TEUTONS SWEEP RUSSIANS OUT OF BASE AT LEMBERG; SLAVS GAIN ON DNIESTER

Galician Capital Falls After Furious Fight as Climax of Whirlwind Teuton Campaign—Centre of Network of Strategic Railways Held by Russians 9 1-2 Months.

SLAVS HELD LEMBERG AS BASE 9 1/2 MONTHS Capital of Galicia. Captured by Russians, September 4, 1914. Recaptured, June 23, 1915. Held by Russians, nine and a half months.

VIENNA, June 23. Lemberg has fallen before the triumphant sweep of the combined Austro-German armies.

Austrian troops captured Lemberg yesterday. It was announced this afternoon. The Austrian right wing also stormed and captured the town of Sczerzec, 20 miles south of Lemberg.

The Galician capital, held by the Russians since September 4, 1914, now is free of the enemy and the first Austrian troops have entered the town.

A brief bulletin was flashed here from Lemberg today. It indicated a desperate struggle at the last Russian barrier, a few miles west of the town.

Our second army has conquered Lemberg after a violent fight, read the official bulletin. Though no details of the victory have been received here, it is not believed the Austro-German booty will be large.

Capture of Lemberg deprives the Russians of their last military base in Galicia. Several railways centre from the town. The important lines were in the hands of the Austro-Germans before the city fell.

The moral effect of the recapture of the city overshadows the military victory, though that is in itself strategically important. The capture of a great Austrian province has been reclaimed from the enemy; the Russian grip upon Galicia has been lessened, if not entirely shaken, and the people of Austria have been relieved to the highest pitch of enthusiasm over the Austro-German successes.

The Russians, it is believed here, will fall back more than 20 miles, making their next stand near Busk, between the branches of the Bug and Strz Rivers. There is every reason to believe that the Austro-German pursuit will continue to the Galician border, if not into Russian territory. Headquarters plans, it is understood here, contemplate driving the Russian out of Galicia into Poland and an invasion of Russian Bessarabia on the southeast.

VIENNA MARKS LEMBERG TRIUMPH WITH JUBILATION

Joy Exceeds Celebration of Przemysl Victory. VIENNA, June 23. The city is celebrating the recapture of Lemberg enthusiastically. Within a short time after the official announcement flags were flying from nearly every house in the capital.

A public holiday was proclaimed by the municipal authorities. The enthusiasm over Lemberg is greater than that over Przemysl, because of the sentiment attached to the Galician capital. It is the seat of art and learning, and before the war had a population of about 170,000.

THE WEATHER FAIR

June, Jupiter, Fluvie, and the rest have had a little trouble over the hot wave they inflicted on us unhappy mortals a week or so ago. It seems. It is today something like these rich, crisp days of Indian summer in the fall, so cool is it and altogether pleasant. Not at all measurable by the way, either. It is a great sensation on the summertime that the weather we most enjoy during it is that which is unlike most of the rest of it. It's a pity, too, that the longest day of the year could not have been as the present one.

FORECAST For Philadelphia and vicinity—Fair and continued moderately cool tonight and Thursday; moderate, southwest winds. For detail see page 4.

TRANSIT LOAN PASSED BY COUNCILS, ENDING TAYLOR PLAN DELAYS

First Steps Taken by Both Houses in Legislation to Start Construction in Month—Last Step Wednesday.

Common Council this afternoon unanimously passed the ordinance authorizing the $5,000,000 transit loan. After the measure has been passed finally by Select Council next Wednesday an actual start can be made on the construction of the first of the high-speed lines provided for in Director Taylor's plans for a comprehensive system of rapid transit lines for Philadelphia.

Coincidental with passing the bill authorizing the loan, Common Council unanimously passed the ordinance authorizing the Department of City Transit to expend the balance of $100,000 left from sewer relocation work in the delivery loop district, for relocating sewers in Buttonwood street and Thompson street, made necessary by the Broad street subway.

The loan ordinance passed by Common Council today makes the funds available for the construction of the high-speed lines. At the special meeting of Councils next Wednesday ordinances appropriating $2,000,000 for a start on the construction of the City Hall section of the Broad street subway and $3,000,000 for a start on the construction of the Frankford elevated line will be reported from Finance Committee.

