CHESTER ON VERGE OF GREATEST BOOM IN TOWN'S HISTORY

plans for Meeting Situation and Arrival of Army of Workmen Under Way. 2000 New Homes to Be Provided.

By a Stoff Correspondent CHESTER, Pa., June 21.-Chester is on the verge of a boom unprecedented in its matery. A population of 100,000 is freely rians for meeting the "war boom," which is certain to come when an army of workmen arrive to help fill the war orders at the Eddystone plants of the Summaton Arms Company and the Baldwin Lecomotive Works are being made totar. At least 2000 new houses will be pen, and real estate men are elated. Enormous war orders for arms and semunition made by the nations of purpe are responsible for the situation. The vast factory being erected by the paidwin Locomotive Works adjoining their Eddystone plant for the use of the Remington Arms Company will employ 15,000 men, according to W. A. Garrett, paier of supplies and superintendent of example that the company of the Remington Cometation of the Remington Com The full force will be at work by omber 1, he said. In addition to hese, the big war contracts received by haldwin's will necessitate the employ-ment of 8000 men at the Eddystone plant, paking a total of 23,000 workmen. The wages will amount to $500,000 a week said John P. Sykes, general superintend-

Not only the influx of so great a num-br of new citizens, but the money which their labor will put into circulation, is regarded as a good omen for Chester's fature. To meet the emergency a confer-filure. To meet the emergency a confersoe of real estate brokers, bankers and hilders was held yesterday, at which representatives of the two companies were present. The meeting was held in the effice of William L. Schaffer, general counsel for Baldwin's.

"There can be no dilly-dallying with this proposition," said Mr. Schaffer.
"The workmen will arrive here in a month or two and means of housing them must be provided." Questioned by General William G. Price, spokesman for the real estate men as to the duration of the boom, he replied that the Remington Company had sufficient orders to keep the pany had sufficient orders to keep the plant working to its fullest capacity for two years. As soon as the negative two years. As soon as the orders are completed, the Reminigton Company will turn the plant over to Baldwin's, Super-intendent Sykes pointed out that Baldwin's intends transferring most of its machinery to the Eddystone addition as soon as the Remington contracts are com-pleted, and that the need for railway empment, both in this country and abroad, after the war would assure some-bleg more substantial than a mere flash

L'AZIONE OFFENSIVA RIPRESA DALLE FORZE DEL GENER. CADORNA

Attacchi Austriaci Respinti nella Carnia e Lungo l'Isonzo — Gli Italiani nella Valle di San Pellegrino, Tirolo.

In un comunicato ufficiale pubblicato questa mattina, il Ministero della Guerra ammette che l'avanzata delle truppe italiane e' stata in certo modo ostacolata dalle forti opere di difesa degli austriaci nel Trentino, nelle Alpi Carniche e sul fronte dell'Isonzo. Ecco il testo del comunicato

"Sul fronte del Tirolo e del Trentino non vi e' stata alcuna azione importante ad eccezione di una ricognizione nella valle di San Pallegrino, dove noi occupammo la Punta Tasca.

"Nella alta Val di Cordeovle nol abbiamo scoporto in varil punti forti trincee cementate austriache, abilmente nas-

"Sul fronte delle Alpi Carniche il fuoco della nostra artiglieria e' stato in certo medo estacelato dal tempo nebbioso.

"Nella notte del 21 Giugno noi respingemmo nuovi attacchi del nemico contro le nostre posizioni di Freikopel. Nella zona di Monte Nero le operazioni cominciate il 19 Giugno furono portate ad una felice conclusione il giorno seguente, nonostante le difficolta del ter-reno ed il cattivo tempo. Il nemico, validamente appoggiato dalla sua ar-tiglieria, oppose una forte resistenza.

