

PRACTICE OF 'PARKING' CHAIRS ON BOARDWALK FORBIDDEN AT SHORE

Atlantic City Police Rule
Out Economical Method of Viewing Fashion Parade Along Railing "By the Sea."

ATLANTIC CITY, June 22.—An economical and satisfactory practice of viewing the fashion parade on the Boardwalk has been ordered out of existence by the Police Department. A genius figured it out that from the rental charge for rolling chairs of 50 cents an hour the men who pushed them received 20 cents. So he made a dicker with one of the rolling chair magnates to hire a chair, without a "pusher," at 20 cents an hour and then had the chair parked on the outer edge of the "walk." By this method two or three persons could be comfortably seated, could "see and be seen," which is the delight of many persons here, and all at a rental not much higher than that charged for beach chairs. The fad grew rapidly and in a short time the rail was crowded with chairs.

Parties were held by the occupants, they received company in much the same fashion as at a "five-o'clock" tea, and everybody was happy. The police, however, decided that the long string of chairs blocked the view of the ocean and prevented visitors from leaning on the railing while watching the bathers. Beginning tomorrow no rolling chairs will be allowed on the Boardwalk. Closed for a period that will take a male occupant to run in and get a "soda" or a female rider to rush into a shop to price a "love of a bonnet."

"CROAKERS" RUNNING NOW.
The men who take amateurs out fishing are happy now that "croakers" are running. The average man who indulges in fishing on the water trips likes to catch a big mess of fish, and is satisfied to take home a heavy string, no matter what kind of fish they may be. Unless the captain of a boat satisfies his customers by taking them where the fish can be caught, there are loud howls and a falling off in his trade.

One of the palmists, who has come under the ban of the law and forced to close, has been an extensive advertiser. He placed this "ad" in a daily paper:

KENILWORTH.—The distinguished palmist, astrologer, St. Boardwalk, closed his home for Indignant Old Ladies.

"Kenilworth" has arranged to sail for Paris next week, leaving America flat on his back as far as palmists and fortune-tellers of the future go.

PERSONALS FROM THE SHORE.
Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jackson, of Pine Street, Philadelphia, opened their Chelsea house this week, and will remain here until their daughter, Lois, leaves for school next fall. A number of friends are spending the week with the Jacksons.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dreyer, of the Dreyer hotel and are expected to arrive here Thursday. They expect to remain the greater part of the summer.

Dr. Braden Kyle, a distinguished Philadelphia surgeon, is a guest at one of the Chelsea hotels, and will remain for a week.

Mr. O'Leary, formerly the head of the Philadelphia Police Department, spends two or three days of each week here. He has given up politics entirely and is engaged in mercantile business. Many midnight sessions in a hotel lobby reveal an interesting side of Tim's life, for then he tells of his many adventures while he was in the United States cavalry as an Indian fighter and of times when he was in South Africa.

Scott, the Italian opera singer, has been here for a few days and may return to give a recital later in the season.

John Thell, author of "Hap Ward's Comedy of Last Season," "The Prof. His Money and the Girl," is gathering ideas for a new comedy while loitering on the sands. He will remain here until August.

Sydney R. Mudd, a Maryland Congressman, came up from Baltimore in a motor car Sunday, accompanied by Judge S. McHooker and W. H. Rapley, who is a heavy stockholder in theatres in Baltimore. They will remain for a few days.

John Muncie, of the Philadelphia Post, has hired a bathing suit for the season and will spend all of his leisure time here.

Arthur Johnson, formerly a director at the Lubin Studio, is convalescing at a beach front hotel. He will remain here for a month and then go to the mountains. His many friends will be pleased to know he is fast recovering from his nervous breakdown.

George F. Fish, manager of the Walnut Street Theatre, Cincinnati, O., has a summer cottage at Ocean City, but visits this city twice a week. At one time Mr. Fish was the owner of the Forepaugh Theatre, Eighth street, Philadelphia.

John Hope, a native Philadelphian, but who has been on the road with theatrical companies for many years, now is the manager of the Cort Theatre, formerly the Savoy.

Stanley Mastbaum came down Sunday to look over the many theatrical interests he has here, and while passing over the meadows in his touring car ran afoul of Patrolman Inspector Grant. Several signs of confusion and commission were charged against Mr. Mastbaum when he was arraigned before a Magistrate. They were simple little technicalities about lights and markers, etc., but they cost him $25 before he was released.

Mrs. Theodore Morse, wife of the celebrated song composer, is here for the summer, and will be joined by her talented husband when he finishes a rush of orders he has on hand.

William W. Miller, manager of the William Penn, Girard and American Theatres, is occupying his cottage on Sovereign avenue and dispensing hospitality to many friends. He commutes daily between Atlantic City and Philadelphia, except when the fish are biting or good knockie players are visiting him.

NEW LINE TO THE PACIFIC
Hempstead & Co. Plan to Establish Service From This Port.

A line of steamships to operate between this port and Pacific ports will be put into operation if shippers give it their support, according to the announcement made today by William O. Hempstead, head of O. G. Hempstead & Co. It is planned to have the line backed by local capital and business men only. Plans for establishing the line have been in process of formulation since the American-Italian and Luckenbach steamship companies withdrew their services from this port.

The first vessel of the new line will be the Union Light, which is scheduled to sail here late this week. Both east and west-bound freight will be accepted and passengers will be furnished as rapidly as the demands require.

PHILADELPHIA DRAWS NEW YORK FILM MEN

Photoplay Makers From Gotham Look Over Local Field for Establishing Studio—New Lubin Plant.

By THE PHOTOPLAY EDITOR.
Henry Eisenstadt, president of the Hamilton Film Company, who is spending two weeks in this city looking over the independent studios and studio farms, on being asked to verify current rumors that the Hamilton Film Company had made arrangements for the production of feature pictures at the Germantown studios, stated that no contracts had as yet been made with any studio; that such contemplated contracts are for the producing companies which release through the Hamilton Film Company.

The Hamilton Film Company has contracted with the Foreign Film Corporation, of this city, for the releasing rights for the United States and Canada of all the pictures manufactured and imported by the Foreign Film Corporation or by its president, Giovanni Guattari, personally.

Ed McKim, directing manager of the J. & M. Film Company, is much pleased with Philadelphia and its surroundings as a picture-producing city and looks forward to the fall when his company will produce here.

In order to broaden the scope of its work and carry out the big producing plans ahead, the Lubin Company will open another big studio plant in Philadelphia within the next few weeks, to be known as Lubin Plant, No. 3. The new studio is situated at 17th street and Glenwood avenue, a short distance from the Lubin main headquarters, at 20th street and Indiana avenue.

The new building is 75 feet wide, 300 feet long, and has four floors. It was formerly a factory and the Lubin Company is remodeling it from top to bottom. The roof has been removed and a huge glass top, with the necessary sides, has been substituted.

The top floor, which measures 75 feet by 300 feet, will be used as a daylight studio. On the third floor there will be three artificial light studios, while the first and second floors will be utilized for dressing rooms, carpenter shops, scenery rooms, etc.

It is reported that Lewis J. Delnick, vice president and manager of the World Film Corporation, and Isidore Bernstein, former general manager of Universal City, will unite in forming a $1,000,000 corporation to produce a comedy and a feature weekly to be released through the World Film Corporation.
