Huggins Spurs Speeding Cards

By GRANTLAND RICE In Rebuttal

Make good-and let the Knocker roar Or tent at will along the man;
The bloke who has the Winning Score
Is sufely out beyond the ran;
Or eke the bloke who plays the game
And gives his best work to the fray
Is safely fixed within the frame,
Regardless of What People Say.

Make good—that answers every knock And down the way completes the test; For though the mockers rise and mock Their yappings near reach the crest;
The entry out there Playing Bail
Or scrapping on to bedt the band,
Has litle time to hear the vall
Of Knockers working in the Stand.

A Word for Colonel Huggins

Among those receiving the Buoyant Boost a place should be made for Col. Miller Huggins, of the Uphenving Cards. Mr. Huggins rarely figures in the gay hip-hip scattered here and there, and yet we know of no one who is more deserving.

Last spring, back in 1914, he took a tall-end combination and pushed it up into third place within a game or two of the Glants. This spring after a bad start he has rushed his people back into the thick of polite baseball society and in doing so has maneuvered his material about as well as any manager we know. When Higgins lost Magee, Wingo and Perritt, three big factors in last summer's rise, it was generally agreed that his ball club had been shot into a numhis ball club had been shot into a num-ber of small pieces and would be lucky to finish fifth. But in spite of this deficit he has bustled along at a rate sufficient to attract 21,000 St. Louis fans for the last Sunday game. And it takes some-thing to entice out 21,000 St. Louis fans after the sombre full that has settled upon that Commonwealth in the last few years of baseball inefficiency.

Not Another Word

Luck and Pluck We heard a golf fan recently describe Jerry Travers' work at the 10th hole at Baltusrol as being a bit lucky. There was a touch of luck of course. But when a man figures he has to play the last nine holes in par to win, and when he slices the first shot out of bounds and wastes another in the tangled undergrowth, doesn't it call more for con-trol of nerve than it does for luck to place that third shot in putting distance and then land the putt? Those two missed shots would have been the signal for any average mortal to have some sky-rocketveteran Caldwell, and outpitched the New Yorker all the way, but the breaks went against him.

Bauman scored all three of New York's

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN GAME

Feared That Skull Was Fractured by Pitched Ball,

"Shag" Thompson, the brilliant young outfielder of the Athletics, who was sent to the Richmond club, of the International League, by Manager Mack for further seasoning, is in a serious condition in a Providence, R. I., hospital. He was hit on the head with a pitched ball by Coper in Monday's Providence-Richmond game and was unconscious for several hours. It was thought that he had a fracture of the skull, but physicians say that he will recover.

The injury to Thompson is unfortunate coming at this time, as he was just be-ginning to show his true worth. It may ginning to show his true worth. It may possibly make him plate-shy in the future, particularly against left-handed pitchers, as Cooper, who hit him, is a southpaw. Danny Hoffman, one of the best looking outfielders who ever broke in with a local club, was hit by Jesse Tannehill in Boston nine years ago and cipis were appropriately against the same and th never entirely recovered from the acci-dent. Hoffman was with the Athletics at the time a time and apparently had a won-

LONDON STOCK MARKET

Consols at New Low Minimum Price of 65.

LONDON, June 23 .- Irregularity continued in securities on the Stock Ex-change today. Consols were sold at a new minimum of 55; the old war loan also was weaker, being quoted at 44% on sales by small capitalists to provide funds with war tenders for the new loan and obtaining conversion rights for the re-mainder of their holdings.

Colonials flattened again. Home rails lacked support and were weak. It was declared that the decline in this group has been overdone if pending dividends are satisfactory. Canadians were mixed and the tone of Argentine rails was flat.

Other departments were quiet.

WILLIAMS DENIES CLASH

wealthy. Comptroller Has Had No Dispute With Banking Commissioner Smith.

WASHINGTON, June 23.-Comptroller WASHINGTON, June 22.—Comptroller of the Currency Williams today leaved a statement denying a report from Philadelphia that he had clashed with William H. Smith, Banking Commissioner of Pennsylvania, over reports of State banks. He asserted the statement that he wanted the Pennsylvania department to forward these reports to save his of-fice the express was "misleading and inaccurate.

Williams said the Federal law requires him to collect data on all banks in the country and that the practice of sending blank forms to banks through State panking departments was an old and rec ognized custom. Every State but Penn-sylvania has co-operated with htm, he
