ORECT A ZIEGLER HAS SEVERAL MEN IN VIEW FOR ASSISTANT'S POST

wilson Goes to New York, and Successor Is Assured of Tenure Limited to Six Months of Present Administration.

parenter S. Lewis Ziegler, of the Dearment of Health and Charities, said day that he is considering several men appointment as Assistant Director of the department, but has not definitely deallel whom he will name. Stranslatant Director Wilson left yesmetay to become Director of Investiga-in the Department of Charitties of the Tork City.

It is understood that several appointments Director Ziegler will be called upon make in the new Division of Housing and Sanitation that councilmants leaders for promised to establish before the same promiser of an assistant. There will be a number of executive setting to be filled in the Housing Division, even after transfer of present side, even after transfer of present House Divisions are made.

It is believed that Councils' leaders will resist that Chief James F. McCrudden, of this Sanitation Division, and Chief A. E. Jashbela, of the Tenement House Division be provided for in the new division and it is further expected that Director leader will make the transfers to insure the step of Councils in financing the ser will make the transfers to insure operation of Councils in financing the pirector Ziegler is confronted with the Director Ziegier is confronted with the preblem of obtaining for only six months a man of executive ability to fill the $4000 a year position as assistant director of his igarment. Almost simultaneously he nest choose executives for the Housing briston which will be regarded as more semanent employment and consequently sets desirable. Men considered for the sets desirable are declared to favor berths in

Make Housing Division.

A schedule of the positions to be filled in the new Housing Division will be sent to Mayor Blankenburg by Director Regier for presentation to Councils, to-merrow. That schedule will outline the emplate organization of the division, with the suggested salaries of the 100 or more settions definitely stipulated for Councils' sification. All appointments will be sification. All appointments will be safe by Director Ziegler. Councils will make final determination of the salary

WOMAN ROUTS BURGLAR BY ATTACK WITH CHAIR

Attacks Negro Intruder When Summoned by Baby's Cry.

mother's bravery when she heard 1-year-old son screaming today led in the capture of a negro burglar sur-prised in the set of attempting to rob a suse of several hundred dollars. He res caught after a chase of several

Mary McKane, of 913 Hamilton street, was talking with a neighbor in most of her home this morning when she heard her little boy John screaming her little boy John screaming fright. He and a 3-months-old were sleeping in a room on the i floor. Mrs. Mekane rushed up-A Negro was standing in the of the room. Seizing a chair, she fright. stacked him, and he fled, jumping out

A crowd gave chase, and the man was spinred near 16th and Spring Garden streets by Policeman Reynolds, of the Germaniown station, who was off duty. Taken before Magistrate Belcher, of the lin and Buttonwood streets station, the prisoner gave his name as Nick Jeffer-en, 1921 Lombard street. He was given three months in the House of Correction. three months in the figure of Collection He admitted that he had been convicted of burglary before. There were several hundred dollars in a trunk in the room shich he entered.

THE WEATHER

Official Forecast

WASHINGTON, June 15. For eastern Pennsylvania and New Jer-my-Probably showers tonight and Wednesday; not so warm tonight; gentle west winds.

blowers and thunder storms covered showers and thunder storms covered most of the great central valleys, por-ions of the plains States and the Lake region, and occurred in widely scattered scalines along the Atlantic slope during ha last 24 hours. A moderate disturbance necespreads the Lake region this morn-ing and extends southward in a shallow bough-like depression to the eastern Gulf The temperatures continue ab-States and are correspondingly low in New England and the Middle West, while fosts are reported from North Dakota.

