DIAMONDS THE IDEAL

ON PROPOSALS TO END WAR AS "PREMATURE"

Determined to Continue Conflict Until Germany Is Driven Back Upon Home Soil, Correspondent Is Informed.

By ED L. KEEN

LONDON, June 17.
Although an official statement is not procurable, I am authoritatively informed that the Allies, especially Great Britain, would regard any Germany. would regard any German peace over-tures at this time as premature.

Great Britain is determined to continne the war at least until driven back upon her own territory. Any peace talk that has reached the United peace talk that has reached its origin States certainly has not had its origin either in London or any other capital of the Allies.

There are several reasons why Great Britain in particular intends to prose-cute the war until the German grip upon Heigium and Northern France has been shaken. Briefly, these are among the more important:

First-It is the firm belief here that Germany has reached and passed the high peak of her offensive efficiency. England believes that from now on the Kaiser must fight desperately on the de-fensive to hold what his armies grasped ""gatting the jump" on the Allies at a beginning of the war. Second. It is the universal belief here that England is now only approaching the height of her offensive efficiency. When its full intensity is developed, the Germans, it is believed here, must be rolled back out of France.

STAYING POWERS WILL WIN.

Third. Military men here agree that the final verdict will be won, not by brilliant dashes, but by a long-drawn-out en-durance struggle. They base this belief upon the strength of line after line of strongly fortified works on both sides of the Flanders-France battle line. And ingland is certain that the longer the struggle the more certainly will the great resources of the Allies ultimately over-whelm the Kalser.

Fourth. England wishes to demonstrate that a citizen army, organized by volun-teer enllatment, can cope successfully with what she calls "German militarsm." The signing of a peace part now, to matter how satisfactory its terms night be to the Allies, would leave the solution of the question of the ability of a "democratic" army still in doubt. In suport of the statement that Germany has passed the height of her offen-sive ability, it is pointed out here that since the dash into France last fall the Germans have been unable to make any appreciable progress against the Franco-Flanders front. On the contrary, they have been forced back at several points, notably north of Arras.

LACK OF MUNITIONS FACTOR. The German victory in Galicia is credted to temporary shortage of shells in ussin. The same lack of munitions, it admitted, has prevented France and England from launching an effective drive against the enemy. But this situation is now being remedied, both in France and England, and within a short time the superiority in ammunition supply will shift from the Austro-Germans to the

The people of France unquestionably would resent an attempt at peace nego-tiations at this time. No other nation in Europe can boast of more whole-hearted support from its citizens, and the flery patriotism of France demands not a com-promise, but a decisive victory. The English were slow in becoming aroused to the seriousness of the strug-gle. But once aroused, they are determined to stay in with bulldog tenacity. There is no sentiment here for a peace agreement, no matter what it gives to the Allies, until Germany has first been decisively beaten on the field of battle.

GERMAN-LED TURKS STORM LINES IN VAIN

Gallant Attack Upon Dardanelles Trenches Hurled Back by British Brigade.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 17. German officers are leading the Turkish troops attacking the positions of the Anglo-French forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula, in the Dardanelles sphere of operations.

An official statement given out here to day by the British military authorities reports the defeat of the Turks on the night of June 15, when 280 of them, to-gether with the German commander who led the assault, were killed.

The text of the official report follows:
"On the night of June 15 the enemy, led by a German officer, made a gallant led by a German officer, made a gallant attack upon the trenches occupied by a British brigade. A few of the enemy reached the parapets of our works before being killed, but the majority fell before reaching the trenches. Fifty dead were counted, including the German leader. "Subordinate Turkish trenches, which had been taken by us three nights earlier, were also attacked, following a savere bombardment. We were forced back some 30 yards. When day dawned we enfiladed the trench with our machinesome 39 yards. When day dawned we enflished the trench with our machinegun fire. At the same time the Dublin Fusiliers attacked with the bayonet. After we had reoccupied the trench we took 200 Turkish prisoners."

"After six days of continuous bombardment the fire of the allled warships at the Dardanelles slackened somewhat Wednesday," said a Mytllene dispatch today.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 17.—Anglo-French troops at the Dardanelles suffered heavy losses in a bombardment of trans-ports by Turkish batteries on Tuesday, an official statement from the War Office said today.

"Our artillery has been very effective against the enemy at Ari Burnu," said the efficial statement. "Our aviators have bombarded British air sheds near Hedd-ul-Hahr.

FRENCH SEIZE IMPORTANT POSITIONS IN ALSACE

Drive Germans From Defenses on Fecht River.