"Lungo il fronte dell'Isonzo frequenti attacchi notturni dalle trincee nemiche, accompagnati de fuoco di artiglieria e di fucileria, sono stati notati. Nol non abbiamo risposto a questi at-tacchi. Gli austriaci hanno tentato di riconquistare le nostre posizioni sulla riva sinistra dell'Isonzo con ripetuti at-tacchi notturni, cercando di cacciarci alla iva destra, ma gli attacchi furono tutti respinti.

(La prima parte del comunicato ufficiale del Ministero della Guerra, quella che si riferisce alla valle di San Pellegrino, e' stata forse trasmessa male. La valle di San Pellegrino, che e' una delle piu pit-toresche tra quelle che si staccano a sinistra dell'Avisio, mette in comunicazione, con una strada mulattiera, la Val di Fiemme (Avisio) con Val di Cordevole. La valle divide il massiccio di Monte Bocche da quello del Ricobetta, e spe-cialmente sul versante settentrionale e' incassata e difficile. Probabilmente le truppe italiane, Alpini certamente, deono avere occupato qu massiccio del Ricobetta, che trovandosi tra la valle di San Pellegrino e quella di Fassa, che e' una continuazione a nord, attorno al grande massiccio della Marmolada, deve essere stata chiamata Punta Fassa perche' domina la valle

Ad ogni modo, l'azione italiana nella valle di San Pellegrino, sebbene non sia uscita dalle proporzioni di una ricognizione, mostra che il Comando Italiano persegue il piano di tagliare le comunicazioni austriache dovunque e' possibile, pure non uscendo per ora dalla determinazione di prandere le posizioni determinazione di prendere le posizioni vantaggiose di fronte al nemico e di correggere i difetti della frontiera politica. Infatti non bisogna dimenticare che dalla valle di San Pellegrino, scendendo a sud. ingo Val di Fiemme, si giunge dopo poche miglia a Predazzo, da dove una buona strada cerreggiabile porta a Neumarkt, in strada cerreggiabile porta a recinata in Val d'Adige, cloe' sulla ferrovia e carreggiabile che porta da Trento al Brennero e ad Innabruck, principale linea di comunicazione tra il Tirolo ed il resto dell'impero austriaco. B. di B.

Le voci secondo cui gli austriaci erano riusciti a stabilire una base per sotto-marini in un punto della costa dell'Italia merionale sono state confermate, come annuncia oggi il Ministero della Marina. Un increciatore ausiliario italiano che navigava verso sud nel Mare Tirreno, avvisto' una imbarcazione sospetta e si mise alla caccia di essa. L'imbarcazione fu raggiunta a circa 150 miglia da Napoli e fu trovata carica di nafta che proba-bilmente doveva essere scaricata su di un punto reputo della carte italia.

Dopo i furiosi temporali avutisi sabato e domenica, isri gli italiani ripresero l'attacco generale contro le posisioni austriache e con raddoppiata violenna. Essi incontrano ora una plu' organizzata resistenza da parte degli austriaci le cui posizioni di difesa sono eccellentemente preparate. In molti cusi le trincee e le altre opere di difesa sono rende ancora piu' formidabili. Si sa pure, che in altri punti gli austriaci hanno costrutto trincee false per trarre in inganno gli italiani e farli andare all'attacco di fulse posizioni, mentre gli austriaci svoiberebbero l'attacco da posizioni piu faverevoli.

"Laingo il fronte dell'Isonzo nel abbiam respinto due contrattacchi degli austrisci contro le posizioni recentemente press da

Si apprende che l'Austria ha deciso di rilasciare in liberta tutti gli Italiani che erano stati internati nei campi di concentramento perche' si e' visto che non poteva nutriri, dovendo risparmiare quei viveri che ha per l'esercito e per la popolazione dell'impero. Campaign of Poor Richard Club Has Swung Chicago Convention to Favor Quaker City for Next Meeting, It Is Thought.

CHICAGO, III., June 22.-Philadelphia's rospects for winning the next annual prospects for winning the next annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World approached the point of a foregone conclusion today. Irving Paschall, of Philadelphia, in charge of exhibits, says, "There isn't any argument about it. We'll get the convention."