U. S. Weather Bureau Bulletin

Low
last Rain- Veloc-
Blatton, 8 a.m. n't. fall. Wind, ity Weather,
Allene, Tex 68 68 E 6 Cloudy
MEMBER CITY AS AS SE S COMMON
THE STATE OF THE AN INC. A PROPERTY
Juston, Mass 56 54 E 12 Rain
uffalo, N. Y
Chago, In 52 82 ,22 W 10 P.Cloudy
Pretand, Onto, 62 58 ,28 W 10 Rain
Dialer, Colo 52 48 SW 4 Clear
Dealer, Colo 52 48 SW 4 Clear
Mnines, Ia. 60 54 . W 6 Clear
Petruit, Mich 56 52 .50 N 10 Cloudy mental, 311nn 50 48 .14 NW 18 Clear Butterille, Tex. 82 82 . B 4 Cloudy
Marriaburg, Pa 76 74 S 6 Cloudy
matterns N. C. 78 TO SW 12 Clear Homa, Mont. 84 89 SVC 4 P.Cloudy
teen, S. D 50 44 .42 NW 4 Clear Schoolville, Pla. 80 74 S 12 Clear
BEERSEN FRED MA THE RA BE GW & Class
Wertle, Ky 70 70 .08 NW 12 Cloudy
Samphie, Tenn., 68 66 30 NE 6 Cloudy
semphia, Tenn., 68 66 30 NE 6 Cloudy
Or Orleans 74 68 2.14 NW S Cloudy
Rist Tork 10 86 E 10 Cloudy Ristle, Neb. 56 50 N 4 Clear Mahma, Okla. 58 56 .52 NE 4 Cloudy
Platte, Neb. 5d 50 N 4 Clear
Stahoma, Okla. 58 58 .52 NE 4 Cloudy
Mahirgh, Pa., 70 68 .02 8 8 Cloudy
testiand. Me. 54 52 N 12 Cloudy
THE PARTY OF THE P
10 King Chara and King 2012 1913 Children Character Char
Paul, Minn. 56 54 .01 N 18 Clear Lake, Utah 56 54 . SE2 4 Clear alt Lake, Utah 56 54 , Sip 4 Clear Francisco., 50 50 SW 6 Cloudy
Panciaco 50 50 SW 6 Cloudy
Franton, Pa 74 80 880 6 Cloudy
Manager 50 38 02 850 5 C100.0
Observations at Philadelphia
8 A M. 200
Daremeter
of the Person States

Charles of the contract of the	ons at Philac	1000000000
Minster	5 A M.	30.03
Constar		ARREST TO
		South, d miles
the state of the s	W	Traca
Middley	24 hours	19
		GREAT STATE
imum temper	uture	***********
On the	he Pacific Cor	ist
		dy: temp., 50

Bitgo ..... Weather, cloudy; temp., 50

Almanac of the Day

Lamps to Be Lighted as and other vehicles .....

The Tides

PORT RICHMOND. CHESTNUT STREET WHARF BEEDY BLAND. water lumorrow

BREAKWATER

DANCING $5 is the Summer rate for six private dancing lessons; single second, ill THE CORTISSOZ SCHOOL 1620 Chanting 84. Plante, Locust 8182.

A GREAT MYSTERY STORY

Copyright, 1915, by Mary Roberts Rinehard By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART Author of "The Man in Lower Ten"

CHAPTER VI-(Continued). "Fine!" said Ward heartlly. "We'll get to that before long." "If you had fallen-"

He was not listening. It came to her how far apart they were. To her his how far apart they were. To her his falling would have been an end of all things; to him, it would have meant the beginning of a useful eternity.

"If you wait a little, I'll run around and get my car and take you up."

She sat down again, obediently. She was glad to be with him a little longer. Until recently, the work of the band had always seemed a vague abstraction. Now one of its results lay before her. And there were other things fresh in her mind—old Hilary, dead of his revolt against law, and lying in state before an altar erected to a God he had not recognized. And Ward, watching her windows and thinking her the embodiment of what a woman should be. Over her bitterness rose a hot wave of anger against Walter Huff. She had forbidden this thing and he had done it.

WARD brought her a cup of coffee, and stood by with satisfaction while she drank it. In his eyes there was a mixture of depression and joy. The parish house was gone, and this girl parish house was gone, and this girl before him was to marry another man. But they would build another parish house, and who knew—

He drove her up the hill in his small car. At the top of a rise he stopped the car and looked back. The night's devastation showed clearly, a black wound in the smiling heart of the valley.

Elinor watched him.

"It means a great deal to you, doesn't

"It means a great deal to you, doesn't it?"

It's rather a facer. Of course, we will build again, but there are things that could not be replaced. That isn't what troubles me. The fact is, I am what troubles me. The tact is, I am afraid I'm responsible.

"I was there last night, alone. I have a bad habit, when I have a mental problem to worry out, of walking up and down a room and lighting one cigarette after another. I am reckiess with

Then perhaps, after all, Walter had not done it!
The car climbed slowly. Ward kept his eyes straight ahead. Elinor cast little shy glances at his profile.
"You said you had something to worry "Elino"

He drew a long breath.
"I have had an offer to go to New York to a big church. It's rather a wonderful opportunity."

Elinor made no sign except to clutch her hands as they lay ungloved in her iap.

