in nice fashion. "Mr. Ryan" Malone dit-toed and they both advanced on Chap-man's muff of Leibold's throw from centre. Ropf then produced a home run on tre. Ropf then produced a home run on a hit to left that should have been a single if Smith had not overrun it and done several other things that "How to Flay Haseball" says not to do.

The Indians' run in their turn at bat followed an investment that should have yielded better interest. Two bases on balls, a two-bagger and an infield single seemed more than enough to even up, but the single chip was all they pocketed.

but the single chip was all they pocketed.

Wambsganss' corking three-bagger to right centre went for nothing in the next frame. He's a good one-this Wambsganss. He'd get into print more were it not for the fact that there is no use choking the linotype machine too often. Another one went up on the scoreboard for the Macks in the fifth, when Murphy got in through a force, stole second and scored on Barry's three-bagger to right. It was a sreat day for long hits. Another proof in the first half of the sixth. Smith hit for three cushions against the right-field fence. It did little good, however, as Wambsgann's could not repeat and grounded out.

Connie's band sewed the game up within reason in the sixth. Walker lost phy got in through a force, stole second

Mr. Wambaganss may be able to bat, but he booted things more or less as a felder in this inning. There wasn't a class trot and the horses crossed the Nap, it seemed, that did not require two tries at the ball to hold it. When the dust cleared the score was il to i.

is a very difficult thing to do unless you have personally visited and investigated a large number. In order to help you and save you a great amount of correspondence and tiresome investigation, LEDGER CENTRAL sent out a college graduate to visit schools and colleges. He has spent several months visiting all the best schools in the East, securing all sorts of information at first hand and is qualified to help you find the school best suited to the peculiar needs of your boy or girl, at whatever price you can afford to pay. The service is free, and we suggest that you get in touch with the Bureau at once, as many schools are registering pupils now, and will be filled to capacity before June. Call, write or phone.