Mr. Paschall's optimism was buttressed by admissions from advertising men from other cities that "Philadelphia has sent sugated efficient work for his home city in an unobtrusive way.

There are so many "Poor Richard" medals on red ribbons hung around the necks of delegates and bearing the word "Philadelphia" that to the uninitiated it would appear that two-thirds of all the advertising men present hall from the Quaker City.

Mr. Paschall has carreed the title of Quaker City.

Mr. Paschall has earned the title of "Old Man Machiavelii" in his part of the campaign for bringing the convention to his home town. Delegates from Cincinnati and Richmond, especially, are inclined to think he went a trille far in featuring the Philadelphia exhibit in the gold room of the Congress Hotel and seeing to it that all attaches of the exhibit direct visitors to Philadelphia's part of the show, a silent argument for the of the show, a silent argument for the location of the next big meeting. DEPARTMENTAL MEETINGS.

The convention today resolved itself nto a score of departmental meetings on specialized subjects in advertising. Jo-seph H. Appell, director of publicity for the John Wansmaker stores of Philadel-phia and New York, delivered an epi-gramatic address on honesty and common ense in advertising.

"Advertising is the speech of business," declared Mr. Appell. "Advertising is to business what language is to man-its mode of self expression. A business that will not advertise is both deaf and dumb. "Advertising that is saturated with human interest is bound to be most widely read. The word "news," as printed in our American newspapers, has come to mean "human interest." Stores must tell their own news in a human interest way.

"The only economic reason for adver-tising is to make more efficient the dis-tribution of merchandise. Advertising, when efficient, lowers the cost of commodities, because it becomes the million-tongued salesman, making possible the multiple merchant, who reaches a million people with less cost and less effort than the peddler or the crossroads store could reach one or a dozen people.

HONESTY URGED.

Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, led a discussion on "The Effect of Advertising Censorship on the Cash Drawer." He said: "There are many newspapers on a prof-

Why should a distinction he drawn with business news which affects the purses of their readers? For the public is prone to receive advertising as it does news, and there is a close relationship between those happenings on the social side of life and the garment a department store offers for sale. There is a dependence of one upon the other."

A national board of censorant of advortising was proposed as the first progressive plan to be launched by the Associated Clubs. Merie Sidener, chairman of the Vigilance Committee, outlined at a dozen informal meetings the proposal a dozen informat meetings the proposal that the organization employ a salaried force of lawyers, detectives, physiciats, chemists and other specialists to ex-amine all suspicious advertising and put it to the test as a means of eliminating fakes and exaggerations which were de-clared to be unbelievably numerous.

"The Gospel of Optimism" was dis-cussed by Joseph H. Finn, president of the Nichols-Finn Advertising Co. He emthe Nichols-Finh accessity for complete co-phasized the necessity for complete co-operation between the editorial and busi-ness departments of a newspaper. He pointed out that advertising is news about merchandising.

U. S. NOT PRESSING ACTIVE PEACE EFFORTS

President Says Government Will Promote Movement When Opportunity Offers.

WASHINGTON, June 22.

President Wilson made it clear today that the United States is not making any active efforts to bring about peace in Europe, but that this Government would do everyhing possible to promote the interests of peace when the opportunity offered itself. He asserted, in his talks with callers, that he thought this position of the United States was understood generally, and indicated that all peace offers of the Administration would be made publicly.

The President added that he knew of no new developments regarding the pro-posed conference of neutrals. He has not yet received the resolutions adopted in Philadelphia by the League to Enforce Peace, and has not arrived at any de-cision regarding them.

The Executive's utterances were deemed most significant, inasmuch as he is to see Colonel E. M. House in New York Thursday, has been in touch with him by long distance telephone and has been told by him, it is said, that the time is not ripe for mediation suggestions.