"Then you will be leaving—us?"
"No," he said. "I shall not be leaving

"You like it here?"

"You like it here?"

"Very much." He turned and looked down at her. It was unwise. He realized that at once. So frail she looked, so softly, tenderly feminine! And, because he knew that, after the night, he had not yet got control over himself, the merest hand-clasp as she got out of the machine was all he dared. But at the top of the steps Elinor turned.

"You will never know just how sorry

"You will never know just how sorry
I am," she said, and went through her garden to the house.
From that Friday morning until the evening of the following day Elinor was oute alone.

quite alone.

Hour after hour she spent pacing the terrace, looking down into the valley. On Friday night, unable to sleep, she threw a negligee over her shoulders and went down to her gardon. The village slept quietly, but there was a light in Ward's small window near the church. She remained on the terrace until the light was retiremished.

Saturable of the Bryants to entertain the rector at dinner. Now, in his absence, it was the assistant rector who dired in the paneled Jacobean dining room of the Bryant house, swallowing much unctuous dictation as to church policy with his dinner.

extinguished.
At dinner that Saturday Boroday's

extinguished.

At dinner that Saturday Boroday's empty place cast a gloom over the meal. Waiter Huff came a little late. Under the ease of his greeting there was a touch of uneasiness as he met Elinor's eyes. When the servants left the room, Talbot leaned forward to Waiter.

"Now tell us about it," he said. Huff was frankly triumphant, but he still avoided Elinor's eyes.

"It's working out exactly as I knew it would," he explained. "Having once had a parish house they cannot do without it. The vestry carried only about a third enough insurance. And there's another point in our favor—the rector's away. He's got rheumatism. They are going to take up an additional purse to send him to Baden-Baden."

"When?" "When?"

Tomorrow morning. And tomorrow being Sunday, the assistant rector, Ell-nor's friend, will have it in charge until Monday morning." said Elinor sud-"I shall warn him," said Elinor suddenly.

There was silence for a moment. Tal-bot smiled. Lethbridge looked astound-ed. Huff, bending forward, with his arms out before him on the table, confronted out before him on the table.

Elinor squarely.

"That's it, is it?" he said.

"I asked you not to do—what you have done. The children used it all the time. They played basketball there. Besides, my wish should mean something to you."

Huff shrugged his shoulders.

"If I had burned a tenement full of propole."

people—"
"A man was nearly killed. He was on
"A man was nearly killed. He was on the ridge-pole of the church and they turned the full strength of the water on him. I saw it. I—almost fainted."
"You gaw it?"
"I was there," said Elinor quietly.
Huff rose angrily.
"You were there? And who was it who almost fell off the roof? Your parson, I suppose."

almost fell off the roof? Your parson, I suppose."

Taibot silenced the boy. It was Lethbridge who took up the argument. He bridge who took up the argument. He understood her position and sympathized, the said. The fire was a mistake. But now that it was done— He spoke of Boroday's critical condition, of their safety that depended on his, and, finding her attitude to be unyielding, took refuge in her father's memory.

"If anything comes out it will all come out," he reminded her. "It seems to me, cilinor, that you owe it to your father not to interfere. This isn't a new plan. Four or five years ago when the parish house was first built we talked it over here. And it isn't as though we mean to hurt this fellow Ward. We will be three to one; he'll make no resistance."

"Yea," she said. "Three to one. That is the way we fight. Oh, I'm one of of you, I know that—but it sickens me, sometimes."

The men were astounded, frankly un-omfortable. The conference got nowhere. Eliner ac-STEAMSHIP NOTICES

ANCHOR LINE NEW YORK and GLASGOW Tuscanta, June 25.5pm Tuscanta, July 25.5pc
For rates and full particulars apply to J. McGRATH, 1015 Walmit St.
BOBT. TAYLOB & CO., 202 Walmut St.
Or Apr Local Agent.

knowledged their duty to the Russian, Rnowledged their duty to the Russian, offered all ner jewels, in fact, for his defense. But she atubbornly refused to countenance the attack on Mr. Ward. Huff lapsed into sullen silence, his syes on her. The other men found every arsument met by silence, except for one passionate outburst.

"He is my niend," she cried. "I have never had any friends, except once, years ago, a girl. It was Boroday then who used my friendship for her. It was the Butherford matter. Walter would not remember, but the rest of you—I tell you, I won't do this thing."

