MOTHER OF FIVE SHOT HUSBAND IN DEFENSE

Witnesses Declare Drinkcrazed Man Threatened Life of Little Woman.

A mother of five children, who shot and instantly killed her husband with a sin-gle-barreled shotgun when he threatened to kill her, is under arrest at Chester today pending the action of the Coroner. The police say they have conclusive evidence that she fired in self-defense.

The woman is Mrs. Elizabeth Burk, 30 years old. Her husband was John F. Burk, 40 years old, a track foreman on the Pennsylvania Rallroad, Their home is in Flower street near 9th, Chester, George Bradfield and Anthony Fults, both of Felton, friends of the dead man, and the five children witnessed the shooting

Burk was found at the door of the kitchen. His head had been nearly blown off by the shot. Mrs. Burk discharged the weapon at close range and the entire charge entered her husband's neck. When the police came in response to the summons of neighbors, they found Mrs. Burk in the little party, her children. Burk in the little parlor, her children huddled about her.

The children are William, 13 years old; John 10; Thomas, 8; Helen, 6, and Everett, 3. According to their story, which is corroborated in the essential detalls by Bradfield and Fultz, Burk came home about 6 o'clock yesterday after-noon after having had several drinks. A neighbor had complained to him about his oldest son, William. He started an argu-ment with his wife over this and finally caught her by the throat and hurled her to the floor.

Fults tried to intervene but rwas thrust aside. Burk weighing about 240 pounds. His wife is small and slight. She ran putside and for a few minutes managed to elude her husband, but as soon as she entered the house against he rushed at her. In the meantime, Mrs. Burk had snatched up the shot gun. She backed into the kitchen, pointing it at her hus-

He plunged across the kitchen, and Later she said she pulled the trigger. Later she said she did not mean to kill him when she picked up the gun. She thought it would prevent him from beating her.

ELLEN ADAIR GOING TO WAR-TORN LANDS

Woman Writer for Evening Ledger to Investigate Phase of Conflict Not Before Presented.

A heretofore ignored phase of the great war in Europe will be set forth for the readers of the Evening Lappen within a few weeks by Ellen Adair, who sails tomorrow morning from New York on the American liner St. Paul for Liverpool. Miss Adair, who is an English woman, will visit London, Edinburgh, Paris and various other cities. She knew England, Scotland and France before the war, and thus will be able to note with the eye of an expert the vivid life of war times.

The Evening Lepour decided to send its own corespondent into the countries of the Allies. For this purpose it selected Miss Adair because of her superior knowledge of England and France. This does not mean that her articles will be partisan. She has been in this country long enough to be called an American. She knows "news" in the American mean-ing of the word, and she will use this knowledge accurately and faithfully to portray certain phases of the war in Europe that have been overlooked by other writers.

Finally, true to the wants of woman-kind, Miss Adair will spend days in the shops of the great modistes of Paris. She will interview the great dress-makers and find out just what effect the war has had on fashions and on business. Her dispatches will start with-in a few weeks. in a few weeks.

CHILDREN ASK MAYOR FOR A PLACE TO PLAY

Youngsters From Sixth Ward Want It Mostly for Less Fortunate Friends.

A boy and two girls from the 8th Ward, whose only recreation is to play in dust-covered alleys or on the crowded streets until the 'policeman on the heat' chases them, today in person appealed to Mayor Blankenburg for a public play-ground in their neighborhood. They appeared at the Mayor's office and insisted on seeing the city's chief executive personally.

On the card that was taken to Mayor Blankenours appeared the following:
Sol Loewenstein, 133 North 9th street.
Dorothy Kardon, 207 Vine street.
Eva Solor, 710 Race street.
(In reference to having a playground in the 6th Ward.)

the 6th Ward.)

Loewenstein, who is 14 years old and a student at the Central High School, was spokesman. The girls sustained his statements. No child brought along written statistics relating to conditions in the 6th Ward, but, according to Mayor Blankenburg, the children described existing conditions in their ward as though they were trained social investigators. In turn each child put forth arguments.

Mayor Blankenburg was so impressed

Mayor Blankenburg was so impressed that he promised to take the appeal for a playground to the Park Commissioners and Director Porter. Lowenstein and his companions insisted that they weren't urging a playground just for themselves. They said that they were also acting in behalf of hundreds of children in the 5th Ward, who were tired of heins chessel. Ward, who were tired of being chased every day by the "policeman on the beat," as the children expressed it. And Mayor Blankenburg said he believed every word of the different arguments.

"We were thinking of getting up a pe-tition and sending it direct to Councils," said Lowenstein. "But we changed our minds and decided to appeal to the Mayor. We have no playground, and it is a case of playing in an alley or on the street. When we play on the street the police-When we play on the street the police-man on the beat chases us away. My friends Dorothy Kardon and Eva Soloff, and myself are going away to the country for the entire summer. We decided to for the entire summer. We decided to ask the Mayor for a playground in be-half of the other children who won't have a vacation this summer.
