MAYOR SPIKES BILL FOR FENCIBLES' DINNER

Executive Says City Does Not Owe Money to Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Mayor Blankenburg has vetoed an item in an appropriation bill that would pay the Dellevne-Stratford Hotel $105.40 for a dinner held on the 100th anniversary of the State Fencibles, May 23, 1915.

The Mayor roads no comment on his veto, but will send a message to Councils tomorrow giving his reasons why the city should not pay the bill.

It is understood that the Mayor will contend that is appropriating $2000 toward the celebration the city has dense its abure from a financial standpoint. The hapt that the hill was held for Iwo grains before the Frenchles maked the city to pay it is regarded as an argument that it was not at first deemed a city delit, even by the Fencilles.

The measure cannot be passed by Councils over the Mayor's veto because it is a deficiency bill of more than two years' The Mayor approved the other Items of the ordinance and also affixed his signature to a number of other measures. Three Select Council ordinances signed by the Mayor affect awaings and awaing by the Mayor affect awnings and awning poles on various streets. He approved an amendment to an ordinance that prohibits awnings and awning poles on Spring Garden street, between 5th and Record streets, to allow the crection of movable awnings in that section. The permitted awnings must not extend more than five feel and must be at least eight feet above the pavement. The other two ordinances require the removal of existing awnings and prohibit further awnings on Broad street, between the Boulevard and Olney avenue, and on Wallace street, between 15th and 21st streets.

Others ordinances approved by the Mayor provide for the following:

BETHLEHEM STEEL CO. WINS PATENT SUIT

Court Decides Concern Did Not Infringe Upon Right to Manufacture Projectile.

The Bethlehem Steel Company won an important victory today in the decision of Judge Woolley, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, reversing a ruling of Judge Dickinson in a lower court in an armor-piercing projectile patent uit. Cleiand Davis, holder of a patent or a similar shell, sued the steel comany for infringement.

The Davis patent is now owned by the Firth Sterling Steel Company. At the time the suit was brought, the Bethlehem teel Company held a large contract to take the projectile for the United States This contract was not affected by the lower court's decision, which directed the company to fulfil it and then halt the manufacture of the projectile.

In the opinion of Judge Woolley it to held that prior art in the manufacture of projectiles anticipated the combination crived at by Davis and also by the 3ethlehem Steel Company in their shells. The chief advantages of each shell are the range and armor penetration.

The United States Government had been the sole consumer of the shell made by the Bethlehem Steel Company prior to the filing of the suit. Under the decision handed down today the projectile may be made for any one. The ruling may have an important hearing on orders from the warring nations of Europe given to the Bathabay Stal Courage the Bethlehem Steel Company.

J. P. ROGERS ATTACKS HYPHENATED CITIZENS

Assistant District Attorney Also Pleads for More Pay for Teachers.

Hyphenated citizenship and underpaid thool teachers were sharply rapped by Joseph P. Rogers, Assistant District Attorney, in an address before 100 graduates of the Southern High School, at the commencement exercises, held at the school, Broad and Jackson streets, this morning. Mr. Rogers presented the George A. Vare medal, awarded to the student having the highest average in his studies, to Charles D. Fagles.

"Undivided loyalty to the Government by all citizens of this republic, regardless of birth or political affiliation," said Mr. Rogers, "Is the only thought which must be constantly before the American people. Perfect citizenship cannot be attolned by a hyphenated American. America is destined to become more than ever. after the great war in Europe, the 'melting pot of the world."

Louis M. Jacobs, a graduate, in his address preceeding that of Mr. Rogers, said:
"The question of amalgamating a diverse and recently acquired element of our population is the real problem which confronts the educational systems of our States and municipalities. The starting point of fusing these elements must begin with the public schools. The public school system of Philadelphia is one of the greatest factors in the country in the evolution and development of the typical Ameri-can." "The sailor who steers toward a star.