Talbot tried a new method. "It's a wealthy congregation." he explained. "It is not much for them, and it's safety for us. If we let Boroday go up, and he thinks what he will about us, he can thinks what he will about us, he can make it bad for all of us."

Ellinor turned on him.
"I don't care a rap for the congregation.
Do you think he will let that money go without a struggle? The moment it goes into the offeriory it ceases to be money and becomes a divine trust to him. He'll fight and—some one will be killed."

It dawned even on Taibot after a time that her solicitude was for none of tham.

that her solicitude was for none of them. When he realized it, at last, he sat back with folded arms and frowning brows. Here was mockery for sure: Old Hilary's daughter, reared on pure violence, and in love with a parsoni—old Hilary's daughter and successor, defying the band in its hour of need, and queting a divine rust in extenuation!

In view of her attitude, there seemed to be nothing to do. "We'll give it up, of course," said Leth-

"We'll give it up, of course," said Leth-bridge, after a pause.

There had never been any drinking in old Hillary's house. Only abstainers were ever taken into the band. But it was the custom of the two older men to remain at the table over their cigars, giv-ing Walter and Elinor a haif-hour to-gether. That night, when Elinor rose from the table, Huff, although he rose with the others, made no move to follow her. She looked back from the doorway, a silm, almost childish figure, with be-seeching eyes.

"You must all try to think kindly of "You must all try to think kindly of me," she said wistfully. "I care for you as much as I ever did. You are all I have, you three. It is only that I-have been thinking."

For the first time since the organization of the band there was quarreling that night in old Hilary's paneled library. At the end of an hour Walter Huff flung out the door, white with fury. He stumbled through the garden toward the garage, muttering as he went. In the rose alley he met Elinor. "I was waiting for you," she said simply. Huff stood before her, and the anger left his face.

"You're the one thing in all the world I felt sure of." His voice was heavy with

'I've been thinking about Boroday-"Elinor, how far have things gone be-tween you and this man at Saint Jude's?" She recoiled.

"I hardly know him."

"You think about him." She looked down into the valley. "I think of the things he stands for. It just seems to me that, when a man like that, not a dreamer at all, but human and-and keen, when he believes all that 'It was Ward on the ridge-pole, the one who nearly fell?"

"And you were frightened?"

"It made me sick. I—"."
Quite suddenly he crushed her to him.
It was as if he meant to drive away this barrier between them by sheer force of his love for her. But, although she held up her face for his kiss, he released her as suddenly, without it.

"You're crazy about him," he said thickly. "I'm not blind. I'll get him for this!

CHARTER VIII.

the question of women in the choir.

"Frankly, Mr. Ward," she said, ignoring her fish, "I do not approve of it. It's the feminist movement, I tell you. Before long they'll want to be on the ves-

Ward glanced up, half, smiling. The Ward glanced up, half, smiling. The pear-shaped pearl, which usually hung at his hostess' withered throat, was, naturally, not there. From the pearl to the parish-house, from the parish-house to Elinor-thus in two leaps of Ward's mind he was far from the subject in hand. "As president of the Chancel Society," said Mrs. Bryant, "as honorary president of the Woman's Guild, I protest against women in the choir."

Back to the choir with a jump came Ward's errant mind.

Back to the Sandard Manda Ward's errant mind.
"I wonder," Ward reflected, "whether a matter of tradition and custom will prevent women from singing in the heavenly choirs!" stabled at her fish. But Mrs. Bryant stabbed at her fish. But she had not finished. There were many things about Saint Jude's that did not please her. The burial of old Hilary Kingston had been one. She seized on that noncommunicant," she snapped, "An that.

"A noncommunicant," she snapped. "An infidel, an athelast. The daughter is living alone up there at this minute. It isn't alone up there at this minute. It isn't respectable. It's a had example to the girls in the village. The house is full of men all the time."

Ward put down his fork.

"That must br a mistake."
"It is quite true. Servants talk, you know. What can you expect? Raised out of the Church, with no bellef, and, of course, no moral instruction."

Ward bent forward over the table.

Ward bent forward over the table.
"That is a very serious statement, Mrs.