PARIS, June II .- A tremendous offensive movement has been commenced by the French in Alsace. An important victory in the valley of the Fecht River in the Vosges mountains was announced by the French War Office today. The French now are masters of all the important dominating heights along the Fecht River.

The Fecht River Hes west of Kolmar, one of the important links in the Rhine defenses of the Germans.

North of Ypres, west of Flanders, the British troops gained another line of German trenches, but they were unable to hold the trenches captured from the Germans west of La Bassee.

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES NEAR YPRES

Teutons Regain Ground Lost at Festubert in La Bassee Region.

Bir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the Continent, reports that the British have captured the German positions to the north of Hooge for a distance of 1000 yards, and that they captured and then lost a line of German trenches at Festubert. Hooge is three miles east of Ypres and Festubert is northwest of La Bassee. General French's statement is as folthis morning in the neighborhood of Ypres we successfully attacked the enemy's positions north of Hooge. We occupied the whole of his first line of trenches on a front of 1000 yards and also parts of his second line.

SUBMARINE WAR RESUMED; FOE'S SHIPS CHASED AND SUNK

Activities Renewed Around Britain After Brief Lull.

LONDON, June 17. After a brief iuli German submarines have renewed their activity in the waters around Great Britain. The English steamship Trafford, bound for Sydney, was sunk off Small Isles. The Aberdeen trawier Japonica was attacked in the North Sea and sent to the bottom. The British steamship Turnwell, 4264 tons, bound from Liverpool to New York, was held up by the German submarine. Bombs were placed on the ship and exploded, but the crew was able to keep the Turnwell affect until she reached Milford Haven, Wales,

The British steamship Monfort was chased, but the submarine was driven off by the liner Demerara, which came time to drive off the underwater craft.

Teutons Beaten at Several Points From Baltic Provinces to Warsaw Sector. Hostile Drive on Kovno Halted.

PETROGRAD, June 17. Battling along a im-mile front, extend-ing from near the Baltin into northern Poland, Slav armies have bent back the German line at several points, and have resisted determined attempts by large forces of the enemy to approach Kovno. An official statement from the War Of fice today credited a Cossack regiment with a brilliant victory near Popeliany. The Cossacks forded the Venta River in from the opposite bank. "Our cavalry continues to pursue the enemy, sabreing the retreating forces," said the official statement. "We have taken hundreds of prisoners.

"The Sahting in the Shavil region continues with varying fortune. The enemy has captured some villages and has been driven from others.

"Beyond the middle Niemen large forces of Germans attacked heavily on Tuesday. of Germans attacked heavily on Tuesday.

Their offensive was beaten back and they suffered heavy losses." North of Warsaw the Germans have pened a violent bombardment of Ruselan positions around Przasnysz.

'On Tuesday evening the enemy threw tens of thousands of shells against the village of Jenoretz, north of Przasnysz, orcing our troops to evacuate their posi-ions," said the War Office statement. "After the bombardment ceased we counter-attacked, reoccupying all the ad-vanced trenches that had fallen into the hands of the enemy.

ANTI-GERMAN 'ATTACKS' ANNOY ADMINISTRATION

Gerhard Story Officially Denied by Bernstorff-Spy Tale Discredited.

WASHINGTON, June 17. The Administration was disturbed today over the publication of a flood of anti-German attacks which lacked confirmation. High officials let it be known that sensational newspaper reports, implicating German representatives here, are viewed with annoyance, if not alarm.

The State Department announced that Ambassador Page's report of the Nebraskan case would be withheld indefinitely. It was understood there is little doubt that a torpedo struck the Nebraskan, and he impression was that the publication of the facts was postponed as a result of a desire to add no fuel to the flame of resentment concerning the Lusitania's de-

Despite the inflammatory reports that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, German Am-bassador Bernstorff's emissary to Berlin, really is Dr. Alfred Meyer, a German War Office purchasing agent, and that German spies have tampered with diplo-matic and War Department mail, officials declared themselves increasingly confi-dent of a peaceful settlement of the submarine warfare negotiations with Germany

That there is absolutely no confirmation of either of the two stories mentioned, it was officially stated.

Acting Secretary of State Lansing said no investigation has yet been started of the former. He had received denials by wire from Ambassador Bernstorff and Counselor von Haimhausen, of the Ger-man Embassy. The story that spies have been opening official mail was diamiesed as "preposterous." It was stated that both sides had submitted complaints of alleged activity in this country of enemy secret service agents, but that none of mall tampering had ever been received The Postmaster General's and Chief Postal Inspector's postal offices joined the State Department in denying the mail