Select Council next Wednesday will concur in the loan ordinance passed today, and the measure will then be rushed to Mayor Blankenburg for his signature. Unless there is an unexpected hitch in present plans, bids will be advertised for a month, starting the following morning, July 1, so that the contracts for the work can be awarded about August 1.

On July 1, when Councils will meet in regular session before adjourning for the summer, final action on the transit appropriation bill will be taken by both Common and Select Council.

INVENTOR SUBMERGED 6 HOURS UNDER WATER

Experiment at Drexel Institute May Have Revolutionary Bearing on Submarines.

An experiment which is expected to have an important bearing upon submarine development in this country was performed at the Drexel Institute, 23d and Chestnut streets, today by William B. Bond, a chemist, of Wilmington, Del., who was submerged under water in a small air-tight compartment from 10:30 o'clock this morning until almost 6 o'clock, breathing the same air continuously during that period.

The box in which the chemist was confined is but a six-foot cube, containing only enough air to keep a man alive but a half hour without the use of purifying agents. The invention perfected by Bond permits that he be kept indefinitely in the box without suffering because of bad air. It consists of an electric fan which keeps the air circulating and forces it through a chemical which absorbs the carbon dioxide given off by the body and replaces it with oxygen.

The submerged box was equipped with a glass top, an electric light, a stool, food, magazines and a telephone, through which the inventor communicated with those watching the experiment. The only trouble which occurred during the afternoon was when the electric light and telephone connection became disengaged momentarily. In reporting over the telephone, Bond said that the experiment was successful, but that the electric light made the heat so excessive that he was forced to remove the bathing suit in which he was clad.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EARTHQUAKE KILLS 20 AND RAZES TOWNS

Property Damage in Stricken Territory, Including Northern Mexico, Exceeds $1,000,000—Fire Follows Rumbling Shocks

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—An earthquake rocked the Imperial Valley section, southern California and Mexico, last night. Latest reports today from the district visited by last night's earthquake indicated that 20 persons had been killed. The property loss, according to the reports over partially restored lines of communication, exceeds $1,000,000. The heaviest property damage and the greatest loss of life were reported from Calexico, El Cajon and Imperial.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED. A dispatch from El Centro, Cal., says 23 are dead at Mexicali, Mex., and heavy property damage was suffered. Eight are reported dead at El Centro.

Martial law was proclaimed in Mexicali and no Americans were allowed to cross the border from Calexico. "At least two distinct shocks were reported," says the report. "At the first tremor the people in the valley towns rushed into the streets. Lightning plants were almost instantly put out of commission and the inhabitants fled in darkness to open places, where they camped for the night."

Additional tremors were felt here today, but no more damage was done. "The loss of life at Mexicali is not positively confirmed, but the town was almost completely destroyed and fatalities were numerous. Work of clearing the wreckage in Mexicali and searching for dead bodies began today."

EIGHT DEAD AT EL CENTRO. Brawley, Cal., reports that eight persons were killed in the city of El Centro and six at Calexico, according to persons arriving from those cities today.

A Calexico dispatch, however, says: "The business district of this city is in ruins. Two heavy earthquake shocks rocked Calexico between 8 and 9 o'clock last night, and another tremor was felt at 4 this morning. Property damage was estimated at $200,000 in Calexico alone. HURLER HAAS IS WILDER THAN THE OLD MARCH HARE

Athletics' Pitcher in Second Contest of Double-Header Presents Yanks With Big Lead—Macks Lose First Game, 3-2.

SHIBE PARK, June 23.—Manager Mack sent out his other recruit pitcher, Bruno Haas, to oppose the Highlanders in the second game today. The grand pitching of Crowell in the first game created considerable interest in Haas in his first appearance, as it is claimed that this youngster is better than Crowell.

Haas appeared to be a trifle nervous and was inclined to be wild. Jack Warhop, the smallest pitcher in the major league, was Donovan's pitching selection. Because Haas is a left-handed pitcher, Manager Donovan sent Mullin to replace Pipp, a left-handed hitter, at first base.

FIRST INNING. High walked. Peckinpaugh flied to Strunk. High tried to steal second while Haas held the ball, but the youngster threw to Malone in time to retire the runner. Malone walked. Malone threw out Mullin. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Walsh hit, Bauman to Bluffon. Strunk singled past Peckinpaugh. Lapp singled to left, Strunk stopping at second. Peckinpaugh made a wonderful one-handed stop of Oldring's drive and threw to