SUMMER RESORTS ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

OSTEND

OSTEND Occupying an entire block of ocean front and connected with the famous Boardwalk; in the popular Chelmen section; capacity 500; unitability in the popular chelmen section; capacity 500; unitability in the popular connected with unitability in the popular section with unobstracted wisw of the poem from all; every appointment and comfort; see and fresh water in all baths; running water in rooms; 4000 ft. at porches surround the hotel; the new finishe proof to the poem of the poet of the poet of the sea; finest culaine and white service of the sea; finest culaine and white services of the sea; finest culaine and search of the s

CHALFONTE Atlantic City, New Jersey

The Leeds Company

Leading High-Class Moderate-Bate Hotel-ALBEMARLE Virginia av. nr. Beh. Cup-ste.; excellant table. June rate, $10 to white: $2 up daily. But. J. F. CUPM. OCEAN CITY, N. J. THE BREAKERS

Wood, you know, and weather-proof, but inexpensive.

The last word caught Mr. Bryant's ear.
"Seema to me," Huff want on, "the choir boys need a place to dress in. You couldn't ask them to put on their surplices at home and walk over here."

"We had thought of a tent." Mr. Bryant said uncertainty. "But if you care to last apound..." Bryant," His eyes were like steel. "Of course, you are not basing it merely on what you hear from servants?"

to look around-

Huff made careful notes in his pocket.

at which evening service was over on Sunday night.

CHAPTER IX. TALBOT, running out to the Country

Club that afternoon for his Sunday game of golf, stopped off at the Hall.

He found Elinor lunching alone in the arbor, which commanded a view of the

"I brought out a letter from Boroday,"

The Dago was the owner of a gambling house far downtown-a sort of under-world clearing house. Its safety for Tai-was able to come and go without sus-

Talbot could not read old Hilary's cryptic shorthand. Only three had known tt: Boroday, old Hilary himself and Elinor.

Elinor ran through it while Talbot ate a sandwich. She was rather white when

She read the last paragraph aloud to him.

"On your lives, boys, do what I tell you. Mail the pearl in a plain box to police headquarters. Mail it downtown in the city. If everything is all right, I'll be able to get out to Woffingham in a week, perhaps less. This will make the church plan unnecessary and relieve Elinor's mind. I see you got the parish house. It was foolhardy and useless."

Talbot rose and stretched himself.

Talbot rose and stretched himself.

"Wonderful day for golf," he said, "Now et's have the pearl and I am off." Elinor's eyes were pitiful.

"Wouldn't any other pearl do?"
He glanced down at her quizzically.
"Where's your mind. Elinor? If you lose a dog and want it back, will any other dog do? Why? Do you want the thing yourself?"
"I have given it away." said Filmor.

"I have given it away," said Elinor. Under his golf tan Talbot turned rather

(CONTINUED TOMORROW.)

Lancaster County Free of Aphthous

LANCASTER, Pa., June 15.—The head-quarters office for Eastern and Central Pennsylvania established here by the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry last November on the outbreak of aphthous fever among cattle and hogs, was closed today, the epidemic being ended. As a precautionary measure, veterinarians as scouts will be left in the district, un-der charge of Dr. C. A. Schaufler, Philadelphia. The State, however, is not fully released yet from quarantine.

Mrs. Bryant flushed, a purplish spot in the centre of each sagging cheek. "I do not gossip with the servants," she said shortly. "It is common talk. And there are other things. Machines come and go from the house at queer hours of the right. The girl spends a great deal of money. Where does she get it? Where, for that matter, did old Hilary Kingston get it?" Thus challenged, Ward had nothing to

After dinner he left early, but he did not go home. He went up the hill. As he strode on he remembered many things. The girl was without the sheet-anchor of any belief, adrift and alone, and he had made no attempt to help her unbelief. Although it was after 10, the house was still lighted downstairs, and he went with-out hesitation into the garden.

Thus it happened that he saw Elinor in Huff's arms, saw him thrust her violently from him and rush away across the flower beds, leaving her there alone.

Ward remained in the shadows. To save his life he could not have spoken to Ell-nor then. Under his constrained exterior he was in the thrall of the flercest jealousy. This little fair-haired girl, to whom his God was no God, had taken a powerful hold on him.

Elinor, who slept little that night, saw the light in his window until it faded he said, producing it. "He wrote it yesinto the dawn. terday morning, but I did not stop at the Dago's until an hour or so ago."

Elinor went to the early Communion the following day. The church was dark. There were hardly two dozen people scattered over the building. She sat far back and was heavily veiled. When the bot and the others lay in the fact that it drew its clientele from the upper as well as lower walks of life. Huff, sot-ing in his taxicab capacity as steerer. congregation knelt, she knelt. An old woman in the next pew gave her the prayer book, open at the service. On her knees then went Elinor and listened to Ward's fine voice echoing through the empty building.

