

CAR BUILDERS UPHOLD PRESIDENT TO A MAN

Association of Master Workmen Sends Strong Message of Support to Executive.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 15.—Amid thunderous applause the Master Car Builders' Association, including representatives of every railroad system in the United States, Canada and Mexico, today voted unanimously in favor of the stand of President Wilson in the present foreign crisis.

The introduction of the motion came unexpectedly. J. J. Hennesey, of West Milwaukee, Wis., interrupting reports of committees, called upon the delegates to voice the sentiments of the capitalists in their own trade.

His first few words gave an inkling of what was to follow, and the hall rang with cheers before the reading of the telegram had been finished.

The telegram, White House, Washington, D. C.: "The Master Car Builders' Association of America, comprising the mechanical officials of the railways of the United States, in session at Atlantic City, N. J., sends you assurances of its enthusiastic approval of the notes dispatched by you to the Imperial German Government, calling for the maintenance inviolate of all rights of American citizens on the high seas."

Regardless of the political affiliations of its members, the association, as one man, applauds the patriotism of your course and the wisdom of your utterances during this critical period of the progress of the dreadful European war.

We profoundly sympathize with you for the heavy burden of responsibility you are bearing for your fellow countrymen at this juncture and are deeply encouraged.

At this time every American should stand heart and soul with our President.

Per J. W. Taylor, Secretary.

HIGH SCHOOL ANIMALS HEADLINE THIS CIRCUS

All Sorts of Fun for Boys and Girls and Others at Gentry Show.

Cheer up, children, the circus is here. It's not the largest circus in the world, but it is surely "some" show.

Lovers of music, lovers of dancing, lovers of animals, in fact, all who like to see both children and grown-ups have a good time.

The "Itzy" show, as above stated, is a troupe including nearly 200 persons, 50 ponies and horses that are just too sweet for words.

The "Itzy" concert is a "circus." It is given by monkeys and dogs. Besides the usual monkey fire brigade and patrol wagon, the monkeys enact a little barber shop scene.

The Avalon Troupe has a long list of acrobatic and hair-raising stunts. One of the many features of the show is "Raleigh," the North Carolina mule.

TARZAN OF THE APES

The Thrilling Adventures of a Primeval Man and an American Girl

CHAPTER XXVII.—(Continued). "Certainly, sir; certainly, sir," exclaimed Professor Porter. "How could you doubt it?"

"There is young Clayton, you know," suggested Canler. "He has been hanging about for months."

"Tut-tut, Mr. Canler; unless—what?" "Unless you see fit to request that Jane and I be married at once," said Canler, slowly and distinctly.

"I have already suggested to Jane that she would be desirable," said Professor Porter, slyly. "For we can no longer afford to keep up this house and live as her associations demand."

"What was her reply?" asked Canler. "She said she was ready to marry any one who would support her."

"Clayton has gone there?" exclaimed Canler, visibly chagrined. "Why was not I told? I would gladly have gone and seen that every comfort was provided."

"Jane feels that we are already too much in your debt, Mr. Canler," said Professor Porter.

Canler was about to reply when the sound of footsteps came from the hall without, and Jane Porter entered the room.

"Oh, beg your pardon!" she exclaimed, pausing on the threshold. "I thought you were alone, papa."

"I don't know that I care for him; but he has a very considerable estate from his father, and it might not be strange, if he finally won her, unless—"

"I don't know that I care for him; but he has a very considerable estate from his father, and it might not be strange, if he finally won her, unless—"

"You haven't refused to marry me, but you haven't promised, either."

"But you, Mr. Canler, would have me marry a man who is nearly as old as I am, and who is a poor business man for that."

"You had a greater hold on the honor of the Porter household, Jane, than you have now."

"Jane Porter was not married before she left her father and Emmeralda for her little Wisconsin farm."

"The farm, which stood on a little elevation some hundred yards from the town, had under it a complete transformation during the three weeks that Clayton and Mr. Philander had been there."

"The former had imported a small army of carpenters and masons, plumbers and painters from a distant city, and what had been but a dilapidated shell when they reached it was now a cosy little two-story house filled with every modern convenience procurable in so short a time."

"Why, Mr. Clayton, what have you done with my father's house?" Jane Porter asked. "It is a palace."

PLAN NAVAL REVIEW FOR CITY ON FOURTH

Secretary Daniels Instructs Admiral Benson to Send as Many Ships as Possible.

This city may be treated to a miniature naval review on the Delaware on July 5th in connection with the national Fourth celebration as a result of the co-operation which is being shown in Washington concerning the event.

Secretary Daniels today instructed Admiral W. S. Benson, Chief of Naval Operation, to send as many battleships as possible to Philadelphia on July 4th, and it is believed that with those at the Navy Yard there will be at least a dozen of Uncle Sam's fighters in the stream, decorated in keeping with the occasion.

It was learned that Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane could not represent the nation as principal speaker at the Independence Hall ceremonies, and it is probable that Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison will deliver the principal address.

A special invitation to attend the national Fourth of July celebration here will be framed today for Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, and a special messenger will take it to him personally.

The reconstructed Fourth of July Committee, which has $500 of city-appointed funds to distribute among 13 separate neighborhoods to finance games and contests in the interests of a "safe and sane Fourth," needs more funds.

It is expected Mayor Blankenburg will call Council in a message, Thursday, to appropriate $500 additional to that committed to the Common Councilman Robert Smith, of the 36th Ward, is chairman of the body that is composed mainly of private citizens.

Chairman Smith later said the call had been made at the request of Director Porter, and that he could not understand why they should not rather have conferred with the City Solicitor on the matter.

"We are only concerned in a safe and sane observance of the day," he said. "Not one cent of our money is to be spent for fireworks. That has been made emphatic to the committee. There has been no occasion for Director Porter or Superintendent of Police Robinson to delay issuing fireworks orders just to hear what we, or private citizens, had to say."

BOY SCOUTS TO FORM HUMAN LIBERTY BELL

Flag Formed by Girls Will Be Another Feature in Fourth of July Fete.

A human Liberty Bell, formed by Boy Scouts, and a number of other surprises will be provided at the triple Fourth of July celebration which will be held by Arrangements, lawfully and Crescentville.

These communities a national reputation through moving pictures which will be made of the event. Plans for the celebration were made last night at a meeting at the headquarters of the improvement associations representing the sections, and the co-operation of all three communities will make this one of the largest and most interesting events of the Fourth.

The program is being arranged under the direction of Charles J. Kraus, who is the originator of the Liberty Bell idea. He proposed to construct it on Gaubert's street in the form of a large Liberty Bell.

BEER DRINKING SHOWS LARGE DECREASE HERE

Consumption During Last 3 Months of Last Year Fell Off 70,000 Barrels.

Breweries of the Philadelphia district report to the Collector of Internal Revenue a falling off of from five to fifteen per cent in the consumption of malted liquor for the last three months of this year as compared with the corresponding three months of last year.

Stormy weather and a late spring and season of mists have been the principal causes of the decrease.

The Anti-Saloon League, secretary of the State, said: "Without a doubt Pennsylvania is undergoing a reformation. Cold weather undoubtedly decreases the sale of beer, but not to the extent being set by the brewers."
