ambassador Gerard in Berlin early today. It was anticipated that the Ambassador would present the communication immediately to the German Foreign Office. It will be given out tonight for publication tomorrow morning.

It is understood here that the German s a number of German guns. The Government will not make answer to the new measage from the United States until after Meyer Gerhard, the special enyoy chosen by Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, to outline the American point of view to the Govern-ment at Berlin, arrives and explains the situation. This, it is estimated, will take at least a week or ton days. It is realized that the Wilson note, though friendly in tone, permits no ex-tended parley. Through Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, the State Department today received the German reply to this country's represen-tations relative to the sinking of the American salling vessel, with its wheat cargo, consigned "to order" in England, by the Venezie and an order of the total card by the Kaiser's raider Prinz Eitel Fried The text is insistent on German rights and privileges, and its tone, while not hostile, has elements in it that may in-dicate a lack of amicable language in the

Today's note proved that the reference ot a prize court was anything but per-functory, as had been previously be-functory, as had been previously be-lieved. Germany does not concede that the sinking of the Frys violated the Prus-sian-American treaty, as was previously supposed, the Berlin Foreign Office ad-mitted. It contends that prize court pro-cedure is absolutely necessary to a satis-factory adjustment of the case. Germany however does admit the Us.

Germany, however, does admit its lis-ility for damages, repeats its willingness to make reparation, and adds that, should the prize court adjustment prove unsatisfactory, the Government, if necessary, would overrule the court to satisfy the United States, Insistence on prize court proceedings was based on a German law passed early in the war.

The scores of William Butler Company chain stores in this city will be purchased by Robinson & Crawford and the Hell Company as the result of an agreement drawn up today at a meeting of repre-sentatives of the three chain store companies and attorneys in the Real Estate Trust Building. Details have not been made public, but the purchase price is said to approximate $275,000.

No real estate save that at Broad and Arch streets, where the headquarters are ocated, is owned by the William Butler Company. The firm has 125 stores scat-tered throughout the city, renting each property. Robinson & Crawford and the Bell Company will purchase the stock and good will, and divide up the stores. According to the present plana, the corporation of William Butler Company is not to go out of business. The firm name will be retained. It was intimated today that the corporation might go into some other line of business. Just what the plans are was not divulged. So far no announcement has been made as to the plans for the employes.