The morning was warm and the windows open. The odor of burned wood from the parish house crept in. "Thou shalt not steal," Ward read from the Decalogue, and the people said: "Lord have mercy upon us and incline our hearts to keep this law." a sandwich. She was rather white when she looked up.

"It's about the Bryant pearl," she in-terpreted. "Boroday says that if the Chief sets it back he will let him go. The Chief's reputation is hanging on it. The Bryants are influential."

She rand the last purgraph aloud to

"Thou shalt not steal."

In the palm of her left glove Elinor had the Bryant pear-shaped pearl.

Ward had not seen her. He went through the service reverently, and with an impressiveness of voice and bearing that showed how real it was to him. And in his voice, reading, exhorting, comin his voice, reading, exhorting, commanding, there were tender notes that caught Elinor's breath in her throat.

When the service was over, she rose from her knees and dropped the Bryant pearl into the alms box by the door. The congregation, small and scattered, was still kneeling. The doorway and the alms box were in twilight.

Drawing down her veil she went still kneeling. The doorwal and the box were in twilight.

Drawing down her veil, she went quickly out into the sunshine.

At the 11 o'clock service Ward announced the burning of the parish building.

"It is not my intention to make an appeal," he said simply. "The parish house was built to fill a great need; that need still exists. If our church is to be an element in the daily lives of the people of this town we must have a meeting place for them. For the worship of our God the church building is sufficient, but if religion is to you the thing it is to me, the broader religion of universal brotherhood, the church building is not enough.

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

self."

self."

Seventy-eight thousand dollars was taken up in the collection at St. Jude's that morning. Over fifty thousand was in checks, the rest was in cash.

Walter Huff. sitting alone in the back of the church, had watched Ward intently through the service.

Unlike Elinor, Huff had been raised in a Presbyterian household. He had come to jeer, to watch with his thief's eyes the offertory piling into the silver plates. But the service told on him. Somewhere down in his violent young heart there crept a sense of shame. It was only when he looked at Ward that his eyes hardened.

This man who had come between him This man who had come between him this white-handed, surpliced, tion as to church policy with his dinner.

Not that Ward was mild. But he had an easy way of listening to the advice of his various influential parishioners and then going ahead and doing as he liked. In nonessentials he always yielded. To him the Church was so much bigger than its ritual.

That evening Mrs. Bryant had taken up the question of women in the choir.

The word could compel the people-before him words could compel the people-before

Huff stayed in church after the service.
He accosted Mr. Bryant, one of the vestrymen, as the congregation filed out.
"I don't like to ask you to talk business on Sunday," he said, "but I think it's going to be mighty inconvenient until you get the new building."
"Horrible." said the vestryman, "No fire is ever convenient, but this..."
Huff drew a business card from his pocket.

pocket.

I thought perhaps you might be willing o talk about a temporary building," he ald. "We specialize in things like that. eald. SUMMER RESORTS

BEDFORD SPRINGS, PA. Bedford Springs (Pa.) Hotel and Baths

In the most delightful section of the beautiful, healthful Allegheny Mountains. Cool, invigorating breezes. Good roads for mistering. Hotel and estate afford every comfort & indeor and outdoor diversion. MAGNESIA HATHS & MEDICINAL WATERS. Formal opening June 12th. New open for automobile tourists. H. E. BEMIS, Manager. EAGLE'S MERE, PA.

THE CRESTMONT INN

THE GRESIMON! INTO EAGLE'S MERE, PA.

The hotsi with the incomparable situation, 2000 feet above the sea, on the summit of the Alleghedies. Golf, tennis, boating and the finest of fresh water bathing; electric lights, steam heat, sic. Also hungalows with meals at Inn. For bookist and terms address WILLIAM WOODS, Manager.

ESSICK HEIGHTS, PA. THE ESSICK 2500 feet, delightfully situated on Alleghents. Castno, nine-hole golf course, cottages, steam heat, garage, tennia, other sports, hockist slectric light.

SCHWENEVILLE, PA. PERKIOMEN INN ideal modern resort; beat's, bath's, flab's. Tennis Bkit. G.M.Carl. POCONO MOUNTAINS, PA.

Delaware Water Gap, Pa. LAUREL RIDGE New hotel. Bookist. Howard Near Station and river. Excellent accommodations. Bill. C. Howard. Marshall's Creek, Pa.

MARSHALLS PALLS HOUSE Modern in every NEW ENGLAND Bar Harber, Ma.

NOTED CUISING

THE LOUISBURG Bar Harbor, Maine Open July 1 to Sept. 15

SUMMIT HOUSE Chairengus, Me. Conn.

L.C.PHIOR, Mgr. Hotel Lenex, Buston

NOW THE LUSTY BASS CHALLENGES ANGLERS

Season Opens With a Rush in This State and Over in New Jersey.

Lean canvas-wrapped packages hugged affectionately in many stout arms, tripped ominuters on incoming smokers today and provoked more cussing than usual by the hurrled members of the trainshed crush. In the baguage cars, the more plebeing bamboo was carried more comfort-

"Never mind about me," said Huff largely. "I'll just glance over the place myself. You'd better attend to that fortune you took up in the collection this The assistant rector has taken charge of that," Mr. Bryant observed, and after that for half an hour he and Huff talked board floors, tar-paper roofs and electric installation in the temporary head-The bass season opened today. Both The bass season opened today. Beth Pennsylvania and Jersey fishermen rejoiced, for the bars came down in both States simultaneously. They will stay down until the last enthusiast is driven to shelter by cold weather. Hence the eager hunt last night for fishing tackle and the cumbering of street cars and trains today by the folding rods borne officeward in anticipation of the first chance to fish. notebook. They included the length and breadth of a temporary building, the residence of the assistant rector, a stove in the temporary structure for cold days, the amount of the collection, and the time chance to fish.

Small mouth and large mouth, base are eligible any time after noon. Besides bass, anglers may seek out with a free conscience pickerel. Susqueinanna salmon, wall-syed pike, rock bass and a number of the minor species.

But fishing in New Jersey comes high

Pennsylvania is near a nompitable. There is no fee for any one. Here cated in a free for all, except to allem, who as forbidden in both States to hat. There is a limit to the size of the name is Pennsylvania, however.

Those who set our today for that free oah this means would do wall if low remain away any length of they watch this newspapers for a wouldnot that Governor Brombaugh has signed the Walah bill, which forthed the taking of bass under nine include the Governor signs the bill, bass were a fair cated after they attained a length of significant.

inches.

Another section of the Waish bill for-bils the sale of base caught wither in Pennsylvania or New Jersey unless the were raised in commercial hatchestes.

Fell Down Elevator Shaft to Death LANCASTER, Pa., June 15.-June 15. ler, Columbia, night janitor of the Wool worth Building in Lancaster, was killed last night, falling down an elevator shart from the fifth story. He was found dying in the pit by the watchman. A secullar circumstance is the fact that the elevator was above the entrance and the

GRAY & DAVIS STARTING-LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR FORD

Every Ford agent, first-class automobile supply house or garage can now secure this equipment for you by ordering through us. We are local distributors. Or better still - bring your Ford direct to us for installation. We will show you the system in actual demonstration on a Ford engine. J. H. McCULLOUGH & SON 219 N. Broad St., Phila. System as supplied contains everything necessary for immediate

Removal Sale

Greatly Reduced Prices As previously announced, we will vacate the store at 11th and Market Streets and move to our main building at Broad and Arch Streets on June 30.

Our stock of lighting fixtures and glassware now on display must be sold before we move.

To dispose of this stock quickly we have made great reductions in prices. We are selling this stock for one-third, and in most cases one-half off original prices.

A varied collection of gas fixtures of two, three, four and five lights, of many designs appropriate for any type of residence.

The very latest designs of semi-indirect fixtures, the kind with the inverted bowl that give a general diffusion of light.

Domes for the dining-room and library, art glass, leaded glass and with metal frames. Shower fixtures, some of them hung by chains, containing two, three or four inverted

A big display of glassware, globes and shades for all kinds of lamps, upright and inverted, plain glass and in colors appropriate for general lighting and also for decorative uses.

Portable lamps, splendid reading lamps for the table, wonderful value in this type of gas lamp. Some beautiful lamps in this collection of the very latest designs.

Nickel-plated or copper coffee percolators, tea kettles, hot water kettles and other appliances for diningroom use, all equipped with gas burners.

The Stock Is Limited. In Many Instances There Is Only One of a Kind

Act quickly to avail yourself of these remarkable This sale will end June 30, and we expect the stock to go quickly. The United Gas Improvement Company

11th and Market Streets